HOW TO BUY A WATCH.

Price alone sells few watches. It's what you get for the money that sells them—in other words, Value. The point on which value depends is, first, the experience of the manufacturer, and next, the integrity of the local dealer. The thing to know is—How long has the firm been selling watches? (Duley's have for 25 years.)

YOU NEED A WATCH.

No matter what your vocation, a good watch is as indispensable as the clothing you wear, if you would be counted a success. We make a specialty of Good Watches, and at prices that will surprise you, when you realize the wonderful value in a Real timekeeper.

Likewise we do Watch Repairing, promptly and well.

PARSNIPS,
TURNIPS,
POTATOES.SOPER & MOORE*At the House

Petitions were presented by Mr. Devereaux from Haystack, P.B., on Temperance Reform; by Mr. Woodford, from Colliers, on the subject of fishery rules; by Mr. Abbott, from Bonavista, protesting against the use of cod-traps; by Mr. Stone, from Catalina, for a road, and from several places dealing with public matters; by Mr. Currie, on behalf of the Speaker, from Victoria, in the District of Carbonear, on Temperance and road matters; and from Lamaline for water service, and Allan's Island for a breakwater.

The Bills respecting Municipal affairs, Salaries and Train Ferry Service, were read a third time. The Bills relating to Conception Bay and United Towns Electrical Companies, were deferred while in Committee, and the Pilotage Bill passed with slight amendments.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Revenue Bill.

Mr. Lloyd rose and gave an able, concise and telling criticism of the Budget. That the overflowing prosperity referred to by the Minister of Finance was beyond conception, in view of what the Budget Speech and Revenue Bill contained, and that even if there was any prosperity evident it was an extraordinary feature that with the revenues such as the country never saw before, that the Minister of Finance should be asking for over a quarter of a million dollars a year more for taxation. In fact the present Minister had the unprecedented record of asking for more than any predecessor. He was surprised that the Minister of Finance, abetted by the Leader of the Government, should have the unmitigated gall to tell the House and the country of the remarkable prosperity and in the one breath ask for such an extraordinary increase in the revenue. The situation was so illuminating, he said, that it brought back the whole policy of the Government. He dealt effectively with the much talked-of mandate given the Government to do all they had done. He said that the conditions under which that mandate was given by the people, were not stated and he pointed out clearly that the Premier, in his manifesto promised to build branch railways without one cent of extra taxation. The people who were deluded by the false promise of giving something for nothing, now find that the mandate is going to cut every man, woman and child in the island $1.00 a year. The people were told twelve months ago that after reducing taxation $350,000 there would be a surplus of $350,000. But the facts are that the Government was $300,000 to the back, or $450,000 out in their reckoning. He elucidated how the poorer class of people were taxed heavier than the well-to-do, that more thought was given to the "champagne charlies" in the imposition of the extra taxation than to the little luxuries of the fishermen. He then grappled with the question of balance in trade and the difficulty the Government would have floating a loan on their debentures, owing to the stringency of the money market.

The Prime Minister congratulated the previous speaker on his speech, because he knew, he said, that the hon. member for Trinity spoke from principle and from conviction, and congratulated him upon his far-seeing political abilities, as he said the Government would have had 33 members returned but for Mr. Lloyd. Continuing, the Prime Minister got off the same honey-combed speech about railways and docks of medicine as was heard from him twice already this session, but as was pointed out to him by the hon. member for Trinity, he convinced nobody.

Mr. Coaker followed, pointing out to the Premier, who boasted so much of his majority, that whilst they had more members, that the Opposition party had over three thousand votes or the majority of the people. He then referred to some of the telegraph extension work. He knew of poles not being delivered, and that drunkenness was very evident among those engaged at the work. Regarding the Loggers' Bill, he said that although it passed unanimously in the House, not a man in the Upper House had the courage to introduce it. The reason, he said, was that one company did not favor the Bill, and he graphically described how the logging work was treated by that company. He read letters that came from the men themselves telling of the hardships they had to undergo and all the winter had to sleep on brin bags and boughs. In conclusion he emphasized that his members and the fishermen would agitate for the abolition of the Legislative Council.

The Colonial Secretary got off a lengthy eulogy of the Prime Minister telling mainly of his humane principles. He made a brief reference to the Budget and believed that the fishermen were anxious to take their share of increased taxation.

Messrs. Jennings, Winsor, Targett and Stone made very practical speeches of how the increased taxation, particularly the inglorious ten per-cent, on all dutiable goods, is going to affect the fishermen. The clock had just reached midnight, and much more business was to be gone on with, when Mr. Devereaux took the floor. He made an attack on Mr. Coaker, but the attack was permeated with eulogiums—that he should not have the right to speak of fishermen from the standpoint of the F.P.U., while in the House. Owing to the lateness of the hour, Mr. Kent reserved his remarks and the Bill passed the Committee stage.

The Public Service Bill was read a second time and then the Prime Minister gave notice of suspension of the rules.

The House adjourned at 2 a.m. to meet again Monday afternoon.

TERRA NOVA RETURNED WITH TOWAWAYS.—The S. S. Terra Nova which left for Channel yesterday morning returned about an hour later and several stowaways that were discovered on board.

BUY BRUCE'S SEEDS

The most successful of the market gardeners in Canada, many of them customers for two generations, and some for three, buy Bruce's seeds, because ever since this business was established by us thirty-four years ago, they found they could rely on them in every way, getting better results than from any other seeds.

To these men quality and germination is the big consideration, as their bread and butter depends on their crops.

We would say to the amateur and also the farmer, who are not customers,

"It Will Pay You To Buy Bruce's Seeds" for it takes the same time and trouble to plant and care for poor seed as for good, and poor seed means dissatisfaction and loss for a surety.

Write for our catalogue illustrated and descriptive catalogue of Vegetable, Farm and Flower Seeds, Plants, Bulbs, Poultry Supplies and Garden Tools and Implements, etc. It will be mailed FREE to all applicants. WRITE TO-DAY.

LONDON, To-day.

An air of confidence marked the gathering of delegates at the tariff reform league yesterday, when the report showed substantial progress all along the line. Joseph Chamberlain, who is now in retirement, sent a message reiterating his confidence in the ultimate success of the policy of the League. In regard to the policy, the general consensus of opinion is expressed by resolution, which were carried into effect, was that tariff reformers should co-operate with the Unionists in an altered method of dealing with the policy, but should not slacken their efforts to push fully the policy of the League. Sir Gilbert Parker, in proposing the re-election of the Treasurer, attacked the Government for its bribery and corruption; while the masses paid innuence for fourpence in every department of national life, the policy of the tariff reformers was to check wastage, defend workmen and enlarge workshops. He believed before long a Government would be elected which would be enabled to carry out these ideals.

LONDON, To-day.

After declaring that there was much to be said from an American point of view that American shipping is entitled to favourable treatment in the matter of Panama Canal tolls, the Chronicle concludes its editorial as follows, in dealing with President Wilson's message to Congress on Thursday: President Wilson's actions required immense moral courage and so will require great courage for American people to give up the advantage which they feel themselves entitled in order to meet moral obligation of this kind. There can be no doubt they will follow the lead President has given so that when the Canal is opened next year it may be opened without any reservation marring the good will with which we ourselves and other countries will receive the finishing work. The Post characterizes President Wilson's message as being in accordance with best traditions of his office. The paper adds that it is a noble appeal and will live in history.

Sealers Will Come Over Land.

The S. S. Bonaventure, which was expected to go north for sealers, has abandoned the trip, owing to the ice conditions, all the harbors being tightly blocked with the icefloes. This will necessitate a great hardship on the northern sealers, who are going to the ice in the steel ships, as they will have to come over land, entailing a considerable amount of travel under adverse conditions.

Reids' Boats.

The Bruce arrived at Port aux Basques at 11.50 a.m. to-day. The Ethie left Petit Fort at 12.55 p.m. to-day, bound inward. The Glencoe left Fortune at 8.30 a.m. to-day, coming east. The Lintrose has not been reported since leaving North Sydney at 7 p.m. yesterday.

SEALS REPORTED.—Messrs. J. & F. Moore had a message from their agent this morning, informing them that old and young seals had struck in at Cape Bauld to-day.
