the first time in the history of civil registration in this country, the War Office has announced the release in one week of 700 physicians from the army.

Influenza caused the great increase in the death rate, the number of victims from that disease being 99,999, or 41 per cent of the total deaths for the period. Lack of physicians is held responsible for the failure to curb the epidemic. At the beginning of this month, although 1,750,000 men of the army had been demobilized, only 1,500 out of 11,000 physicians had been released.

When a man gets into trouble the majority of those who call to sympathize with him are only after the particulars.

At a meeting of the House Carpenters and Joiners' Union, Local 919, held last night in the Painters' Hall, Charlotte street, President W. W. Williams in the chair, P. Sharkey and Commissioner Jones spoke on daylight saving time. A standing vote was in favor of the new time in June, July and August.

A resolution to form an organization in support of a Protestant orphan's home was passed at a meeting of the representatives of various fraternal societies held recently. The following committee was appointed: C. A. Jones, Robert Willis, S. Sewell, W. Sanderson, C. B. Ward, C. Ledford, C. G. Price and J. E. Arthurs.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY CARS
 An Innovation That Pleases the People of Weymouth, Mass.
 The idea of operating trolley cars without iron or steel rails is not entirely new. It has for some time been known that large and comfortable automobiles can be propelled by electricity over the surface of improved modern highways.
 It has, though, remained for the town of Weymouth, Mass., to establish a commercial system and compete successfully with ordinary standard systems. It is explained that the enterprise is by no means a jittery service. The power is furnished through two "trolley" wires which may be connected with any private or municipal electrical plant. Under these conditions the delay in cars meeting on a single track is eliminated. The cars are lighted and heated by electricity supplied directly from the trolley wires. They are equipped with solid rubber tires; or, if desirable, ordinary pneumatic tires may be utilized. As the cost of laying and maintaining metal tracks is eliminated, the low cost of upkeep and overhead charges makes, it is claimed, possible to charge only the usual price for the service.
 It is said that many Massachusetts towns in which a highly capitalized corporation could operate only at a loss can now avail themselves of an adequate electric trolley service.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.
