Mrs. Henderson, One of the Oldest Residents in Ontario, Passed Away on Thursday.
Owen Sound Sun: There died at Holland
Centre on Thursday last a most remarkable woman, and one of the very oldest residents of Ontario, in the person of Mrs. Henderson, who had been a widow for a long time past, at the ripe age of 100 years.
Her death came suddenly and in peaceful manner, giving the friends around her no previous indication of the dissolution about to be consummated. She had, indeed, been up and about as usual, and had made no complaint of the slightest illness. Strange to say, she retained all her faculties up to the moment of falling asleep in death, and though one of the most unassuming personages, possessed an excellent memory and a wide knowledge of events which have long since passed into history.
Four members of her family survive here—
Joseph in Holland, James in Barrie, one daughter near Dobbington and one in the West. In religion she was a Presbyterian and a member of Rev. J. A. Black's church.

WERE MARRIED ON THE QUIET

But There Was Something of a Commotion After the News Became Known.

BRIDEGROOM IS A PROTESTANT.

The Bride, Who Was a Catholic, Is Said to Have Changed Her Creed.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—On Wednesday night, Mary Louise Plouffe, aged 16 years, was married clandestinely to Mr. William Harris, driver for C. Moreland, the Sparks-street fruiterer, by a Protestant minister. The bride was a Catholic. No intimation was given to the mother that such an act was contemplated.
The mother, Mrs. Joseph Plouffe, is a woman of respectable appearance. She separated from her husband some years ago, and has lived with her daughter ever since. According to her story the young couple had been keeping company since May 24 last. She had no objection, as the young fellow was gentlemanly and well-behaved. Wednesday night he called at the house as usual and invited Mary to the Queen's Park. At nine, when the girl consented and left the house with him. She returned about 11 o'clock and retired without saying that anything unusual had happened.

Was All Smiles.

Yesterday morning she acted queerly at the breakfast table, smiling all the time without any seeming cause. Her mother then noticed the wedding ring on her finger. In answer to the question as to where she procured the ring, the girl said she had been married by a Protestant minister and that her father had given her away. A scene occurred, in which the mother upbraided her daughter for violating the rules of her religion. The girl cried bitterly, and tearing her wedding ring and medal from her neck, threw them on the floor and stamped on them, exclaiming that she was a Protestant and was proud of it. She then left her mother's house and is now staying with her sister, Mrs. Tighe of Gloucester-street, who is also a Protestant.

Another scene. In connection with the affair occurred on Murray-street, near Sparks-street, yesterday morning, when the bride and groom were seen together. The bride had given her consent to his daughter marrying a Protestant and that he had given the bride away. He replied in the affirmative and was told he was a disgrace to his name and his religion. The old lady then proceeded to pummel her son in the most approved style, and he stood it without demur. A large crowd of spectators watched the clashing of the two without interfering.

NOW WAGES GO UP.

The Big Four Settle With Their Engineers on a Firm Basis.
Indianapolis, Aug. 25.—The conference between the engineers employed on the several divisions of the Big Four Railroad and General Manager Schaff has resulted in an increase of wages practically to the scale in force prior to 1893, when the wages of all the employees were reduced. Under the new scale passenger engineers will get $3.25 a month instead of $3.15, and freight engineers $3.80 instead of $3.75. When the company made this concession in the matter of wages, the engineers withdrew their objections to the clause which prohibited any engineer from making more than 4800 miles a month.
As the firemen are paid on a basis in proportion to the wages received by the engineers, the new schedule will result in an increase of their wages also. It is understood that the conductors and other trainmen will now ask for a restoration of wages to the scale in force before 1893.

A Record Breaker.
"You may talk about time flying—but there goes a man who can beat it."
"No, orchestra leader."

We shall have a ladies' maid all this week in our Shoe Department to tell you how to properly care for it, or for any other leather, when in use. The lesson is one well worth learning.
