NOT MUCH CONSOLATION

Electric Lines do not pay on Long Beaches

Promoters and investors interested in electric lines will not find consolation in the last report of the Railroad Commissioners of Massachusetts. Out of 105 companies in that State no less than 65 new and old, declared and paid no dividends. A gentleman of very large experience interested in electric lines operations in Massachusetts recently stated that electric lines do not pay except when operated within densely populated city districts or within a very short radius thereof—like Boston and its immediate suburbs. Judged by this standard electric lines in Ontario outside of those operated within cities, will not be able to earn dividends at least for many years to come when the population of that province becomes more dense than Massachusetts where so many electric lines are not profitable. At present there is in Massachusetts a population of 349 per square mile against approximately 10 per square mile in Ontario, or roughly 34 to 1. Aside from this indication as to Ontario being an unfavorable field for electric line operation, it is interesting to note that Ontario now enjoys three times as large steam railway mileage as Massachusetts to each one thousand of population.—Kingston News and Times, February 25th, 1904.

OBSCLETE TERMS.

Some Old Words That Have Been Consigned to Oblivion.

The number of obsolete words that are to be found in a complete dictionary of the English language is considerably larger than the people have any idea of. The following letter, written by an alleged poet to an editor who had treated his poetry with derision, furnishes some idea of them:

"Sir—You have behaved like an impetuous scoundrel—like those who, envious of any moral standard, carry their ungodly to the height of creating synonymously the fecund words which my polymathic genius uses with liberality to abrogate the tongues of the west—least! Sir, you have crassly parodied my own pet words, though they were trigrams!

"I will not consecrate reproaches. I will induce a veil over the atramental ingratitude which has chambered even my indiscrutable heart. I am silent on the occasion which my coadjutor must have your cross, inanimate fanfare! Draw oblations from the thought if you can have synchronically lost the extirpation of the greatest poet since Milton."

"And yet all these words are to be found in the dictionary.

The Bridal Veil.
The origin of the bridal veil is a disputed question that will probably never be settled. Some see in it nothing more than a milliner's substitute for the usual flowing tresses which half concealed and half revealed a bride's beauty as she knelt at the altar. This opinion is countenanced by the fact that Elizabeth Stuart was not thought to require an artificial veil, as nature had given her an affluence of hair.

Others see its origin in the veil of the Hebrews' marriage ceremony or the yellow "sammeum" of old Roman brides.

A third source is the old "care cloth" of the Anglo-Saxons, a square vestment held over both bride and bridegroom till they received the nuptial benediction. So runs the use of the church of Sarum and the Hereford missal.

Lastly, it has been held to be merely an amplification of the colf which medieval brides wore between the garland and their hair. Margaret Tudor wore this under her coronet on her marriage to the king of Scotland.

Can You See Air?
If air cannot be seen, what is it that we see quivering above a field on a hot summer day or even above a hot stove in the house? That question has puzzled many a head, both old and young. The answer usually given is that it is the heat, but heat cannot be seen, and therefore it is not the heat.

The explanation of the phenomenon is really quite simple, like all such things, when we hear it. As a matter of fact, it is air that we see quivering, but heat makes it visible. The quivering is caused by the upward passage, close by each other, of small currents of air of different temperatures in which the rays of light are irregularly refracted, and this makes the currents visible.

Value of Capital.
Once upon a time two utter bankrupts were considering ways and means of getting needed money. "I know how we can make $9," said one.

"How?" asked the other.
"Raise a dollar note to ten by placing a cipher after the one."
"Where will we raise the dollar?"
"Then the scheme failed for want of capital."
Moral.—The great financial difficulty is in raising the first dollar.

Changed His Ticket.
An entertaining story is told of a railway manager in Wales whose identity was not known to the ticket collector of an outlying station. He was walking through the station door when the collector surprised him with a request for his ticket.

"My face is my ticket," he said, with much pleasantry.
"Oh," said the collector, "my orders are to punch all tickets!"

A Story of Robespierre.
The story is told of Robespierre that at one time, when at the height of his power, a lady called upon him, beseeching him to spare her husband's life. He scornfully refused. As she turned away she happened to tread upon the paw of his pet dog. He turned upon her and asked, "Madam, have you no humanity?"

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. They Know It

Thousands of people throughout the country know that the ordinary remedies for piles—ointments, suppositories and appliances—will not cure. The best of them only bring passing relief.

HOW IT'S DONE.

It's from the stomach the blood is fed and the nerves controlled.

Undigested food ferments for lack of gastric juice.

The fermentation and putrefaction in the stomach and alimentary canal are the main causes of disease.

It upsets the nerves. It poisons the system.

Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill increases the necessary supply of gastric juice in quantity and quality to insure perfect stomach action. It has similar action on bile formation. Anyone can prove this for himself by addressing WILSON-FYLE Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., for free sample.
