THE PRICE OF BREAD
Regarding the price of bread, a city baker said to The Times today that when the price was raised to twelve cents a loaf flour was selling at $18.70 a barrel. Since then flour went to $16.90, but the bakers went on selling at twelve cents. The price of flour is now down to about $13.50, or only a little below what it was when they made their price twelve cents.

FURTHER EVIDENCE IN LIQUOR CASE

Evidence was commenced in the police court this morning in the matter of alleged violation of the liquor act on the part of Arthur Webber. The case grew out of the finding of a suit case in the depot by Sub-Inspector Crawford on May 25.

William P. Daley, coachman, said that he was called by the Leinster train at about seven o'clock in the evening of May 25. Two men, whom the witness did not know, came out of the house with a valise. They got into the coach and were driven to the station. At the depot the witness took the valise and carried it into the sleeper, where he gave it to the porter of the Halifax train. He said that he did not know what was in the hand bag. He received his pay and left the two men at the steps of the sleeper.

Sub-Inspector Crawford said that he noticed the two men, along with Daley, going through the train shed on the night of May 25. He became suspicious and followed the three to the sleeper of the Halifax train. As the porter took the valise from Daley the inspector took it from the porter. It was opened and was found to contain fourteen bottles full of liquor. They were almost all of one brand. On the following day the inspector said he searched the premises at 127 Leinster street and found ten bottles in the house. The contained liquor of a mixed brand, different from that found in the valise.

One of the men in the party was a Halifax man. He got into the coach and identified the valise, whereas Daley said it was similar to the one he had carried to the sleeper.

Daniel Mullin, K. C., represented the defendant and Kenneth J. Macrae appeared in the interest of the act in the absence of J. A. Sinclair in Fredericton. The case was postponed until Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock.

WELL AND HEARTY AT 91

There was a happy family gathering on Wednesday night at the home of Captain and Mrs. Nelson A. Withers, Tower street, West End, in honor of Mrs. Susan Hopkins' entry into her 91st year. Mrs. Hopkins is the widow of Joseph R. Hopkins. She is vigorous and hearty, though a nonagenarian, and is able to travel to town herself to call on members of her family or friends and also can do a share of the housework as well as any. Mrs. Hopkins has carried through the years the joviality of youth and is most entertaining in conversation. She has quite a record, too, as a traveler, having crossed the continent to Seattle and home again twice since she was eighty years old.

At the birthday gathering on Thursday evening there were present her son, John R. Hopkins, printer; and her daughters, Mrs. N. A. Withers and Mrs. George E. Withers. Other children are J. B. Hopkins of Thane, Alaska, Mrs. W. R. Ross of Seattle, and Mrs. A. M. Conkey of Boston. From these also came greetings and gifts on the happy occasion. Many friends will wish Mrs. Hopkins more years of happy life.

HE GETS $24,000 FOR HIS SCHOONER

Captain Tower, Former St. John Man—The Vessel The Susie P. Oliver

A record price for a small schooner has been received by a former St. John man who has disposed of his 286 ton craft, built thirty-five years ago, to the French government for $24,000. Captain Tower formerly resided in St. John, and sailed from this port for many years. Bangor paper tells of the transaction, as follows:

"Capt. Tower of 88 Second street returned on Saturday from New York where he sold his schooner, the schooner Susie P. Oliver, to the French government for $24,000, the highest price ever paid for a vessel of the Oliver's size and age. Capt. Tower bought this vessel ten years ago for eight thousand dollars, and since that time she has practically paid for herself. Last summer she made eighty per cent. on her first cost, making her one of the biggest money-makers that ever sailed out of Bangor. Capt. Tower is to be congratulated for the way his vessel was kept up, as the Susie P. Oliver was one of the best-found vessels and cleanest that sailed out of the Penobscot, thus explaining her selling for such a high price. Capt. Tower will remain ashore until the war prices are over before purchasing another vessel. The Susie P. Oliver is a three-masted schooner of 286 tons net register, built at Bucksport in 1882."

PETITION AGAINST BOND ISSUE FOR NEW LANCASTER WALKS

The matter of the very spiley meeting of the Lancaster Board of Trade gathering in Temperance Hall a few days later to discuss the new sidewalk question has not been settled yet. Street talk on the pros and cons of the matter as presented at both meetings has not yet ceased; rather the agitation is revived with the appearance of several petitions against the proposed bond issue. These are being circulated by well known property holders and already a good number of signatures are attached.

While the actual vote taken at the public meeting stood very largely in favor of the new walks, the opponents of the measure declare the meeting had not been sufficiently advertised and also that the large representation from Beauséjour snatched off organization before hand and it is understood that when the lists are complete the names will be forwarded to Fredericton protesting against the government allowing the parish to exercise the right of issuing bonds for the purpose of building the new concrete side walks.

MORE TRAFFIC CASES

Several by-laws cases were dealt with by Magistrate Ritchie this morning in the police court. W. C. Fowling was reported by Policeman Hogg for violating the city by-law by exceeding the speed limit in the vicinity of Paradise row. The case brought out the matter of automobiles speeding on approaching hills, etc.

F. W. Coombs was reported by Policeman Fitzpatrick for driving with the right wheel of his car to the curb in Charlotte street. Mr. Coombs said that he was not in the car at the time. The car in question is under a dealer's tag. The magistrate again laid emphasis on the fact that the person driving the car was liable, not the owner, if he is not acting as chauffeur. The case will come on next Tuesday.

Miss Evans was reported by Policeman Hogg for exceeding the speed limit in Main street in her car. It was shown that her nephew was driving the car. The case was set over until next Tuesday afternoon.

Thomas Green was reported by Policeman Gorman for driving his car around the corner of Main street and Douglas avenue at a faster rate than the law allows.

Robert Chisholm pleaded guilty to standing his team with the right wheel to the curb in Waterloo street on May 30.

M. N. Queen was reported by Policeman Corner for driving his car up Union street from Brussels and into Waterloo with the right wheel to the curb, and also for a like offence in Sydney street on the previous day.

Arthur Webber was reported by Policeman Hogg for driving on the wrong side of the street at the corner of Mill and Main streets.

In some cases fines were struck and in others reasonable excuses were offered and the fines were allowed to stand.
