The Late ex-Emperor.

The death of the ex-Emperor of the French has caused unusual commotion in the old world, and no little excitement in the new. Queen Victoria has sent an autograph letter to Chiselhurst, and a telegram of condolence has been received from the Pope. The Italian Government learned of the death of the ex-Emperor with the deepest regret, as it was impossible to forget that Napoleon had contributed greatly to secure the unity of Italy.

The Prince and Princess of Wales remain in strict retirement at their country seat at Sandringham for one week, as a mark of respect to the memory of the ex-Emperor. The British Court will go into mourning from the 14th to the 24th of January. The Municipal Council of Rome has adopted resolutions of condolence, and letters of condolence from the Emperor of Russia and the King of Italy have also been received.

Mr. Benedetti arrived at Chiselhurst, and was received by the Empress, M. Olivier and Marshall McMahon are expected to-day. Princess Murat and suite arrived on Saturday afternoon.

The remains of Napoleon III. will probably be buried on Tuesday, under the seal of the family, in the Chapel of the Roman Catholic Chapel at Chiselhurst. It is said that the French Government will permit the final interment of Napoleon's remains in France if the funeral is made strictly private, and deceased is buried as ex-Emperor not as Emperor. The ceremonies must be simply of a religious character. The President is understood to have conferred with the Minister of the Interior and the Prefect of Police with the object of preventing the funeral, if it takes place in France, being made the opportunity of a political manifestation.

Great numbers of people from France are expected at the funeral. The south-eastern and Northern railways of France have reduced the rates of fare for the benefit of the poorer classes desirous of attending the ceremony.

An impression is gaining ground that the Emperor died from the effects of chloroform, administered to assuage pain.

The first subscription list for a monument to the Emperor Napoleon, which opened by the Presse of Milan, already exceeds $5,000, and that paper reports that subscriptions are pouring in from all quarters. National subscriptions for the same object have been opened at Venice. A despatch to the agent of the Associated Press from a friend of the Imperial Family of Chiselhurst, gives the following description of the scene:—The remains of the late Emperor have been placed in a coffin. The corpse is dressed in the uniform of a marshal. The upper lip is bare, the moustache having been cut off to facilitate the taking of a plaster cast. The beard, which remains, is brown and bushy. The features look stern and care-worn, and have an expression of pain. The grand coronet of the Legion of Honor lies across his breast. The hands, which are ingloved, are disposed in an easy and natural manner, the right clasping the left. On the fourth finger of the left hand is a ring with several diamonds, which was placed there by the Empress. A small silver cross of exquisite workmanship lies on the breast, and on the corpse are placed three sprigs of holly. Over the head a crown of violets is suspended. At the foot of the coffin is the brass camp bedstead in which the Emperor died. The furniture of the room, as well as of the whole mansion, is simple and unostentatious. The body will lie in state on Tuesday in the entrance hall of the chapel. The general public will not be admitted to view the remains. No change has been made in the time and place of the funeral and burial as last announced. The ceremonies will probably begin about noon on Wednesday. The Empress is overwhelmed with sorrow, and her prostration is so great as to alarm her attendants. The Prince Imperial does all in his power to comfort her. Although none but relatives and intimate friends of the deceased are admitted, Chiselhurst is crowded with visitors.

The number of emigrants who embarked at Liverpool for America during the past year was 164,000. The trial of the Tichborne claimant, for alleged perjury, will commence on the 13th of April. The bill of exceptions to the conviction of Edward S. Stokes is to be brought successively before every one of the thirty-one judges of the Supreme Court, in the hope that some judge may be found to favor the condemned murderer, and grant him a new trial. Evidence is now being taken at Ottawa for the Mixed Commission respecting the responsibility or otherwise of the Canadian Government for the Alban's raid. Sir John Macdonald and Hon. H. L. Langevin are expected to appear. Sir George held in

PROSPECTUS FOR 1873,

SIXTH YEAR.

THE ALDINE

An illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A representative and champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Also each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price and character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos besides!

Art Department.

Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last Fall, when THE ALDINE assumed its present noble proportions and representative character, the edition was more than doubled during the past year, proving that the American public appreciate, and will support, a sincere effort in the cause of Art. The publishers are anxious to justify the ready confidence thus demonstrated, have exerted themselves to the utmost to develop and improve their plan, and the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even the most sanguine friends of THE ALDINE.

The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent artists in America.

In addition, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success, and greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs or copies of any kind.

The quarterly tinted plates, for 1873, will reproduce four of John S. Davis' imimitable etchings, appropriate to the four seasons. These plates, appearing in the issues for January, April, July, and October, would be alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

Premium Chromos for 1873

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive, without additional charge, a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. Hill, the eminent English painter. The picture, entitled "The Village Belle," and "Crossing the Moor," are 14x20 inches—also printed from 25 different plates, requiring 25 impressions and eight to perfect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $30 per pair in the art stores. As it is the determination of its conductors to keep THE ALDINE out of the reach of its competitors in every department, the chromos will be found correspondingly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every subscriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the samples furnished the agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this grade, free to the subscribers to a five dollar periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of Art, and, considering the unprecedented cheapness of the price for THE ALDINE itself, the marvel falls little short of a miracle, even to those best acquainted with the achievements of inventive genius and improved mechanical appliances. For illustrations of these chromos, see November issue of THE ALDINE.

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT

will continue under the care of Mr. Richard Henry Stoddard, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will endeavor to have the Literature of THE ALDINE always in keeping with its artistic attractions.

TERMS—$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free.

THE ALDINE will, therefore, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers, and not handed to the local agent, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of James Sutton & Co.

AGENTS WANTED

Any person, wishing to act permanently as a local agent, will receive full and prompt information by applying to
