BOSTON, Oct. 18.—Chief White Elk, who visited Saint John, Moncton and Halifax some few years ago, will not play a return engagement for at least five years and seven months, as he has been sentenced to that period in Turin, Italy, for swindling Countess Kevener out of a cool million lire.
White Elk had promised to marry the Countess's daughter and had obtained the marriage portion in advance, with the understanding that he was to repay the money as soon as King George ordered completion of the formalities whereby several million acres of Indian land in Canada were to be returned to White Elk.
WHITE ELK'S real name is Edgar LaPlante. His people live in Pawtucket, Rhode Island. LaPlante, your correspondent recalls, arrived in Moncton, N. B. some years ago. He paraded the streets garbed in Indian clothing, and attracted some attention. Appearing in the Imperial Theatre at Moncton, White Elk "did his stuff," singing several songs and giving an Indian dance. During a bazaar at St. Bernard's church he acted as auctioneer. He was liberal with his feathers, etc., on his headgear, and was presented a pair of leather chaps for his meritorious work. He stayed in Moncton a few days longer, being wine and dined and made the recipient of a steamer trunk, a fur coat, and a dress suit.
THEN he moved on to Halifax and was a guest aboard the press boat, expressed the opinion that Bluenose was faster than ever, and would make a wonderful race with Columbia if international series were arranged.
BLUENOSE GETS START
Angus Walters in the champion Bluenose, got the better of the start. The Bluenose, who beat the gun in Saturday's race, took no chances today, and allowed the Bluenose to take the weather. (Crossed) from his run to the line, and the Haligonian crossed with a home in her teeth. The wind was blowing 20 knots from the northwest at the start, but dropped as the vessels proceeded down the harbor. The course selected was number one, calling for a run down the wind of 17 miles, lighthouse buoy to Sambro Lightship, and a race from 12 miles to southeast automatic and a dead beat of 18 miles to finish line. The course is shorter by three miles than that called Saturday.
The Haligonian, sailing much better than in the first race, came up on even terms with the Bluenose shortly after the start and for a time looked as though she would win. However, she was "champion" to weather, got the better of puffs of Herring Cove, and held a slight advantage to the line.
Official starting times: Haligonian 9:07:30; Bluenose 9:10:02.
WIND DROPPING.
At 11:27 Angus came about and stood on port tack. Haligonian rounded the mark at 11:36:51 unofficial time, eight minutes and twenty seconds behind the Bluenose. Haligonian went on port tack.
At noon the wind was dropping and it appeared doubtful if Bluenose could catch within the time limit expiring at 2 o'clock. Both vessels were still standing in line on port tack.
At 12:12 Bluenose came about and stood on starboard tack for inner automatic. Haligonian two miles astern followed suit. Indications were that if wind did not head Bluenose too much coming up the harbor, she would finish shortly before 2 o'clock.
At 1:03 the Bluenose came about and headed for Chebucto Head on starboard tack; three minutes later the Haligonian, upwards of a mile astern, came about, and stood on port tack to weather of inner automatic.
At 1:10 the Bluenose came about under the cliffs at Caperton and headed on port tack for Mesher's Beach.
At inner automatic the Bluenose was leading by one mile.
With the Bluenose off Portuguese Cove, at 1:18 indications were that she would finish within the limit.
At 1:35 the Haligonian came about and stood on port tack for Portuguese Cove on the eastern side of the harbor. Three minutes later the Bluenose tacked under Examination Station at McNabb Island and headed for Sandwick Point.
At 1:42 the Bluenose came about under Sandwick Point. The wind had dropped and headed more northerly. The Haligonian came about south of Herring Cove, and stood for Mesher's Beach.

Special to The Times-Star
TORONTO, Oct. 18.—The Toronto Globe today says: "Within the next few hours, the people of Ontario may expect an official announcement of the dissolution of the Legislature and an appeal by Premier Ferguson to the electors. The date of polling will probably be Wednesday, December 8."
"A meeting of the cabinet will, it is understood, be held in Queens Park this afternoon to make final preparations for the long-anticipated announcement. As stated repeatedly by the Prime Minister, during the last few weeks the official statement will come from him and him alone."
MANIFESTO EXPECTED
"Either simultaneously with the announcement of dissolution or within a few days thereafter, there will be issued to the public a manifesto in which Premier Ferguson will state the issues on which he will appeal for support, and detailing such alterations or amendments in the Ontario Temperance Act as have been decided upon by the government."
"These amendments, as generally understood in Conservative circles and forecast by the Conservative press, will be defined in a policy of government control and local option and will include the abolition of doctors' prescriptions for liquor; the sale from hotels and clubs of strong beer and native wines; and government control of the sale of liquors and imported wines."
MUCH SPECULATION
"The Globe this morning says: 'It was a week-end of sizzling speculation in Toronto Conservative circles and all kinds of rumors regarding developments at Queens Park were going the rounds.'
"One report to which considerable credence seems to be given, was that the attorney-general, Hon. W. F. Nickle, was decidedly out of accord with the decision to adopt a 'wet' policy, and was likely to be asked to resign the 'dry' adherents of the party in the campaign and in the next legislature."
"The Globe made efforts to reach Mr. Nickle regarding the story last night, but without success."

REVOLT IS EXPECTED IN SOVIET RUSSIA
Max Eastman Says Trotsky Repudiated by Party Now in Power
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Max Eastman, former Editor of The Masses, who recently quit Soviet Russia after long observation of the Communist ideas at work, told the United Press today that he believed some insurrection might result from the political troubles within the communist party.
Regarding Lenin's alleged political will and testament, which was published throughout the world, Eastman said Trotsky was the true representative of Lenin's faith in Russia, although the party clique now in power and headed by Joseph V. Stalin has repudiated Trotsky.

STRESS IS LAID ON ECONOMIC SIDE OF MEET
Premier King to be Second Speaker at Imperial Conference
By GEORGE HAMBLETON, Staff Correspondent Canadian Press
LONDON, Oct. 18.—Within a week of the opening of the Imperial Conference, it is expected that the most important of its problems, the official opening tomorrow, will be marked by the usual general statements, Premier Baldwin, the presiding officer, leading in the speech making, and immediately followed by Premier Mackenzie King as representing the senior Dominion.
THREE MAIN SUBJECTS
After the preliminary addresses it is proposed to discuss the conference into three main committees to deal with the following questions:
1.—Foreign policy and defence.
2.—Inter-imperial relations.
3.—Economic questions.
As the hour of the opening of the conference approaches, there is a tendency, especially among the representatives of Great Britain, to lay considerable stress on concrete economic accomplishments.
MIGRATION MATTERS.
This view is echoed today by the Morning Post, which editorially urges the conference to devote its attention mainly to matters of immediate practical importance rather than to those "more abstract questions of inter-imperial constitutional relations, which, however, interesting in themselves, can be rightly solved only by the general process of evolution."
Continuing, the Post says: "No formal constitution can provide for contingencies of the unknown future."
The Post, dealing with the subject of migration, says: "Upon the carrying into execution of a really comprehensive scheme of inter-imperial migration, hangs the fulfillment of the Australian ideal of a white Australia, and the salvation of Canada from the complex and increasing dangers of a mixed population of which the United States offers so instructive an example."

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—Replying to graft and bribery charges with a complete denial and an allegation of dilatory payment, the John M. Blair Construction Company has filed a $2,000,000 damage suit against the Ford Motor Company.
The suit was an answer to one filed October 2, by the Ford concern for an undetermined amount said to run into millions, in which it was charged that the Blair Company had bribed Ford employees to accept inferior material several construction projects, allow exorbitant prices and approve padded accounts for labor not actually supplied. The Ford suit asked an accounting and cancellation of the contracts.

3 of Sultan's Widows Return To Turkey
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 18.—Three widows of Sultan Mohammed VI, have returned from exile to make their home in a small house of the old quarter overlooking the magnificent Yildiz Palace, of which they were once the mistresses. The fourth widow, said to be the youngest and prettiest of the group, did not accompany the others on their return, preferring to enjoy European freedom.
VISIT CATHEDRAL
Immediately after landing, Premier King, Hon. Ernest Lapointe and the other members of the party visited Liverpool Cathedral. At Lime Street Station Lord Mayor Bowring, wearing his chain of office, bade them farewell.
On their arrival at London, the party was welcomed by Lieut. Col. L. C. Amery, Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs; Col. H. V. B. Alliance Speaker Frowns On Sunday Games In Canada
PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Oct. 18.—"I am told there is a church in Winnipeg which holds its morning service early so that the men may get off for their games of golf. Their golfing togs are in the vestry for them to rush off when the benediction has been said. For them the Sabbath is over, when that service is over, but there is no quarter, no half Sabbath Day," said Rev. W. M. Rochester, of the Dominion Alliance, speaking in the first Baptist Church here last night.

Premier, In London, Asked Regarding Wood-Chopping
"It means you don't have to chop so much wood!" rejoined an irrepressible reporter of the state of Pernambuco who brought up the price of the state of Pernambuco to the Imperial Conference.
"It means we have a good working majority, and the country is satisfied," Mr. King corrected.
In his official press statement Premier King reviewed Canada's trade position, adding: "All indications seem to show that our business barometer is set at fair." He added that the improvement in economic conditions, particularly in the relative level of prices of farm products, was making it possible to absorb a steadily growing number of settlers.
On the Imperial Conference the statement observes: "The conference is essentially a clearing house for opinions; an opportunity for coming to realize adequately the personal factors and special problems in the government of all the nations of the empire."
"I have no doubt we shall come away with a better understanding of these special problems, a fuller recognition of the traditions and standards which we, of the community of British nations share, and a common clearer perception of the principles and policies best adapted to ensure effective co-operation."

DR. E. B. WYLLIE MAKES OFFER TO HELP PROBE
Refers to Stories of Drinking and Petting at Parties
DUTY OF PARENTS
Pastor, in Sermon, Declares That Their Responsibilities Should Be Shared
Canadian Press
OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—A pulpit challenge to secondary schools to share with home and church the responsibility for the morals and character of young people, and a demand for a thorough investigation of conditions at Ottawa collegiate institutions, were made by Rev. Dr. E. B. Wyllie, pastor of Erskine Presbyterian Church, in a sermon last evening.
His pulpit utterance on the controversy around educational schools, which began with his charges at the pre-synod conference of Montreal and Ottawa Presbyterians here last week, apparently was anticipated by many, and the church was crowded to capacity.
PARENTS' TASKS.
Dr. Wyllie said it was folly for people to delude themselves that homes and mothers could always be the refuge of the child. A Montreal minister had expressed the "gross conviction" that a school received just what the homes had given it. But the school had some responsibility to the child and to the world, Dr. Wyllie said. He knew that things were not easy and expected to do the impossible in these times. They had all they could do in keeping their homes together. In the important duty of making the future citizens of the world, the home, the church and the school must all take their share of the responsibility.
Conditions were throwing together thousands of children who were in the high schools, he continued, who were on the threshold of the most potent influence of their lives. They were herded together in this manner, he said, and the schools said they were responsible towards the world. He was persuaded that fathers and mothers must not be hauled to high school pupils and that they had more time on their hands than they knew what to do with.
PROBE DEMAND
A meeting of the O. C. J. board adopted a resolution asking Premier Howard Ferguson of Ontario, to appoint a commissioner to lead an investigation into charges by Dr. Wyllie that drinking and "petting" were indulged in by collegiate students of the city during their school dances, and in his sermon last night, the minister declared his desire to assist in the investigation. He said he would insist that the probe be held and that he warmly welcome the opportunity of serving on the investigating commission.
