The case of Bert Brown, the Toronto hockey player, who is applying for reinstatement to the O.H.A., is a funny one to say the least. Bert was engaged to referee the Toronto (pro.)-Berlin game here last year. Only six men of the locals turned up and Bert, after much persuasion, donned the proniform. Shortly before half time one of the Berlin players was obliged to retire, Brown going off to even up. Here's the funny part, Brown received $6 for his share, while the referee copped $10.

There are always "ifs" in cricket, and had not Young let off McAllister when the score stood at 156, and had Hardstaff taken a hard chance from Hazlitt, things might have been different. The policy of playing Young instead of an experienced keeper like Humphries cannot be commended.

Australia were never certain to win until near the finish, for even when Hazlitt and Cotter became associated they still wanted 56 runs. That they got them is to their credit for fighting uphill so splen-

Furthermore, my activity in quest of evidence, which will undoubtedly result in the cleaning up of the semi-professional element in the Metropolitan Association, is not relished by the Irish-American Athletic Club.

the Derby of 1308. Don't all speak at once: But I should like to hear the best odds on this score. I should be willing to take 100 to 14, and give you all the rest in. Gunn made 119 in Over a Score Owners May Be tralia hung in the balance, but the pendulum had swung in England's favor towards the finish, only to jump back again at the last moment to Australia's side.

This is the first time an English touring team has been defeated in Australia in the first test since Lord Sheffield's eleven succumbed by 54 runs at Melbourne in 1892. On that occasion also the match extended over a week.

At one stage of play England looked all-over winners. When play started at the usual hour, and on a soft wicket, the Australians had lost three wickets for 63 and, were still in want of 211 runs for victory. They fared so badly that five wickets were down for 95, while Armstrons, who had batted excellently, was sent back at 124.

At this stage Australia still required 155 to win, with practically the "new blood" only remaining to get the runs. McAlister, Carter (the fast bowler and heavy hitter) rose magnificently to the occasion, and a good sporting "Blue Riband."

Easing one's arguments on the running of last season and what one hears as likely to develop, it can easily be made out that a score of horses may face the starter. For instance, his majesty is nearly sure to be represented this year, and, what is more, may win with Perrier. This beautiful son of Persimmon and Amphora only ran once in 1907. He is a great big fine colt, and his action was most impressive when he strode over the seven furlongs of the Dewhurst Plate, finishing second to Rhodora. With the exception of Glass Jug, who was half-sister to Perrier, being by Isinglass, the stock of Amphora has done little. As will be recollected, she won the Stewards' Cup in 1897, when a 4-year-old, carrying 8st. 8 lbs. Perhaps her full brother, Sundridge, obtained more distinction. What wonderful speed both of them possessed! And Mr. J. B. Joel may have another great one in Elmstead—another full brother—who only ran twice this year, finishing in front of Dawnay, Siberia, Beau and others on Cesarewitch Day. The only other occasion on which he ran was his second to Pendule in the Sandown Park Produce Stakes, which he-only lost by a neck. Elmstead is engaged in the Derby, but possibly Your Majesty may be the better of Mr. J. B. Joel's string.

But to return to Perrier. If he could do so well against tried and proved two-year-olds in the Dewhurst Plate he must dale

"I have been held accountable for all the work of the American Olympic committee of that time, who made all the arrangements for the trip long before I was appointed to the position of manager of the American committee.

Athers, we were cerned. One is rather diffident in saying arything too eulogistic about the coming three-year-olds at this particular stage. Correspondents have frequently reminded me that my winter fancies have not won the Derby. It may be recollected that Galvani last year was thought very highly of in the "Express." At all events, the idea was right, as his running in the Champion Stakes proved him about the best we have. Certainly he had not met Wool Winder when both of them were up to concert pitch. Again, I had a strong winter fancy for Vedas, who won the Two Thousand Guineas readily enough, but it will be recollected that he went amiss before the Derby.

The mention of Wool Wirder suggests that Colonel Baird has a half-brother to the Leger winner in Windlestrae, who only apreared once last season, in the very early season. I should like to take the Derby on the principle of the Water-lo, Cup, that is, to first collect the names loo Cup, that is, to first collect the names of owners who are likely to be represented. Thus, we have his majesty, Mr. J. B. Joel, Col. Baird, Mr. Pass and Mr. Byrne's Mercutio may be a candidate; also Mr. James Buchanan with Mountain Apple, Mr. Hunt with Little Flutter, Mr. A. Belmont's Norman III., and Mr. Basset, of course, will rely on Sir Archibaid. Rushcutter may run for Mr. Lionel Robinson. Lesbia must appear for Sir Daniel Cocper, otherwise I am afraid he will not have a chance of winning.

Lord Derby has five in the race, the best of which may be Cocksure II. I should be rather surprised if the Duke of Devonshire has a runner; nefther do think any French horse will come over Rodney may represent the Clarehaver stable. When he was fancied in prefer-ence to French Partridge at the end of steal violence on me during the trip to A thens and return."

Scores His Accusers.

Mr. Halpin then goes on to score each of the men who have attacked him in the present controversy. He says a certain sporting editor of a New York paper who had previously taken his side of the argument, is now attacking him under the pressure of an editor connected with the Irish-American A.C. He says Ray C. Ewry's animosity is due to the fact that he had called Ewry a grafting amateur for giving exhibitions at circuses. Halpin is surprised at Hillman for opposing him. "Hillman probably fancies that I caused his syspension from the New York A.C." We must not overlook Lord Wolverton for owing his dues, said Halpin. We must not overlook Lord Wolverton Speaking of Leavitt and Eaton, the Boston athletes, Halpin expresses the be-Boston athletes, Halpin expresses the belief that Leavitt dislikes nim for getting him out of trouble with the Naples police. Browning, and now I think we have about a score—plenty to choose from, and this entirely without reckoning what the next few months is going to produce, as there are so many scores of youngsters we know little or nothing about. For instance, only one has been mentioned from Kingsclere. Who thought of Orby last year back in the winter, or who thought of Spearmint the year before at the same period? Then, again, Troutbeck only developed as a 3-year-old, but it is quite possible that were books. open now on the race the eventual win-ner would be figuring at least at 25 to to-day. Getting Ready for C. S. A. H. H. Renshaw of Detroit, who tained the "Pick-Ups," who made su not to publicly detend myself against the criticisms of members of the Irish-American A.C., and others, with reference to the late trip of the American athletes to the Olympic games in Athens, I have reconsidered to the end of the subjoined statement:

"I have been held accountable for all the work of the American Olympic comnittee of that time, who made all the arrangements for the trip long before I and jewelry hidden in remote parts of a great horse about the bed ginning of June next. I have not seen in the contingent at the C. B. A. bowling tournament here last season, is in the city. Mr Renshaw met in conference last a great thing it would be for Mr. Alfred Capper in his thought-reading entertainment if he could find winners of future events as easily as he can missing pins and jewelry hidden in remote parts of a drawing-room or hall of entertainment of the sending of teams here Feb. 24 to March 2, inclusive, when the second annual international tournament Feb. 24 to March 2, inclusive, when the second annual international tournament will be held in the new quarters to be occupied by the Canadian Bowling Club, in the new Hyslop Building, corner of Shuter and Victoria-streets.

Shuter and Victoria-streets.

Representative teams from Detroit, Port Huron, Grand Rapids and many other Michigan State points will enhance and more than lend additional color to the international aspect of the occasion in February next here.

Information is already at hand from New York State, to the east, and Nebraska, to the west, to the effect that clubs are arranging to send teams from intermediate points, and, from all accounts, the influx of American visitors and bowlers will more than exceed the most san-the influx of American visitors and bowlers will more than exceed the most sanguine expectations of all.

The A. B. C. representatives, on behalf of the C. B. A., have done their preliminary work well and results are the outcome of their efforts. Posters, entry blanks, are being mailed out, and can be had from the secretary of the C. B. A., C. Munson, 243 Yonge-street, Toronto, Canada. Canada.

Sonoma Prune Yield. Ten million pounds of dried prunes valued at $500,000 is the estimate of this year's prune yield in Sonoma While the crop was small the price paid was good, and what it lacked in quantity was made up in quality and financial returns. The quality and financial returns. sizes ran large and the average price was 5 cents per pound. Of course some prunes went considerably higher.
