TWENTY-FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

UR Association has attained its majority, and we trust that with all the vigour and energy of young manhood, it will rise to the position of influence and power for good which one would naturally expect it to reach in this populous community.

The outlook for the future is most encouraging, and from the tone and spirit displayed at the meeting, we are hopeful of speedily arriving at greater and better things for the 20,000 young men of Toronto.

The address of our President, S. H. Blake, Esq., on the occasion of the Anniversary, was well received, as he outlined the proposed broadening of the work so as to embrace more fully the physical and social agencies which are so valuable and necessary as auxiliaries in successfully reaching and saving young men.

The address of Rev. Mr. Stafford was thoughtful and opportune, while that of Mr. Schiverea was earnest and practical.

The choir of Mr. H. C. Dixon rendered efficient service, and the vote of thanks to them was heartily carried.

I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.
