

other rooms of the House are also well adapted for their purposes. There were 95 inmates in the Home at the time of my visit, of whom 63 were girls, and 32 boys, 18 of the number being children under four years of age. The children were very neatly and comfortably dressed, and they all had a clean and healthy appearance. There was no sickness in the House. A large number of the inmates are instructed by a mistress in the Home."

And may we all hope that our efforts during the year have met with the blessing of God, and that our Home will receive the protection of that Saviour who bade little children come unto Him. And as we, who are associated together, work harmoniously, and hand in hand, may our united and high aim indeed be

"To live for those who need us,
 For those who know us true;
 For the Heaven that smiles above us,
 And waits our coming too.
 For the cause that needs assistance
 For the ill that lack resistance,
 For the future in the distance,
 And the good that we can do."
