

come forth & multiply.....

It's 'we need your help' time again. Mid term brings a need for new staff members, particularly in the news department. But we could certainly use staff in other areas of the paper, so don't get discouraged if you think you can't write.

All that's necessary here is a simple willingness to learn. And, because we don't have the monopoly on intelligence (contrary to popular opinion), maybe you can teach us something too.

If you don't have time to help in the actual production of the paper, try and help us by calling our office (475-5191) when something newsworthy is happening, or about to happen. To cover this campus as it needs to be covered, we need your help.

We only need a small bit of your time every week, and the campus will be a better place for it.

Come on in. Room 35, SUB.

We take anybody.
