POLICEMAN'S GOOD WORK

Intelligent work by Policeman McNamee was responsible for the arrest of Paul Wedge, who is suspected of stealing $80 from the Atholway at Red Head. When a telephone message came to the police station last evening telling of the theft, the policeman went to the Union Station and found a man who corresponded with the description given. He was apparently coming from Boston in his way to Halifax. Convinced by the mud on his boots that he was the man, McNamee arrested Wedge. On the way to the lockup the policeman says he admitted his guilt. When Wedge was brought into court this morning he was remanded.

THE LATE NICHOLAS MURPHY

Many friends were sorry to learn of the death of Nicholas Murphy, which occurred yesterday at his home, 16 Wall street at the age of seventy-five years. Mr. Murphy was born in St. John and spent the greater part of his life here, though for some time a resident of Halifax. He learned the dry goods business in the store known as the Victoria and had also been connected with such well known firms of other days as McCafferty & Daly, H. and H. A. McLough and Hugh Nealis Lattery. Mr. Murphy had been on the staff of the Cornwall Cotton Mill. He at one time occupied a prominent place in musical affairs in this city, being a pleasing tenor singer for some twenty years in the Cathedral choir. Mr. Murphy is survived by one sister, Miss Margaret, with whom he lived. The funeral will be held on Thursday morning from his late residence, 16 Wall street, to Holy Trinity church for requiem high mass.

Each cadet company is to take into camp a qualified cook who, if assigned as a master cook, will be paid $8 a day or if second cook $1.50.

They must also take with them one plate, a knife, fork, spoon, cup, towel, and soap, a change of socks, a comb, hair brush and tooth brush. The members of St. Andrew's Church Cadets are to meet at the school room on Monday evening at 7.45 o'clock to make arrangements to attend.

Campbell of West St. John, and two daughters, Mrs. Frank Spearin of Somerville, Mass., and Mrs. Edward Acford of Boston. He also leaves twelve grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. THE THEATRE

MATTER HAS BEEN ADJUSTED

Of Course Never Believed The Keith Building Would be Sold — Mr. Albee in The City

The matter referred to in last evening's papers in connection with the Imperial Theatre, which is being completed on King Square by Messrs. Keith and Albee, was finally adjusted this morning.

Judge Jones yesterday issued a writ for the sale of the property under the Mechanics' Lien Act. But, of course, there was no intention that the property should be allowed to be sold. It is only fair to state that the legal step adopted yesterday was a necessary one in the action between the contractors as the time limit was up yesterday and the representative of Henry C. Brown, the head contractor, could not reach St. John until last night.

This representative, E. A. Wills, manager for Mr. Brown, came in on the late train last evening prepared to close the matter. This was done this morning and the sum of money in dispute paid over to Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford, representatives of McKinnon Holmes & Co., sub-contractors.

It is generally understood, of course, that Messrs. Keith and Albee had nothing to do with the trouble at all. The dispute was wholly between the head contracting firm and the sub-contractor.

Mr. Albee, who came to the city last evening, was asked about the matter. Mr. Albee understood there was some little controversy between the principal contractor, Henry L. Brown, of Philadelphia, and a sub-contractor, but as far as there being any financial liability on the part of either himself or Mr. Keith, particularly concerning unpaid bills, no such condition existed. "There are no unpaid bills as far as Keith & Albee are concerned," he said, "as already stated, most of their disbursements in connection with the new house have been payments in advance."

"And mark this, young man," said the theatrical magnate, "if there are any sub-contractors who have not received their payments from the main contractor they will most assuredly be fully protected. We hold bonds with Mr. Brown, the principal contractor, as we always do with our builders, which fully provides for any contingency that may arise of financial character, as well as providing against liens and so forth."

"It surely reads rather foolishly, does it not to learn that a building costing as much money as this new house here— with every dollar paid up to the minute, and even more— is to be sold, because of a $2,000 claim, especially when the plaintiff is a sub-contractor with assets of financial character, as well as dealing whatever except to protect him along with the others in getting his due?"

BOATBUILDER FINALLY TOOK COURT'S ADVICE

Matter of Harbor Weirs and a Boat Moored in Front of Them

It is not uncommon that a man is given a chance to get off going to jail by merely promising to do better in the future, but it is rare for a man to refuse the chance. This was what happened in the police court this morning. In the store known as the Victoria, a boat builder of 206 Chealey street was charged by Alexander E. Logan and Richard McCreary with interfering with their fishing weirs. He was lectured by the magistrate who, however, offered to let him go if he would take away the boat which caused the trouble. Hampton did not seem to grasp the point but tried to convince the magistrate by arguing with him that he had been in the right before. The magistrate had already heard the whole story and after giving Hampton another chance to promise without result sent him below.

The complaint against Hampton was that he had moored a motor boat in front of the weirs of Messrs. Logan and McCreary and so prevented the fish from coming to their nets.

Hampton said that he was a boat repairer and that if he was not allowed to keep his boat where he did he would have to go out of business. The others did not think so, and the magistrate seemed to have their view of the case at any rate he delivered a lecture to Hampton on unneighborliness as he termed it. "There is an old saying," said His Honor, "that molasses catches more flies than vinegar. In other words these men all your life and instead of trying to act in a neighborly manner you deliberately put your boat in the only place where it will harm them and threaten to injure them if they interfere. If you had to stay awake nights you should do so rather than commit such a mean act."

Hampton was then given a chance for his freedom if he would promise to do better in the future but as he did not seem inclined to do so was sent down. Later, however, the magistrate had another talk with him and when he promised what the magistrate wished he was let go.

TRYING TO GET GANLEY BACK ON TEAM AGAIN

Fredericton Mail—Bob Ganley, who was unconditionally suspended by the Fredericton Baseball Club yesterday, was paid off and given transportation to his home. Local friends, however, are working to have him again placed on the Fredericton team. Some guarantee of future good behavior is said to be absolutely necessary before he can be restored to standing.

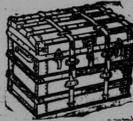

DEATH IN NORTH END
The death of Francis A. Smith occurred at the residence of his parents, 80 Sheriff street, at eleven o'clock last evening, after an illness of about a week. Mr. Smith was twenty-eight years of age and single. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford M. Smith. Much sympathy is felt for them in their sad bereavement. The funeral will be held at 2.30 tomorrow afternoon.
