

BIG JAM AT ROLLER RINK FOR HERMAN

Interest in Bantamweight Battle at National Sporting Club Sep. 15 is Growing.

TITLE-HOLDER SAYS HE'LL STOP RIVAL

hChallenger Holds Different View, However, and Declares He Will Prove It.

Unless Matchmaker Al. Werbe is forestalled, the fight between Herman and Jack Sharkey will be the main attraction at the National Sporting Club, September 15. It is going to be a task to handle the throng.

Despite the fact that the little boxers are not scheduled to duck under the ropes for nearly a week, the demand for reservations has been so great that it is a foregone conclusion even now that the stadium will be jammed to the limit.

There is a reason for it, however. Sharkey's decisive whipping of Jabez White in the opening show, when he won the title, and the fact that a champion will appear in action in Detroit for the first time in 15 years furnish the inspiration.

None Looks for Up-Set. None looks for the dethronement of the present title-holder, neither does he believe Herman capable of stopping his challenger. But it is agreed that if Sharkey can achieve the same measure of success against Herman that marked his attack on White, Herman might have reason to feel that he was favored by the referee.

Sharkey declared when making the match with Herman that he would attend his worth as a serious contender for the laurel wreath of the midwest class. He believes he has a chance to win the popular award over any route and is willing to leave the verdict rest with the crowd.

Naturally enough Herman holds a different view of the impending encounter. Pete does not deny that Sharkey shined him in Milwaukee several weeks ago, but he does contend that all elements of doubt will be removed this time and he intends to enter the ring solely for the purpose of stopping Jack, whom he claims, is making capital out of the fact that the newspapers conceded him the verdict in the Milwaukee meeting.

Appreciates the Damage. Herman realizes, as do all champions, that the title cannot be lifted when no official decision is rendered, still he appreciates the damage even a newspaper defeat means to him in subsequent negotiations with matchmakers. Therefore he would seem that Sharkey's achievement in the Brewery City, lucrative thus far, has been a setback to take reverse English and gig back.

There isn't any question about Sharkey's chestiness since he read the Milwaukee papers and climbed White's frame. Verbe will attest to that without urging after his experience in the Milwaukee ring. The cost of living, Sharkey's value of service to him, is not to take reverse English and gig back.

Bound by honor to fulfill a promise he made to give the winner of the Sharkey-White engagement a match with Herman, Werbe made the terms of Jack's manager, Joe Wagner, though reluctant to pay a price that would balance France's war debt.

Might Help Werbe Out. In this connection it might be remarked that Sammy Goldman, Herman's pilot, might, out of friendship for Werbe, write out his accounts with Sharkey. Werbe doesn't want Jack ruined as a champion, but he won't shed any tears if the bantam from New Orleans qualifies Jack to reduce the size of his hat band.

Sharkey is conceded enough to entertain the belief he can win from Herman, day or night, to his success in the Milwaukee, and plans to be among those present when the final bell rings. He can feel that way if he wants to without creating any dissatisfaction among the ringsters here. Herman can whip Sharkey to a finish or Sharkey while the spats are out of the champion, and no tears will trickle from the spectators' eyes.

Duncan Ross Dead.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 8.—Duncan C. Ross, holder of the Victoria Cross for valor in the British army, former world's champion broadswordman, and famous on two continents as a wrestler of days gone by, was found dead today in his little curio shop in Pennsylvania avenue, this city.

Ross suffered a stroke of paralysis some time ago, and it is believed a second stroke caused his death.

Don't Experiment with Catarrh; It Often Leads to Serious Trouble

You Will Never Be Cured by Local Treatment With Sprays.

Catarrh is a condition of the blood and can not be cured by local applications of sprays and douches; this has been proven by the thousands who have vainly resorted to this method of treatment.

Catarrh should not be neglected or experimented with. The wrong treatment is valuable time lost, during which the disease is getting a firmer hold upon its victim, and making it more difficult for even the proper treatment to accomplish results.

Though Catarrh makes its first appearance in the nostrils, throat and air passages, the disease becomes
