

Exactly. And it is just because there is no meaning in it nor necessity for it, because it is only "teasing," that poor tormented, insulted human nature cries out sometimes in a passion against it. If the tease cannot find anything else to annoy, he will torment an animal or a little child, and he thinks it is fun; but it is the most malicious, most dreadful and most dangerous fun in the world.

I think that a genuine tease is always a coward, for he never attacks his equals; his victims are the helpless animal, the little child, the timid woman. If you will notice, it is never the smallest boy who teases the larger one. And then a tease can never bear to be teased himself. Nothing makes him angrier than to be paid back in his own coin.

But, really, the most distressing thing about the whole matter is the effect which the habit of teasing has upon the nature of the one who indulges in it. A confirmed tease becomes positively heartless. He can look upon physical or mental distress quite unmoved.

If there is a boy who reads these lines, who likes to tease his little sister until she runs in tears to her mother, or who torments some little fellow at school just to see him flush crimson and bristle with impotent rage; if you want to make a man of yourself, stop it. For it is a most ignoble and unmanly thing to take delight in causing pain to any living creature, especially if it is smaller and weaker than yourself.—Selected.

BROWN CHOCOLATE versus BROWN WOOL.

LAST autumn, a young girl was asking me how she could best make use of some clothing she had made for the poor, during some six or seven months spent at the seaside on account of her mother's health. Warm frocks of various sizes, strong petticoats, and comfortable, well knitted boys' socks, filled a good sized travelling box.

"I know a busy clergyman's wife, in one of the very poorest parts of L—," I said, "who will be charmed to give away these things, and will do it herself, so you may be sure they go to the right sort of people. But why do you always use brown material?" I asked, as I saw that all things were made of some shade of brown, varying from bright russet brown, reddish brown, or dark sepia tones of brown.

My young show-woman laughed heartily, as she answered, "You would never guess, I am sure. But to tell the truth, I have a sweet tooth, and though I am nearly seventeen years old, I am a perfect baby for chocolate. About Easter, I heard Mr. Arrowsmith say in an address to young people, that it grieved him to think how much the young spent on themselves, and how much of their pocket-money went for chocolate and such things." "And you felt that the cap fitted," I said. "I did, indeed," she answered. "I cannot tell you the other things that Mr. Arrowsmith mentioned, for I was so struck by that one word, 'chocolate' in the list, and remembering how much I spent on it, that I did not seem to hear the rest. But, as he told of some of the terrible suffering, last winter, amongst poor children in L—, I determined to do something for them. Result—the material for these things is all bought out of what I call my 'chocolate money,' and it is my fancy to always use brown that being the colour of chocolate, you know."

I wish you could have seen my young friend's bright face as she spoke; and then she merrily told me of her difficulty, at first, in denying herself the luxury in which she had so long indulged. "But I used to say to myself," she said, "Brown chocolate versus brown wool and winseys, which shall it be?" I am glad to say that the two w's gained the day. I leave you to point out the moral of this little story for yourselves, only begging that, if the cap fits, you will put it on.

If you do so, I feel sure there will be "chocolate-money" and "sweet-money" spent where "the returns" will yield far more pleasure and profit.

—The Work at Home.

THINGS are either possible or impossible in any given state of human science; you can easily determine which. If the thing is impossible, you need not trouble yourselves about it; if possible, try for it. It may be "Utopian" to hope for the entire doing away with drunkenness and misery of your city; but the Utopianism is not your business; the work is. It is Utopian to hope to give every child in our land the knowledge of God from its youth; but the Utopianism is not our business; the work is.—Ruskin.

THE PRIMARY LEAFLETS.

International Sunday School Lesson Series.

Prepared especially for very young children in the Sunday Schools of the Church of England in Canada and of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States.

At the request of a large number of Sunday School Superintendents, Teachers, etc., we have decided to discontinue the publication of our "Sunday School Lesson Cards," and to substitute therefor a Primary Series of Sunday School Leaflets. The objections to the "Lesson Cards" were: (1) That they were necessarily so small that not enough of reading matter could be put upon them to make them the only simple for young children; (2) that for the same reason the matter could not be varied enough; and (3) that for most Sunday Schools the price was too high.

The Primary Leaflets now substituted for the "Lesson Cards" will be found not only to meet all these objections, but to possess several other advantages as well. They are so simply written that the very youngest children, even those that cannot read, will take pleasure in the instruction which they contain, and it is thought that by their help parents will undertake to assist their little ones to understand them, both by reading the lessons over to them and by assisting them to commit such portions to memory as may be assigned by the teacher. As they will harmonize in every particular with the lessons of the Senior Leaflets and the Junior Leaflets all the scholars of the school, the youngest as well as the eldest, will thus be pursuing the same course of study, both in the Scriptures and on the subject of the Prayer Book, each one, however, according to his age and his ability.

We shall have much pleasure in sending for inspection samples of these Primary Leaflets to any person desiring them, and invite most careful attention to them.

Special Notice to Superintendents and Teachers.

At the request of many of our patrons we have printed the Primary Leaflet upon paper of superior quality—much better than is now used for the Senior Leaflets and Junior Leaflets. For this reason the price of the Primary Leaflets will be somewhat higher than for the other two series, that is, they will be 10 cents each per annum. We are assured, however, that most schools will prefer to pay the higher price in order to secure paper of a substantial and pleasing character.

If your school is already a subscriber to our "Lesson Cards," we will send you the Primary Leaflets in place of the "Cards" for such extra time as the difference in price will entitle you to. If you do not already take our "Lesson Cards" we shall be pleased to forward you a month's supply of the Primary Leaflets for your young pupils free of charge (that is, if you will kindly send us the number that you will require each Sunday), trusting that when you have once made a trial of them you will desire to make your order a permanent one.

Points to Remember about the Primary Leaflets.

- (1). They are based on The International Scheme of Sunday School Lessons.
- (2). They harmonize entirely with the Senior Leaflets and the Junior Leaflets as published by us and as used by so many thousands of Church Sunday School scholars, both in Canada and in the United States.
- (3). They are specially prepared for even the very youngest children of the school.
- (4). They are so written that parents will take pleasure in making use of them to help their children to prepare their lessons.
- (5). They contain not only the Scripture Lesson, with its Golden Text, but also the Prayer Book Lesson, the Lesson Prayer, and a Helping Verse.
- (6). They are printed on superior paper.
- (7). The price is ten cents per annum.
- (8). A full supply for four consecutive weeks will be sent to you free of charge, in order that you may try how they will work in your classes.
