BRITAIN'S NOTE ON ALLIED DEBTS

London, Aug. 2.—The British Government's note to Great Britain's Allies in the great war, reminding them that they owe Great Britain money and that she has a right to ask for payment, has thrown wide open the most delicate topic in international politics. The discussion of the question of debts owed to Great Britain had been studiously avoided by all concerned, apparently with a view, on the part of the creditor nation, that the time for grasping that question might most conveniently be indefinitely postponed.

The most cheerful view of the effect of the Earl of Balfour's note, discoverable today was that it will afford an understanding all around of what are the policies and intentions of the Governments concerned. It is alleged that, next to reputation, or an equivalent plea of inability to pay, uncertainty is probably the worse damage which Europe and the world of business could continue to suffer.

Policies To Be Made Clear Within a few days—The next week's conference between Premier Lloyd George and Poincare, the policies of both Britain and France should be made clear. The French position in one vital respect already is plain—that all European post-war indebtedness is linked together with any solution of the situation must depend upon what Germany may be willing or be forced to do.

As it is understood here from the Paris correspondents of the London newspapers, France considers that any concessions to Germany in the matter of reparations, and in help by a foreign loan, should be balanced by similar concessions to France. Newspaper opinion is divided on the point whether Mr. Lloyd George's conference with M. Poincare will now be confined to a plan for dealing with Germany, or whether Lord Balfour's note will not force considerations of the wider field of inter-Allied debts. There is much curiosity among the public as to what important members of the Cabinet were responsible for the strong line Lord Balfour's note takes since it is believed there is considerable differences of opinion in the Cabinet.

Also there is curiosity as to how far the advice of Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, contributed to the forming of the note, since Sir Auckland's visit home was supposed to be mainly for a conference on the United States debt.

Reuter's Limited, says today: "It is stated that representatives of American financial interests who happen to be in London, have expressed to Great Britain to cancel debts owing to her been acted on the United States would—probably not immediately, but after the general elections—have been morally compelled to follow the British lead."

Reuter's also says it is the view in allied financial quarters here that the only immediate possibility of paying debts is by obtaining money from Germany, and if Germany is unable to pay the moratorium asked for by Germany must be given to others.

Meet Cold Reception Washington, Aug 2.—Suggestion by the British Government in its note to various European nations that there be a general cancellation of the war debts, met with a cold reception, today, from Senate leaders Republicans and Democrats alike.

"We never will," was the emphatic statement made by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, Chairman of the Finance Committee, which has charge of all fiscal policies so far as the Senate is concerned, and other Senators in private statements were, for the most part, equally hostile to

COULD HARDLY MOVE IN HER BED

Eight Boxes of "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Completely Relieved Her.

MADAM J. RICHER

Labelle, P.Q., April 18th, 1921

"It is my duty to tell you and publish to all what your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives' has done for me.

I suffered with Rheumatism for ten months; could hardly move in bed, and was miserable all the time. I tried several physicians and took many remedies, but they left me at the same place, in bed and suffering, the Rheumatism was so bad.

Finally started in taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and continued the treatment regularly as I found myself getting better. After using eight boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' (which cost only $4.) I am completely well without a trace of Rheumatism."

the British suggestion. Especially antagonistic were Senators of the "old irreconcilable" group, and Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking Democrat member of the Foreign Relations Committee and its former chairman, was quoted as saying that any such plan appeared to be without a possibility of United States' support.

"The question of Great Britain cancelling her debts is one for herself," said Senator McCumber. "What she does with respect to her debtors is a matter for herself. Our policy towards ours is our own affair. We never will consent to cancellation of the war debt, Great Britain's or any other nation's, in my opinion."

State Department officials again declined to comment on the British note saying they wished, before discussing it, to study the text of the note which is being forwarded to Washington by the United States Embassy at London.

ST. ANNE DE BEAUPRE

Although tentative plans had been made for the immediate reconstruction of the Basilica of St. Anne de Beupre, destroyed by fire last March, it is now learned that nothing will be done until after the collection has been taken up in all the Catholic churches of Canada on the first Sunday in September.

It is the intention of the Redemptorist Fathers to make the new temple one of the finest in the world.

The Fathers have offers of plans from some of the leading architects in Europe and America, but it is unlikely that any decision in this connection will be reached before early next year.

SAYS ALLIES NOW FACING A BIG CRISIS

Europe's back is against the wall Myron T. Herick American Ambassador to France declared upon his arrival from his European post. He likens the present situation to the position of the Allies when General Haig's stirring message went forth to the world.

"Following Haig's call" he explained there was the complete mobilization of all forces to combat the invader and the result was victory. There will have to be some such mobilization in the present crisis if Europe is to be saved from financial disaster."

In describing the present condition of France the Ambassador said there is practically no unemployment and that on July 1 the government was paying unemployment allowances to but 4,000 people out of a total population of about 40,000,000. The people are undiscouraged and uncompromising. Their crops this year are better than was expected but not so big as the banner crop of 1921, he said.

The French are reluctant about advertising their virtues," he continued. "Despite the financial depression they have spent $3 billions of francs in restoring the devastated areas this while awaiting for the too long delayed reparations payments."
