A difficulty has arisen in the matter of the filler being used on the William street pavement. City Engineer E. B. Jones found on Wednesday that the pavement company was using a filler of tar only, which might just about as well be water. The engineer notified the overseer for the company to stop its use, as it was no good and utilize a pitch filler. He will likely notify his company, and the matter will be settled in some way. It is said that the specifications say a tar filler, but any matters coming up for dispute are to be settled by the city engineer. In the meantime the filling part of the work stands.
