THE DEATH OF THE BRAVE.

How sleep the brave, who sink to rest By all their country's wishes blest! When spring, with dewy fingers cold, Returns to deck their hallow'd mould, She there shall dress a sweeter sod Than fancy's feet have ever trod.

By fairy hands their knell is rung. By forms unseen their dirge is sung: There Honor comes, a pilgrim grey To bless the turf that wraps their cley;

And Freedom shall awhile repair,
To dwell a weeping hermit there.

Advised Filipinos to Nab a High Official and Try Him on the Charge.

Washington, August 17.-The war department has made public the Filipino correspondence captured some months ago' by Gen. Funston's command in Luzon. One letter is from Dr. Montague R. Leverson, of Prooklyn, N. Y., to G. Apacible, in which the war with the Filipinos is characa

TALKING FOOLISHNESS

Opinion of the Mayor Respecting Ald Liddy's Recent Interview.

"Ald. Liddy is talking foolishness," said the Mayor, when speaking with reference to that gentleman's arraignment of the Chief Magistrate and the the council, as published in Wednes day's Planet.

"John knows as well as I do that the council will back the preperty committee up in any action, which they may take regarding the repression of the hog pen nuisance, Moreover, Mr. Liddy should not forget the good old adage that 'many men have many minds.' Too many letters have been written to these companies about this nuisance. I hope that the pro-perty committee will not lose sight of of the fact that 'actions' speak louder than words.' They may rest assured that the council and myself will not be found lacking the courage to assist them in the undertaking. "I see that Ald. A TOWN WIPED OUT

Five Hundred People Are Left Home less by Flames in British

Vancouver, B. C., August 17 .- A special from Grand Forks says the neighboring town of Columbia, B. C., has been practically wiped out by fire, which started in the Escalet hotel. The town had a population of 500, but had no water supply. Dynamite was used in blowing up buildings in the hope of stopping the flames, but it was unavailing. The loss is estimated at over $100,000.

ger and Fatigue. There have been many instances in which fights have been lost or won, according to the number and condition of the horses engaged, says The Golden Penny. When the siege of Plevna commenced the Russians were bringing all their stores and food from Sistova by the aid of 66,000 draft-horses, and at the end of the siege it was found that no less than 22,000 of them had died from hard work and exhaustion. The want of rest and food tells on a horse more than on a man, for in the case of the latter there are stimulating influences of patriotism, the glory of victory and other feelings which are non-existent in the nature of a horse. Quite half the horses in England sent the Crimea never returned, most of them having died from hard work and starvation. Indeed, only about 500 were killed in action. So re-duced and starved have the poor beasts become on occasions of kind that they have been known to eat one another's tails and to gnaw man 60,000 cavalry horses, and on The trainmen claim that with the ad- his return in . six months he could only muster 16,0000. More than half the horses which were engaged in our Egyptian war of 1882 disabled; 600 of these were killed, and only fifty-three slain in action. In the Afghan war of 1838 it is said that 3,000 camels and half the horses engaged were lost in three months. It will thus be seen that actual fighting does not claim so many horses as starvation or overwork. Defective shoeing, sore backs, want of food and rest and other similar causes go far towards rendering horses useless for practical warfare One more and important cause needs careful attention, and it is the danger of injury horses run when being shipped across the sea. They are in constant motion, they continually fall-many of them to be trampled to death-and the rest become frightened, kick and batter one another about, and are rendered useless. As an instance of this, it was found that one regiment on the way to the Peninsular war was deprived of just half its horses on the voyage.

THE DAMASCUS DISCOVERY. Hopes of Finding the Original New

Among the books found in the mos que at Damascus, says The London Daily Mail, is a series of ten books, written in beautiful gilt Cuffs, ginning with the smallest-sized Kor-an ever seen, and ending in one as large as the one in the Native Library in Cairo. Nazem Pasha has called a military and civil committee, and made them take an oath that not a single piece terized as piracy on the part of the of paper, shall leave the room in which they are kept. The books are kept in sacks and boxes, and every evening every member of the committee must fix his seal to these, and vised to bring about the capture of tee must fix his seal to these, and some high official of the United they cannot be opened unless all the members are present.

Mrs. Martin in Afghanistan.

Mrs. Martin, wife of Frank Martin, engineer to the Ameer of Afghanistan, is one of the very few white women who have lived in the capithat strange country. has lately arrived at Simla and gives some interesting facts about the court of Afghanistan. She says the Ameer is kind and courteous to the English and does his best to make things pleasant for them. There were only four other Europeans in Kabul when Mrs. Martin was there. The house in which she lived was formerly a herem and is inclosed by a huge wall with strong gates. A guard of 15 of the Ameer's sepors surrounds it day and night and by the Ameer's orders no member of the ousehold is allowed out without an scort. Mrs. Martin took a bicycle to Kabul and the first weman to wheel in its streets. The was struck with admiration and, having ordered a costly ma-chine from England; sent for Mrs. Martin to teach her to ride it, but after one or two attempts she grew weary of trying to balance herself, and the bicycle has been an ornament of the harem ever since.

Who Will She Marry? Queen Wilhelmina has again been betrothed by the gossip mongers, and again the bridegroom chasen for her had to join the now long-fist of rejected suitors. Her subjects are growing anxious about their young ruler. They would like to see her comfortably settled down or rather comfortably settled down or rather settled to their satisfaction and feel assured that the succession to the throne was secure. But the youthful sovereign has a great eye to effect. She likes to be an object of interest and it is perhaps pardonable if she enjoys the knowledge that the eye of every eligible prince is fixed upon her It is believed to be tolerably certain notwithstanding all the apparent mystery, that her mind is fully made up and that the tall young German, Prince William of Weid, will be her consort.

Lizzie Borden Snubbed. Lizzie A. Borden, of Fall River, whose father and mother were murdered in 1892, is the subject of much comment. By the death of her parents she became heir to the Andrew J. Borden building at the corner of Anawan and South Main streets. One of the rooms In the building was occupied by the local branch of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of which Miss Borden was, before the tragedy, an active member. While Miss Borden was in Taunton jail the society joined with the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in passing resolutions of sympathy. Since then her case has been rigidly excluded from society debate, and several of the members have snubbed her. She felt that she should not put up with insults from her tenants, and accordingly the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union has been compelled to seek quarters elsewhere.-Springfield Republican.
