Church Jubilee. St. Jude's church, West End, will celebrate its 50th anniversary during the week of May 8th, and an attractive programme has been outlined for the occasion. The present church was erected and was consecrated by the late Bishop Kingston in 1898. Under Rev. G. F. Scovil as rector, the work of the church has so greatly increased that the present quarters are proving too small, and a new movement is on foot to enlarge both the church and Sunday school buildings. TELEGRAPH CONVICTED ON ITS OWN EVIDENCE

One Article States Hon. Mr. Maxwell Went to Kings for Political Purposes, and Another Records Real Purpose

Although it is generally felt that the news columns of the Daily Telegraph are often provoked to meet the views of the deriding owners of that sheet, it is not often that paper convicts itself as it did on Saturday.

On that date the Telegraph published on page 14 an article purporting to come from Sussex dealing with alleged differences and difficulties of the Conservatives of Kings county. This article was headed in big type, "Troubles of Kings County Tories," and stated that Hon. Mr. Maxwell went to Apohaqui to endeavor to straighten out alleged difficulties in the party ranks.

It also intimated that Liberal activity in the county had stricken terror into the Conservatives. Evidently the intention of the Telegraph to mislead the people in regard to conditions in Kings county was not communicated to the man who "made up" the page for directly under the article, and bearing the modest heading "Apohaqui Notes," appeared the real reason for Hon. Mr. Maxwell's visit to Kings county, as follows:

Apohaqui, N. B., Feb. 23.—A large and enthusiastic public meeting was held in the hall on the evening of the 22nd, in the interests of forestry.

Hon. Robert Maxwell, of St. John; Judge F. W. Emmerson, high secretary, Moncton; Judge M. N. Cockburn, high chief ranger, St. Andrews, were the speakers.

The Telegraph should endeavor to see that the political liar of the paper and the "make up" man are brought more closely together. It would do no harm to take that Apohaqui correspondent into the camp as well. As long as the Telegraph draws its sustenance from the mud dug up by its owners it must earn its pay. In this regard it is a serious slip to allow anything but abuse to creep into the columns where a member of the Hazen government is concerned, but the intelligent readers are speedily learning that its news columns are as unreliable as its editorial utterances.

SOCIALISTS SPEAK OF SANITARY CONDITIONS

Medical Man Had Told Speaker that He Would Expose Conditions if it Were Not for Losing Practice.

At the meeting of the Socialists last evening, J. W. Eastwood said that St. John doctor had told him that he would like to tell the people about the sanitary conditions here, and the evils that developed through the lack of a proper system of food inspection, but that his medical friend did not dare to give expression to his opinion on these matters, lest he lose some of his best paying clients.

Under competition, he added, the interests of the medical profession did not lie along the lines of trying to promote living conditions that would prevent sickness, though it should be said to their credit, that many doctors took a great interest in hygienic movements which tended to lessen the demand for their services.

J. F. Taylor delivered an interesting address on the causes of poverty, claiming that much of the misery in the world was due not to individual depravity, but to the fact that some men possessed privileges which gave them a strength like that possessed by the man with a galling gun against the savages with bows and arrows.
