

bomb detection and disposal equipment; perimeter protection devices; surveillance equipment; equipment for police use and for bank security; and equipment for forensic science laboratories. In addition, the National Airports Authority of India is planning to upgrade the security systems at all Indian airports.