

KINDERGARTEN WORK REVIEWED

Annual Meeting of Saint John Association Held Today

Words of Thanks For Aid Given—Statement on Finances Made

The work of the Free Kindergarten Association in the last year was told of in interesting reports submitted to the annual meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms this afternoon.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The annual report of Miss Marjorie L. Knight, secretary, was as follows: The beginning of the association year found the members most keenly interested in furthering a training school for kindergarten teachers under Mrs. Robinson. On the assurance of ten pupils the class was opened on Feb. 1 and a room for its meetings was decided on by a committee. In Holy Trinity school, later on this had to be used, so the school board was asked for another. The association is justly proud of Mrs. Robinson's training class.

Executive and monthly meetings were held regularly throughout the year. At these meetings Mrs. Pickett's reports of her regular visits to the kindergartens and her meetings with the teachers were most important and much appreciated by the association. At one meeting the teachers' reports were so satisfactory and interesting that they were sent to Mr. Werrell so that the school board might see what the work consisted of.

Finances were as usual a matter of some concern, and bills and expenses were dealt with as the members at the meeting thought best. In June membership lists were discussed and a final effort made to make the deficit as small as possible. This was materially helped by donations from some of the members. At the September meeting however, the financial report indicated only a deficit of about $10. The very smallest in the history of the association.

MANY ASSISTED.

People have been very kind and helpful. Mrs. Percy Thompson gave $100 to the general fund. An anonymous gift of $200 was given through Mrs. Johnston to be used as a scholarship for a pupil in Mrs. Robinson's training class. Beside this the fund provided by the Kings' Daughters and the Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. O. F., which is available for another scholarship, was also a donation of supplies was very timely because of the kindness of the alumnae in giving generously. From the St. Andrews' Benevolent Society, as usual, came little serge dresses for the children and underclothing from St. David's church, Conventary and the Door Keepers Circle of the Kings' Daughters.

FROM NETHERWOOD.

A donation of $25 to the fund for clothing from the pupils of Netherwood school was gratefully received. Many donations of clothing and money to purchase boots, etc. for the poor children were received during the winter months.

A gift which has been indeed a pleasure was that of a generous supply of broken biscuits from J. A. Marven of Moncton. Mr. Marven has not only given unlimited quantities of these biscuits but he has arranged to send them in amounts as required.

Among other much appreciated gifts and one which is of great benefit to the welfare of the children is that of supplies of milk for each school from five chapters of the I. O. O. F.

AT CHRISTMAS.

Christmas as usual brought a special treat to each kindergarten. Under the able management of Mrs. Spangler donations were solicited of chocolates and oranges, nuts and raisins. Individual gifts were a great help and were a part of the success of the treats.

A bridge was held in the Pythian Castle in January, the proceeds being $27.65, and also a bridge at Mrs. McAvity's own home which brought in $40. The Saint John Catholic Women's League has sent a donation of money. Miss McCluskey was appointed a member of the executive.

At an early meeting special honor was paid to Miss Mary Gunn. Miss Gunn has for 21 years been indefatigable in working for the children of the city in many ways and honor was felt to be only due to such a member of the association.

Our thanks are once more due to the press for their faithfulness in reporting our meetings and activities and to the Board of Trade for their kindness in allowing us the use of their rooms for meetings.

The success of the year's work is in a great measure due to Mrs. McAvity's personal success as a president. The association offers its appreciation and gratitude for what she has accomplished.

FAIRS HELP TO GOVERNMENTS

H. A. Porter Tells of Meeting of Exhibition Executives

Returns After Attending Meeting of Canadian Association in Ottawa

H. A. Porter, manager of the Saint John Exhibition arrived home on Sunday from Ottawa where he was in attendance at the Chateau Laurier at the second annual convention of the Association of Canadian Exhibitions, a body organized a year ago for mutual advice, exchange of ideas, regulation of amusements and also to be able to take their larger problems before governments and transportation corporations as a national unit.

40 DELEGATES.

Nothing that focused directly on Maritime exhibitions was brought up, in fact individual shows were not discussed. All questions and subject matter was general and broadly Canadian. There were 40 delegates, many as 40 delegates in the Chateau, and some of these were members of agricultural college faculties from various provinces, members of parliament and others interested in the large cattle raising and agricultural industries of their districts.

ALLY TO GOVERNMENTS.

It developed at the conference, Mr. Porter said, that the various Class A fairs represented—Toronto, Ottawa, Saint John, Sherbrooke, Fredericton, Charlottetown, Three Rivers, Guelph, London, Brandon, Regina and others—were a powerful ally of the Federal Government and provincial governments in bolstering their agricultural departments and other national resources. In fact it was argued they were an ideal vehicle and demonstration of the fact, he said, about strengthening the hands of exhibition executives in dealing with governments and transportation matters.

The Saint John Fair manager also reported that the new association had a definite understanding as to amusement attraction contracts, the identity with which they have been carried out, who are fakers and who play fair and square.

Even the matter of general management of exhibitions, the spirit of co-operation and reciprocity among officials—comes under their gentlemanly understanding. Offending executives may be warned.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

Mr. Porter said there were some interesting disclosures made during the conference relative to special attractions. The Regina Fair paid $20,000 to engage Sousa's Band, but the return from that feature alone was $31,000.

Twenty officers chosen for the all-Canadian association were: President, Percy W. Abbott, Edmonton, Alberta; vice-president, Col. S. E. Francis, Sherbrooke, P. Q.; secretary, St. W. Johnson, Saskatoon, Sask.; directors: J. K. Paisley, Ottawa, retiring president, and James Pettie, of Brandon.

PASTOR URGES KIRK TO GREATEST WORK

Rev. J. S. Bonnell in St. Andrews', Says Opportunity Offers

Rev. J. S. Bonnell in St. Andrew's Kirk yesterday morning said the greatest opportunity that ever faced St. Andrew's Kirk was the present. In the last two years much progress had been made but it was only a forerunner of what could yet be done. The hour had struck, said the speaker in which they must make this church a power for righteousness not only in this city and province but throughout the Maritime. This could be accomplished only if every member and adherent carried his share of the church's work. He said that teams of collectors from the session and trustees would go out on Monday night for the every person canvass which would be continued throughout the week. It was confidently believed that the contributions for both local and general work would be by far the largest in the history of the Kirk.

In the evening Mr. Bonnell preached on "A Challenge To Heroism." He said the world today was scornful of the church and indifferent to its claims because the lives of many church people were caricatures and misrepresentations of the heroic and self-sacrificing spirit of Christ. The speaker then gave a thrilling account of how Private Harry Brown of the Tenth Battalion, C.E.F., won the Victoria Cross by carrying a message that saved hundreds of Canadian lives through a barrage that was a veritable inferno. He gave up his life but all the world stood in reverence before such self-sacrifice and heroism.

The ancient world could not point the finger of scorn at the early Christian Church. They could persecute these Christians, imprison them and kill them but these pagans went forth from the Roman arena where they had gathered to jeer at the sufferings of Christian martyrs asking "What is it that can enter into the hearts of men and make them die as these men die?"

When the church today had a revival of that spirit of heroism and self-sacrifice, when the Cross was incarnated in human lives, then no longer would the world be scornful of the church's claims but the multitude would be challenged anew and their passing wonder changed to a true and lasting devotion and the Kingdom of Christ would come with a suddenness that would be the wonder of the world.
