

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL

News of the Day Selected from Thursday's Evening Times.

Merchants' Exchange. The list for charter members of the Merchants Exchange Club is still open and those wishing to join should make immediate application to T. L. Elworthy, secretary. The list has not been circulated since last Friday, at which time there were 150 charter members. A number of names have been added since. At four o'clock to-morrow the members will meet to elect officers. Every member is expected to attend.

Marriage of D. E. Brown.

D. E. Brown, general agent in China and Japan for the C. P. R., was married in Tacoma this afternoon to Miss Post, daughter of Mrs. L. E. Post of that city. Allan Cameron, lately of Victoria, supported the groom. Miss Post is one of the most beautiful and accomplished women of Tacoma, which is celebrated for its pretty women, and the wedding attracted great notice in social circles. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will pay a visit to Montreal and return to Vancouver in time to catch the Empress of India on Oct. 16th for Hong Kong.

For the Sailors' Rest.

A concert was held in the lecture room of the Metropolitan Methodist church last evening in aid of the Sailors' Rest. The programme followed: Reading, "The Revenge" (Templeton), and "King John and the Abbott of Canterbury." Rev. W. P. George. Song, "The Guiding Light" (Bingham)—W. Edgar Buck. Reading, "The Northern Farmer" (Templeton) recitation, "Fortitude" (Macaulay); Rev. W. P. George. Song, "Doris" (De Koven)—Miss Sharp. Reading, "The Old Woman of Berkeley" (Southey); "The Yarn of the Nancy Bell" (Hilbert); "The Edifice Erected by John"—Rev. W. P. George. Song, "They All Love Jack"—W. Edgar Buck. Recitation, "The Last Hymns" (Farrington)—Rev. W. P. George.

Old Cariboo Still Rich.

E. A. Martin, government assayer and superintendent of the Barkerville reduction works, arrived in the city last evening. The present season has been as good as, if not better than, the average for the placer miners. The Chinamen have had an exceptionally prosperous season. No new strikes have been made, but some good spots have been struck on the old claims. One of the best paying claims is on Nelson creek. It is owned and worked by Chinamen. The expert who has been expected to report on the Williams creek property has reported favorably, and work will be commenced immediately. A hydraulic elevator, pipe lines and drains will be constructed. The Slough creek company is waiting for the machinery, which is expected within a few weeks. The superintendent who is to replace the late superintendent, McGee, will arrive at the same time. Mr. Martin thinks that H. Abbott and his company got a good thing when they purchased the Chinese and the South Fork claim on the south fork of the Quesnel. It is the intention of the company to work the claim jointly, carrying the water from the south fork to the Chinese claim. The latter has been a paying property for over ten years, and the Chinamen did very little development work.

Corrig College Cadets.

A stirring scene was presented to the gaze of several hundred park strollers on Tuesday afternoon when the Corrig College cadets "fell in" at the drill ground opposite the college and received their first instruction in the noble art of military deportment and evolution from Mr. St. Clair, the physical instructor. There were 36 bright, strong, intelligent-looking boys, every one of whom paid earnest attention to the words of command, the consequence being that most gratifying progress was made. The mysteries of "front," "stand at ease," "eyes front," "right dress," "right and left turn" and "right about" by the right, quick march" and "halt, front," were taught them very quickly and were mastered with astonishing facility. The more intricate movements of "bars" in all its branches came next, and it was a treat to note the precision attained by the rear rank in stepping back like one man at the word of command. The final manoeuvre was quite intricate and took some time to thoroughly understand, but when the gallant little company had at length grasped the idea and went through the movements like grenadiers of the old school, the spectators heartily applauded and a sergeant in the United States army corps quartered near San Francisco, hearty, and Mr. St. Clair is confident he will have one of the smartest drill companies on the coast before very long. He has divided the company into two sections, the seniors and the juniors, the seniors being the bigger boys, the juniors the hopefuls who will in course of time be drafted into the ranks of the grenadier company. The effect of the thorough military training which Mr. St. Clair is eminently able to give the boys will soon make itself apparent, and will prove of inestimable benefit to them all through life. A most valuable addition has thus been made to the already splendid curriculum of Corrig College.

CHINESE WIVES.

Was Mrs. Missionary Mackay Poll Taxed at Vancouver? Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Mr. Parmelee, deputy minister of trade and commerce, does not believe the story reported from Vancouver, that poll tax was charged on the wife of the well known missionary, D. McKay, at that port, on their landing in Canada. Mrs. McKay is a Chinese, and McKay, his native place. If such tax was collected, Mr. Parmelee says it was a mistake and the money ought to be refunded. The amended Chinese act of 1887 provides that any woman who is of Chinese origin, and who is married to a man not of Chinese origin, will be held to be of the same nationality as her husband. The act is clear enough on this point.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.

The Arion Club's Concert at Institute Hall Last Evening. Several hundred ladies and gentlemen including the members of the Arion club and their friends attended the concert given by the club in Institute Hall last evening. It was the first of this season's concerts and the number of invitations accepted shows the popularity the club has attained among the lovers of music during the twelve months that it has been in existence. The 24 active members with the conductor, Wm. Greig, were on the stage and the manner in which the different choruses were rendered was sufficient proof that the members had faithfully attended the weekly practices. Good taste was displayed in the selection of the pieces on the programme, each being pretty and in addition the rendition was as near perfection as possible. In addition to the numbers by the club there were two vocal solos by Miss Warren and a violin solo by Ernest Wolff. Miss Warren received well merited encores, her sweet and rich voice being well adapted to the solos selected. She was heartily applauded for the pretty and correct manner in which she sang "Il Bacio" in Italian. Mr. Wolff also recalled for his violin solo. The club received several encores but sufficient proof that the members had faithfully attended the weekly practices. Good taste was displayed in the selection of the pieces on the programme, each being pretty and in addition the rendition was as near perfection as possible.

A WOUNDED INDIAN.

Found by Constable Mowat Lying on Store Street Last Night. Constable Mowat found an Indian, covered with blood, lying on the sidewalk at the west side of Store street last night. A klootchman was with him and she was crying. Mowat helped the Indian to his feet and took him into an adjoining store where they tried to stop the flow of blood but without success. Constable Mowat took the wounded man to the police cells where Dr. John Duncan attended to his wounds. The wounded man gave his name as Tom and said that he had been assaulted by James Hayward who lives in a cabin on Store street near where the Indian was found. Constables Cameron and Mowat arrested Hayward in his cabin. Hayward first denied them but afterwards came along quietly. In the police court, the story came out that Hayward had been drinking in Indian slacks and took Tom and Mary, klootchman, along with him to his cabin. When Hayward got to his cabin he ordered Tom out. Tom refused to go without Mary. Hayward then knocked the Siwash down, kicked him when on the ground and left him in a semi-conscious condition with Mary crying over him. The case was adjourned for Friday morning to obtain the evidence of Dr. Duncan.

The Premier and the Organ.

It is perhaps a little mean to continually harass the poor organs, who are at their wits' end just now by reason of the shallows and miseries into which their servitude to unworthy masters has brought them. But, like the temperance lecturer, we believe the "horrible examples, lapses and tribulations of the wretched" organs. It is the chief organ, the Colonist, that we propose to notice briefly to-day. That venerable propagandist and organ of the most intense and corrupt sectionalism says, in a recent issue that "the News-Advertiser does not attempt to defend the sectionalism which it is doing its best to foster and disseminate, and goes on to say that "its (the News-Advertiser's) editorial leaves the fair field of argument to state what is really false about the proprietorship of the Colonist. He says broadly that it is chiefly owned by Mr. Davie, and then states what he believes to be the consequences of such ownership. We have no intention of interfering in any way with that sort of thing, there may be between the Colonist and the News-Advertiser, because we are not in a position to settle the point. The most we could say is that the circumstantial evidence and the popular belief all point to the fact that the News-Advertiser people have occasionally been hanged on such grounds. At any rate, it is of a good deal more importance for the public to know that the Colonist has conducted itself from a certain date in a way that could not have been improved upon if it had been for that time exclusively owned by Mr. Davie, than to have documentary evidence proving that whole or partial ownership by the premier was fact. What makes the Colonist's record in this respect all the more significant is the fact that, a short time prior to the certain date referred to—the time of Mr. Davie's accession to the premier-ship—the now chief organ of the Davie administration, made a very independent and altogether creditable effort, according to the evidence submitted, to read Mr. Davie out of the government, as unit for the position of attorney-general; and when in question of choosing a successor to the late Mr. Robson was forced upon the government, early in the summer of last year, the Colonist pleaded earnestly that Mr. Pooley should take the position, but was forced, evidently with the view of retaining the knuckle down to Mr. Davie, to acquiesce in Mr. Davie's appointment. The same time Mr. Davie ceased publishing his own personal organ, the Victoria Daily News—which was started, evidently, to whip the Colonist into line—and it was said at the time, transferred his interest to the Colonist. At any rate, the paper has been as docile and obedient since as could be wished. In the light of the indisputable facts stated above, people may come to the

DAVIE AT CLINTON.

A Quiet, Orderly and Business-Like Meeting Last Night. Clinton, B. C., Sept. 28.—The public meeting here last night was addressed by Premier Davie, who spoke for an hour and three quarters. J. C. Brown, M. P., followed for one hour, and Messrs. Stoddart and Smith, M. P.'s, spoke briefly. Messrs. Semlin and Kitcheen, M. P.'s, occupied half an hour each. Mr. Davie replied to each. All the speakers were well received and attentively listened to, while perfect order prevailed throughout, and many matters which required explanation were cleared up.

THE MARKETS.

A Short Summary Covering Articles Produced by the Farmer. There have been no changes worthy of note in the local market during the past week. Trade continues to improve in many lines and there is a better tone to the market generally. Australian sugar has made its initial bow here and is well received, for it is a good article. It is put up in 70-pound sacks, a convenient size, and is on the market at six and a half cents per pound. Its introduction is due to the new line of steamers, the advent of which will produce a number of changes. Retail prices will be found unchanged this week. They are as follows:

conclusion that the News-Advertiser was not far off, but that the Colonist still further in indignant denial of the imputation. "We take this opportunity of telling him (the News-Advertiser editor) and the public that the Colonist is today, politically and in every other respect, as independent as ever it was." That would not be saying much, if we except that steam of independence, some twenty months ago, so quickly and completely quenched, when the now slavish supporter of Mr. Davie as premier honestly and fearlessly spoke his mind of Mr. Davie as attorney-general in such language as the following: "A few more such cases as this, and the administration of criminal justice in the province will become a mockery." The question that will naturally occur to the inquiring mind, before being quite satisfied of the Colonist's independence at the present time, is: Has Mr. Davie reformed in the meantime? Is he a better premier and attorney-general than he was simply as attorney-general? Or—the Ethiopian changed his skin? Or—but the suggestion is too harrowing—has the Colonist's point of view been completely changed, so that in all matters relating to Mr. Davie now white is black and black white?

We will just make one more quotation from the Colonist in this matter, from a syndicalist's point of view, anything else. Says the Colonist of itself: "It supports the present government because those who control it—and they are not politicians in the ordinary sense of the term—believe that the men in power here both the will and the ability to maintain the affairs of the province in the best interests of the inhabitants, and that the policy they are pursuing is on the whole well calculated to promote its prosperity." A variety of most interesting interpretations might be put upon this sentence. It was intended as a puzzle, and is not simply a case of incoherence induced by a very embarrassing subject, we congratulate the Colonist—Columbian.

Marine

(From Wednesday's Daily.) The schooner Mascotte is out on Long's ways. The City of Kingston brought in four carloads of sheep and four carloads of flour last night. The steamship City of Puebla took 200 tons of Oriental freight etc. 200 tons of Victoria, for San Francisco, yesterday morning. The steam sealer Louis Olsen is being made into a pilot boat at Astoria. She was quite badly damaged in a collision there on Monday. The Empress of India, although she does not sail outward until Oct. 16th, has already freighted enough in Vancouver to fill. She will have to refuse some offered.

The steamship Mowera, on the way here from Australia and Hawaiian islands, has 40 saloon and 30 steerage passengers, 500 tons of freight for the coast and 50 tons for transshipment east to the American point. She will receive considerable freight at Honolulu. Capt. J. C. Nixon, owner, and Capt. Miner, master of the sealing schooner Henry Denis, were nearly drowned at Seattle on Sunday. They were out on a salmon trolling trip along with land and big silver side. He upset the boat and both men went overboard. Capt. Nixon got tangled up in the line and before he freed himself went nearly to the bottom of the bay. The two were picked up by a passing boat.

George Brown received a cablegram yesterday evening from Yokohama announcing that the seized schooner Maude S., Capt. McKell, had arrived there and reported to the British consul. It is not believed here that the Maude S. will have any trouble clearing herself, as it was owing to a mistake in her log that she was seized, her mate putting down "five miles" instead of "50 miles" when the schooner was sailing south of Copper islands.

John St. Clair has joined the staff of Victoria college as instructor of physical training and drill instructor. He will begin work immediately. There is absolutely no truth in the report of a shooting case at Carson's Bridge last week. The lady who is sick in one of the local hospitals was hurt in a runaway. The country is saved. Langley & Co. received two carloads of patent medicine from Montreal on Sunday's boat. It is the largest shipment of the kind ever received here. Cook of Victoria, while hunting on the Leech river trail on Saturday, shot a black bear weighing 250 pounds. The bear was seven feet in length and is a fine specimen. Captain D. Urquhart left this morning over the C. P. R. for Scotland. He will spend a month or so at the home of his childhood from which he has been absent for 25 years. Sergeant-Major Mulcahy, formerly of C. Battery, R. C. A., has arrived from the east, having been transferred from the regular service. He has been appointed Sergeant-Major and instructor for the B. The Enterprise made a catch of 301 of the Russian islands, bringing her catch up to over 1300. Neither has any late news of importance to report.

The petitioners for a new Presbyterian congregation under the pastorate of the Rev. P. McF. Macleod met last evening in the old Methodist church. It was unanimously decided to adhere to the prayer of the petitioners now before the Presbytery. Representatives were appointed to attend the meeting of the Presbytery in this behalf. A large number of the petitioners were in attendance. (From Wednesday's Daily.) The doctors who are attending Leon Borde, who was shot on Sunday, think that the injured foot will be saved. Emery Holden is in custody charged with stealing hay from the Saanich line kilns. The case will be heard in the police court Thursday morning. The wire from Carmanah Point announced yesterday that the operator had killed a deer, a bear and a panther between sunrise and sunset. The marines from the fleet at Esquimalt were given their physical drill ashore at the canteen grounds this morning. The Jack tars will drill to-morrow.

Hon. Col. Baker, Provincial Secretary, intends holding at least one political meeting during his stay in Alberni. A number of prospective candidates will address the meeting. Ald. Baker will move at the next meeting of the council that the inspectors for the Spring Ridge and Work estate drain contracts be appointed by ballot and that they be either bricklayers or masons. Miss McMicking will again begin her classes in physical culture and dancing on October 7th, in St. James Hall. They were exceptionally popular last year and will no doubt be very freely patronized this year. The case of John Francis of the ship Rathdown, charged with an aggravated assault on the man Wilson, who is now in the provincial jail awaiting trial for the murder of Jones, was called to-day before Mr. Justice Drake. Mr. W. H. Langley, for the crown, asked that the prisoner be remanded until the 4th prox., when all the witnesses would be in Victoria. The ship is now in Port Moody, and it would not be worth while taking witnesses to Victoria when their presence will be required at the assizes to be held on the 5th prox. His lordship granted an adjournment accordingly. In the award of prizes at the World's Fair the exhibitors of British Columbia are showing up very well. Among those to whom prizes have been given are the following: Robert Ward & Co., of Victoria, canned salmon; Alert Bay Canning Co., B. C., for same; Turner, Beattie & Co., Skema river, for same; T. E. Lander, Ladner's Landing, fish guano. A number of summonses are out against idlers about town charging them with vagrancy. The police evidently think that if they get the "vags" out of town they will do away with the thieves. Constable Smith in the box said that he had laid certain charges of vagrancy because there were a number of robberies recently, and the persons against whom the charges were laid were idlers. While in Tacoma George McElBrown of Vancouver, district passenger agent of the C. P. John Devis, charged with vagrancy, did not appear. There was also a case against an Indian for being in possession of a bottle of whiskey, but it was not called. (From Thursday's Daily.) The rain caused a stoppage of work on the government buildings. Work has been fully resumed upon the new school buildings and the sewers. Hon. George E. Foster, minister of finance, and Hon. Mr. Anglin, minister in Victoria towards the end of October will meet in the new building on Saturday for the first time. The building is progressing very well. At the meeting of the W. C. T. Collector Milne and Captain Gaudin, agent of the marine and fisheries department, succeeded in dispatching a large number of sealing claims, under the allowance to the crews and hunters before them. They devote Monday and Friday afternoons weekly to the sealing claims. The steamer City of Kingston will bring an excursion from Seattle on Sunday next. It is given by the company itself and a rate of $1.50 for the round trip has been fixed. It is expected if the weather is good there will be a large attendance. It is only the second excursion from Seattle to Victoria this year. The summons for the grand and petit juries for the special assize of Oct. 5th have been issued and are being served. Draney and wife, Miss Lawrence, G. Barnard, A. G. Harris, J. Kirk, A. G. Little, H. Snow, R. A. Roscoe, D. Chambers, J. Smith and 51 Chinese and Indians.
