HOME VAPOR BATHS.

Two Ways by Which Effective Results Can Be Obtained.

Sponging with salt water is often recommended as a tonic for delicate persons. A pound of coarse salt is dissolved in four gallons of water and the body well sponged with the solution. After drying brisk friction should be applied over the whole surface.

A vapor bath can be given by seating the person in a cane bottom chair, pinning a blanket around the neck and letting it fall to the ground on all sides. Under the blanket place a large pan two-thirds full of boiling water. Into this plunge hot bricks, one at a time (two or three will be enough). In a short time the patient will be in a perspiration. Dry with warm towels and put her to bed. This is an effective treatment for a bad cold if the sufferer can be kept warm the next day.

A vapor bath can be given in bed with the aid of a teakettle, a spirit lamp and two chairs. Substitute blankets for the cotton sheets, then make a tent of the bedclothes by raising them over the chairs, laid sideways on the bed, and introduce the spout of the teakettle under the tent. The kettle can be kept boiling by placing the lighted lamp underneath it.

A bath should not be given immediately after a full meal; but, if the strength is much reduced, some light refreshment before it will help the invalid to bear the fatigue with less exhaustion. Baths are an active remedial agency, and for that reason can easily be misapplied. They should never be given in serious illness without the sanction of the doctor in charge of the case, and his directions should be asked and followed in the matter of temperature and duration.

WASHABLE BRUSH BAG.

A Dressing Table Convenience Made of Two Handkerchiefs.

From two fancy handkerchiefs, about thirteen inches square, a nice little washable brush bag to lie on the dressing table may be constructed. Fold in the middle of each a box plait about two inches wide, and at both sides another plait, so that the width is reduced to about six inches. If you pass an iron over the plait it will stay in iron over the plaiting done.

Take each handkerchief separately and stitch across the box plait only at one end, about an inch from the edge. The end where this is done is for the opening. Now lay the handkerchiefs exactly over each other, right sides out. Commence about two inches from the opening end and an inch or so within the edge and sew down the side across the plaited end and to a corresponding point at the opposite side. Arrange your seam so as not to spoil the embroidery or printed pattern. For instance, it may run almost invisibly along a row of hemstitching. Turn back the top corners with a bow of ribbon and add another bow at the bottom of the bag. The opening spreads a little owing to the outer plait being left unstitched.

FOR MILITIA PURPOSES.

Peterboro Refuses Site For New Normal School There.

Peterboro, Aug. 18.—The Board of Education last night decided to refuse the request of the City Council and the Provincial Education Department to give up the Collegiate Institute site in Central Park, which the Ontario Government has selected as a location for the Normal School.

The Dominion Government has plans under way for the erection of a $10,000 armory on the property lying next to the Collegiate Institute site, and there is an agreement between the Military Department at Ottawa, and the Board of Education that the grounds in connection with the armory and Collegiate Institute are to be common property for drilling purposes, both to be at the disposal of the local militia corps, and the Collegiate Institute Cadets.

INDIANS SURRENDER LAND.

Title of Ninety Thousand Square Miles Is Given to Ontario.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—After two years canvassing the wilderness of Ontario, north of the Height of Land, a treaty has been made with the Indians as far as James Bay and the Albany River.

There are about three thousand Indians in the region and they surrender their rights to 90,000 square miles of land. The Government undertakes to establish a reserve for each band of a square mile for each family of five. In addition there will be an annual payment of $4 per head each year. The treaty was made necessary by the opening up of the country by the G.T.P. and the proposed lines, to James Bay. The title of the land goes to the Province of Ontario.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS.

Bridant's Lawyer Took Letters—Dr. ing Woman Took Pills to Please Her Husband.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—There were some rather startling developments at the resumed hearing yesterday morning of evidence in reference to the charge of causing the death of Mrs. Agnes Bridant, preferred against Edmund Bridant, husband of the deceased woman, and Mrs. Miller of the De Voss Medicine Co. They are accused of having provided her with certain medicines which led to her death.

Mrs. Villard of Kingston, mother of the deceased woman, stated in reply to the Crown Attorney that Mr. Neville, the male prisoner's lawyer, had taken away some of the letters at the rooms where the Bridants were staying. Crown Attorney Corley at once demanded that the documents should be handed over, the Magistrate also insisted and stopped the case until they were forthcoming. After half an hour's adjournment they were produced, and Mr. Neville had to submit to censure for what he had done.

The only witness was the mother of the deceased, who had to undergo a painful examination in regard to the last moments of her daughter. The latter, it appeared, had stated on her dying bed that she took the pills to please her husband, who did not wish her to have children. Mr. Neville sought to show that a man named Driscoll caused the husband to be jealous, but the witness said she could not throw any light on the matter.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—Charles Darragh was arrested yesterday at Port Burwell on a charge of having passed a bogus cheque for $15 on the T. Eaton Co. purporting to be signed by his brother, A. T. Darragh, manager of the Canadian Show Case Co. at Toronto Junction.

REVEALS FATHER'S SECRETS.

Daughter of Bank Wrecker Stenaland Tells All She Knows.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Inga Sandberg, daughter of Paul O. Stenaland, wrecker of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, is said to have told the authorities all she knows of her father's affairs, especially those relating to Mrs. Leone Langdon Key, the statuesque and dashing brunette to whom her father was so generous.

"I do not know where my father has gone," she said, "and I do not know much about his financial affairs. I knew he spent much money on women. He installed in his home Leone Langdon Key, whom I introduced to him, and this compelled me to go to Madison and teach music."

There were two more tragedies Thursday as a result of the Stenaland Bank trouble. Gustav Turckhardt, a depositor, went mad and was locked up. Mrs. Mary Jara, another depositor, also became crazed and was locked up to prevent her from killing her children.

Four Boys Admit Murder.

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—With a coolness that amazed the police, Fred Peterson, William Meares, Walter Westwood and Frank McLaughlin, four youths still in their teens, Thursday night confessed that they conspired the gang of four who committed the series of hold-ups which culminated in the killing of Fred Mullineux on the Ocean boulevard last Sunday night. Peterson admitted that he fired the shot which killed Mullineux when the latter resisted robbery.

Sailors on Strike.

That English soldiers or sailors should strike for more pay in a way such as we are accustomed to in trades sounds impossible, but such things have occurred, the last time being in April, 1797, when the sailors demanded higher wages and literally struck, otherwise mutinying. The admiralty agreed to meet their demands, but not doing so at once, the sailors aboard the London struck or mutinied again, and for ordering the mutinying to fire, were by killing men. Admiral stoppers and his captain were made prisoners by the sailors. On May 10 a special act was passed granting the increased pay, and the king pardoned the mutineers.—London Telegraph.

Natural Spectacles.

Many birds are provided with natural spectacles, a transparent membrane called the third eyelid. This third eyelid when not in use lies folded in the inner corner of the eye. Two muscles work it, spreading it over the cornea or folding it up again much more cleverly than a man can put on or take off his spectacles. But for its third eyelid the eagle could not look at the sun. The spectacle bird belongs to Chile. Its Latin name is Ursus ornatus. It is black, and around its eyes pale rings are drawn which have exactly the appearance of a pair of goggles.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—keeps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will find your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich red blood, that is invigorating to the blood vessels and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's Discovery cures all blood humors, as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extra-ordinary value, and address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. W. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells you what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonial" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

How to Select Gloves—Automobile Coats—New Handkerchiefs.

An experienced saleswoman gives these hints about selecting gloves: "The best plan is to test the kid by stretching it. Take the side seams between the thumbs and fingers and pull. If the kid is soft and pliable, the pores small, even and not especially noticeable and the glove immediately takes on its original shape, it gives evidence of not only being elastic and therefore full of new life, but of being a fairly good quality."

Natural colored linen coats for auto-mobiling with fancy collar and cuffs. Decorations of soutache braid are worn.

GOWN OF ECRU SHANTUNG.

Beautifully comfortable for summer tours. The new silk rain coats lined with rubber are smart, but very warm for the dog days.

White centers with narrow colored borders represent the latest vagary in handkerchiefs, a lace border having for the moment been regarded as out of place for day wear. Motifs, medallions and diamonds of fine malines lace are, however, inset into the corners of the handkerchiefs, while in the case of those destined for mourning wear incrustations of chintilly lace are considered in the best taste.

Dog collars are fashionable for evening wear in jet, pearls, precious and semiprecious stones. Rose quartz, pink jacinth, cut crystal and mother-of-pearl are appropriate for young debutantes in collars, necklaces or beads; also pale blue and pink bead collars are in vogue.

The tailored suit pictured is of ecru shantung. The skirt is plaited at the waistband and trimmed at the bottom with entre deux of lace and tucks. The little coat is incrustated with the Irish lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Embroidered Lingerie Still Popular. Shooting For Suits.

The lingerie belts this summer are very elaborate. Those of embroidered muslin and linen are supplemented with bands of velvet that can be easily detached when the belt needs cleaning. A very dainty affair is made on a stiff Fined lining of plaited embroidered silk. The top and bottom edges are trimmed with valenciennes lace and the plait held down with crossbars of insertion.

New sheetings for suits come already bleached instead of half bleached, as we have been used to finding them. There is a distinct style in top coats, and pongee has come back to favor for these wraps. It may be lined or unlined. Most of these coats are relieved about the neck and wrists with a touch of bright color or black suede used in the same fashion. For traveling and autoing a coat of this kind is invaluable made loose, but not full, and reaching to about the hem of the dress skirt.

Bloused petticoats of pink and blue lawn for wearing under sheer gowns are in the shops.

The bathing suit illustrated is of fine hard twisted blue serge. Each ruffle of the double skirt is edged with black soutache braid. The blouse is box plaited and attached to the skirt. There is a square neck, and the sleeves are short and puffed and edged with braid. JUDIC CHOLLET.

but not at the price.

None better at any price.

THE BOX COUCH.

Make It Dust Proof and Save Trouble With Your Gowns.

The box couch has long ago proved its convenience. Either as an emergency bed or clothespress it has no equal—indeed, it is a piece of furniture that few housekeepers can dispense with.

As absolute perfection is not yet come to earth, the box couch is not exempt from flaws. About the only serious one, however, is the persistence with which dust will sift inside, no matter how closely shut is the lid.

One clever woman has overcome this so much to her own satisfaction that her remedy is worth trying.

Over the lining she tacked white kitchen tablecloth, with the shining side turned in. A strip about two inches wide was also fastened all around the edge, so that when the lid was down it acted as a close flap over the opening.

The bottom of the box was then lined with a heavy yellow paper, which may be easily removed and freshened. These simple precautions are marvelous dust defiers and make it possible to use the couch to hold gowns or even white waists without their being wrapped, as was formerly necessary.

Some people worry so much about to-morrow that they forget all about to-day.

SERVING AT DINNER.

Everything at table is passed at the left hand of the person seated and not at the right hand.

A servant should not ask a guest to have a second portion of any dish, but should bring it at once if asked.

A tablespoon and a large fork should be placed by a servant in the entree dishes previous to handling them.

Vegetables should be handed by a servant a second time at a family dinner, but only once at a dinner party unless specially requested.

When a large dinner party is given the guests should be helped in the order in which they are seated, commencing with the lady seated at the host's right hand.

In the family circle the mistress of the house is served first, then the daughters according to their ages, the master of the house and the sons according to their ages.

When a fork or spoon is asked for it should not be handed on a waiter, but placed on the right or left hand, as required. When a tumbler or other dish is asked for it is handed on a small waiter.
