FAREWELL AND GIFT OF WATCH LAST NIGHT TO POPULAR ASSOCIATE
 E. Blake McInerney Guest of Royal Bank Staff on Eve of Departure For Montreal higher office in the service of the bank in Montreal. He will leave for there probably tomorrow evening to take up his new duties, and will be succeeded here by F. T. Palfrey, formerly of Sydney, but late in the head office department in Montreal.

E. BLAKE MCINERNEY

About thirty were present at last night's gathering which was marked by a pleasant air of jollity and goodwill. The chair was occupied by T. B. Blair, manager of the Royal Bank here. After a tempting menu had been enjoyed, there was a pleasing programme, accompanied by a slight loss of list which brought forth some clever and witty responses. The chief toast was that of "Our Guest," proposed by Mr. Blair who in an interesting speech, paid a glowing tribute to the ability of Mr. McInerney, expressing his appreciation of the efficient services rendered and his regret at his departure. He congratulated him on his promotion and hoped that his work in the future would be as successful as he had in the past. He regarded his advancement as the fitting reward of his past merit and Mr. Blair agreed that it was well deserved. He uttered the feelings of the entire staff in lamenting Mr. McInerney's severance with the staff here. On behalf of the staff in the city Mr. Blair presented to the guest a handsome gold watch.

Mr. McInerney, in a bright speech, expressed appreciation of the kind words and handsome gift. He regretted also that his promotion called him from the city where he had so many friends, but wherever he was called on his duty he would retain most pleasant and agreeable recollections of his service as a member of the local staff. The programme also included the toasts "The King," proposed by the chairman, and honored in music; "North End Office," proposed by A. LeRoy Hastings, responded to by Mr. Blair, and "The Ladies," proposed by Mr. Hastings, and responded to by more than half the staff. Some capable musical and vocal numbers were given, including solos by Thomas Guy, E. C. Davis, piano solos by P. M. Daly, R. E. Smith; recitation, R. Dean, duets, H. F. Henderson and H. Foley, and L. McCoy and J. W. Currie; quartet, LeR. Hastings, G. D. Gregory, J. W. Currie, W. M. Morrison; military dance, H. B. Gilbert; recitation of original poetry, R. E. Smith, H. O. McInerney, and several Drummond readings by E. Blake McInerney which were greatly enjoyed.

The affair was closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem, and the gathering dispersed with best wishes for Mr. McInerney's success in the broader field of finance in Montreal.

Another presentation in addition to that of last evening, as a mark of esteem to Mr. McInerney, was that of a handsome silver cigarette case, with his monogram inscribed, presented by his associates in the Cliff Club at a luncheon given in his honor a few evenings ago.

News in Letter From W. J. Lloyd of Signal Corps—His Horse Shot and Major Powers' Mount Hit in Six Places

W. J. Lloyd of the signal service, first Canadian contingent, writes to his mother reporting being in the best of health on June 9. "Chester Dalry, of Portland street," he says, "broke his wrist yesterday. He was sent to hospital in England. My horse was shot through the nose and legs but I did not get hurt. They were shelling pretty briskly where we were. Major Powers' horse was hit in six places. This horse had come over from Valcartier with us. "We still have Frank Kane as cook, and have plenty to eat but no apple pie. Every day we get plenty of cake and fruit I have a souvenir of the war to bring home. All are proud of Major Powers and think him fine."

NOVELTY SHOWER

GRIM TALE OF WAR TOLD IN LETTER FROM DRIVER D. J. GUILFOIL

Stirring Words of the Ypres Fight and the Great Work of Canadians

Mrs. J. Guilfoil, 80 Chapel street, has received two letters from her son, Driver D. J. Guilfoil. In one, dated May 24, he said he had many narrow escapes, but had not been hurt. He had seen Danery and William Walton, who were also well. "We have been in some very hot places," he says, "but we can show the Germans what the Canadians are made of and they are beginning to know it."
 In a letter dated June 7, Driver Guilfoil says of the battle of Ypres:—"We lost a good many men and horses. I shall never forget it as long as I live, not only the excitement but to see men with their heads blown off, and men dying in terrible agony. It was that kind of thing that upset our nerves, and more to see our own pals killed in front of us, and to hear of some of them being crucified, or poisoned with gas and then stabbed with bayonets. Germany has fought us in a terribly treacherous way. Our boys have beaten them in more than one battle, and will have more revenge if it takes every one of us to do so. You may read of great battles being fought, but I have never seen a braver lot of men than our own boys are. At Ypres we had 50,000 against 20,000 Canadians. We beat them at times, even though we lost a big part of our men. The Germans lost 12,000 in killed alone, and after that the total was 150,000 Germans against 50,000 British, but they were beaten."
 Driver Guilfoil asks his mother to send him a tin box with cake, condensed milk and cigarettes, as they get the same thing over and over. Mrs. Guilfoil says she has already sent six boxes, but not one of them appears to have been delivered, but she will send another tomorrow.

FAIRVILLE SENDS ONE MORE OFF TO WAR

Andrew Lawson Joins the 55th—Personal Notes

Andrew Lawson, of Main street, Fairville, passed successfully the medical examination yesterday and enlisted in the 55th Battalion. He will leave today for Sussex. Mr. Lawson will be missed by friends he has made while here, who wish him God speed, and that he will give a good account of himself when given an opportunity against the enemies of the empire.
 Foster Reid, of Greenville Junction, an uncle of his wife and family are visiting at the home of Mr. Reid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reid, Main street, Fairville.

Leonard Raynes is here on a short visit from the States, where he has made his home for some years. He is a brother of Rev. Walter Raynes, who also is renewing acquaintanceships in Fairville. Among the young men at the front who wrote Commissioner McLellan for baseball equipment as a means of recreation between shells in the trenches, was Charles Humphrey, of Fairville. He played ball last year in the Fairville League, and will be remembered as pitching several games very effectively.

POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED NOW AS HENRY DODDS

The body recently found in the river has been positively identified as that of Henry Dodds, aged eighteen years, who had been working for seven weeks with Arthur Ebb at Hampstead, prior to his disappearance. He was a native of Scotland and had been at the Cosser farm house for boys before going to Mr. Ebb. The skates found on the body were taken to Hampstead yesterday by Captain Flewelling of the steamer Occochee and shown to Mr. Ebb. The latter identified them as his property and said that he had missed them soon after he missed the lad, who left on Dec. 22 without any word as to his intentions. It is apparent that he went for a skate and had gone down river only a few miles when he went through the ice, which was weak at the time.

Boys' Washable Suits
 Await Rumping Owners
 This washable clothing for boys takes to a tubbing like a duck takes to water. Warm days of spring are so deceiving that they are likely to break up into showers at any moment. If caught in them the boy will be little the worse off, and the clothing—if it is washable—will be less so.
 It is a fact that mothers consider Oak Hall the best place to come when selecting their boys' washable suits for the season, for they can rely on them as being of the highest quality.
