FRENCH POLICY IN MOROCCO SET OUT

Important Statement Is Made in The Senate NEWS OVER CABLES

Jules J. Lefebvre, Noted Painter, is Dead—England to Get Part of the Chinese $30,000,000 Loan—Wool Combers Threaten Strike in Bradford for Higher Wages

Paris, June 13.—During the course of an interpellation on Morocco in the senate yesterday, M. Cruppi, minister of foreign affairs, made an important declaration in which he outlined the policy of France. This would consist, he said, in the creation of a Moroccan army, hastening reforms in the organization of the police, and assuring order, placing the Sultan's authority on a firm basis in the interests of all, maintaining the open-door and establishing economic and commercial liberty.

When this policy was in a fair way of accomplishment, the foreign minister said General Maunier would evacuate after chasing the tribesmen.

Jules Joseph Tellere, the painter, is dead. He won the grand prize of Rome in 1861 for "The Death of Priam." Among his best known paintings are "La Fayette in the museum at St. Louis," "Laverie," in the museum of Luxembourg; "Diane Surprised," in the museum of the Academy of Fine Arts in 1891. M. Lefebvre was born in 1838.

London, June 15.—It is reported here that a portion of the Chinese railway loan has been allotted to England as a result of an agreement signed last month in Peking by a group of bankers and will be placed on the market in London today.

Edinburgh, June 15.—In connection with the National Congress, which is sitting here this week, a great demonstration was held last night in support of Anglo-American arbitration. Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Lewis Harcourt, Secretary of State for the Colonies, and Andrew Carnegie, sent messages wishing success to the movement.

London, June 15.—According to the Daily Chronicle, Mr. Carnegie, in his letter to the arbitration meeting in Edinburgh, declared that Germany, France and Holland had all expressed their willingness to enter into a treaty without dispute.

Rosary Beads in Hand of Murdered Mrs. Simmons—Was Strangled to Death With Pillow Shams—The Husband Tells His Story

White Plains, N. Y., June 15.—Strangled to death with two pillow shams tied around her neck, Mrs. William Simmons, wife of an engine driver, employed by the New York Central Railroad, was found in her home about noon Tuesday after her daughter, Jillian, five years old, attracted the attention of neighbors to the scene of the tragedy.

The husband returned from his run on the railroad an hour after the body was found, and when friends hurried him home as an automobile driver, he declined to admit him to the scene of the murder until after consulting a lawyer through investigation of the premises.

Mr. Simmons said he left home about nine o'clock Monday night for an extra run. He said he kissed his wife goodnight, and after going two blocks he says he remembered his lunch basket, which his wife had filled, and returned for it. His wife greeted him again at the head of the stairs, he said. That, he declared, was the last time he saw her alive.

The husband was arrested on a charge of murdering his wife. He was held in the police station until the coroner's inquest, which will be held on Wednesday.

THE CORONATION RUSH

Priceless Carpets and Tapestries in Westminster Abbey—Fleets Assembling off Spithead—Rehearsals of the Coronation Ceremony—Kitchener Inspects Indian Contingent

London, June 15.—With the hourly influx of foreign visitors the streets of London exhibit extraordinary scenes of life and bustle. All the places of amusement are filled nightly. Every public vehicle and every corner are crowded with people watching the preparations for the coronation, the decorative schemes being sufficiently advanced to attract sightseers.

The interior of Westminster Abbey is well advanced. Priceless Persian carpets, rare tapestries, and other hangings have been laid out on the floor. The Earl of Dalmeida, the Earl of Bessborough and others while the king and queen have presented exquisitely embroidered altar cloths.

WILLING TO BE TRUSTED "Bread trust" said a thin-whiskered man this morning.

BELIEF AND PRACTICE Our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. James Jones, is somewhat worried in his mind.

What would you do in my case? It is perfectly clear that all these other interpreters will tell other men what they should believe.

There has never been a death of men since the order that day after the reception of the truth to the people, and sometimes I think it's vanity that is prodding me on.
