

Agricultural Products Board

during the war and immediately after the war were with British Columbia and Nova Scotia. At the same time we attempted to assure the local market to Ontario and Quebec as far as possible, and we also made every effort to get as many apples of British Columbia and Nova Scotia out of the country as we could and left our market to those who were producing on the scene. It is true we were not able to satisfy everybody in that, but that was the policy. What we have now said to the apple producers is that if we are going to apply the Agricultural Prices Support Act we will have to apply it right across Canada. That may not be a good thing for apple producers in certain parts of Canada, and therefore that question is still under consideration and is still being discussed from that point of view.

Resolution reported, read the second time and concurred in.

Mr. Gardiner thereupon moved for leave to introduce Bill No. 18, to provide for the establishment of an agricultural products board.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Fournier (Hull): Tomorrow we will resume the debate on the address and, if we dispose of it, we will call second reading of this bill concerning the agricultural products board.

At ten o'clock the house adjourned, without question put, pursuant to the order of the house passed on November 2, 1951.
