Hartridge, Thaw's personal attorney, all the papers he had in the case with the exception of the reports of private detectives which have been made to him since the alleged murder was committed. As a reason for retaining these, Judge O'Connell said there was a question in his mind as to whether they belonged to Thaw or to the person who paid for them. He did not indicate who the person was who paid for the detective's services.

MONCTON CLOTHING FACTORY TO CHANGE HANDS

Montreal Man to Buy Out Humphrey & Son—The City Offers $1,000 Yearly Bonus to New Concern.

(Special to The Telegraph.) Moncton, July 19—The clothing manufacturing business carried on in Moncton for the last five years by John A. Humphrey & Son is about changing hands. Last March the company decided as this branch of the business was not paying to close it out as well as the retail stores in connection with the business in a number of towns in the province. A. S. Campbell, of Montreal, has been here some days negotiating for the purchase of the clothing factory. It is understood that the purchase price is agreed upon and the question of manufacturing clothing in Moncton is contingent upon the city granting a bonus. The city council met this afternoon and passed a resolution in favor of granting $1,000 yearly for fifteen years. Mr. Campbell stated to the council it was proposed to double the number of hands employed. At present the factory has about 100. The new company will be capitalized at $100,000, half being practically subscribed already. Mr. Campbell takes $25,000 himself. Last year the factory paid out between $22,000 and $23,000 in wages. The failure of the business to make money is attributed by Messrs. Humphrey & Campbell to the manufacture of woollen goods exclusively. The new company will manufacture different classes of goods.

VIEW OF WRECK IN ENGLAND WHERE AMERICANS AND CANADIANS MET DEATH.

Scene of Salisbury Disaster—The Wrecked Car.

On July 1 the express, taking passengers from the American line New York at Plymouth, for London, ran through the Salisbury station at more than twice the speed the railway rules direct, which is thirty miles an hour. The train consisted of three passenger coaches, a guard's van (caboose) and a kitchen car. Before reaching the station platform, where there is a sharp curve, the engine jumped the track, ploughed up the road-bed for several yards, crashed through the caboose of a milk train going in an opposite direction, and then mounting the side of a railroad bridge, turned over, burying the driver and fireman. The first of the coaches shot past the engine, and, crawling into the girder of the bridge, was smashed to pieces. Portions of the wreck were hurled over the bridge and down the embankment, and one man was thrown to the street below. The second and third coaches toppled over on to the line and were broken to splinters. Over a score of Americans were killed.

HORACE PETERS, WEST END, DEAD BY HIS OWN HAND

Found by Wife Shot Through Head

Young Man Reported Despondent Because He was Out of Employment—Fearful Shock to Family—Coroner Says Death Accidental.

To be out walking with her husband at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon and then to find him with his own hand—such was the terrible experience Mrs. Horace Peters, of Carleton, passed through Thursday.

Her husband killed himself in a woodshed in the rear of No. 1 Union street, west side, where Mrs. M. H. Peters, the widowed mother of the young man, lives. The family were, naturally, greatly disturbed and very reticent last night and it was difficult to get a connected story of the affair.

Coroner F. L. Kenney, who is a brother-in-law of the dead man, was in attendance on the ladies in the Peters household last night. They were naturally prostrated at the terrible happening. He said it was a clear case of suicide and it was unlikely that an inquest would be held. "Mrs. Peters," he continued, "about 6 o'clock happened to go out to the woodshed in the rear of the house and saw her husband lying face down on the floor. She thought that he had fallen in a faint and summoned some of the neighbors. She remained in the house while they went out to lift Mr. Peters up. It was at once apparent what had happened. There was a bullet hole in his forehead while a 32-calibre revolver was clutched in his right hand. He was dead and had been so for some time." A message was sent to Dr. Kenney and he hurried to the house.

Mr. Peters was employed as a hardware clerk. He had been working in Boston and he and his wife had arrived from there only some weeks ago. He left his wife with her father, John M. Driscoll, while he then went to the Canadian northwest where the idea of locating there. He did not stay there long, however, but came back to Carleton.

The only apparent reason, Dr. Kenney said, for the suicide was despondency over being out of work. Mr. Peters was not in debt and his private relations were most happy. He simply was despondent because he was not employed.

The unfortunate man was a son of the late Dr. M. H. Peters, of west side, and was about thirty-four or thirty-five years old. He was married about five years ago to Mrs. Driscoll and two children, both boys, were born to them; both are living. His mother, two brothers and two sisters also survive. Douglas H. Peters, of Carleton, is one of the brothers; the other is Charles in California. Mrs. F. L. Kenney, wife of Dr. Kenney, and Miss Laura Peters are the sisters. There will be widespread sympathy for the bereaved ones because of the distressing occurrence.

Coroner Macdonald, who was summoned to act because of Coroner Kenney's relationship to the family, viewed the body and gave a permit for burial. In it he officially stated death to be accidental.
