HEALTH OF SCHOOL GIRLS.

"Parents little imagine how great and prevalent is the injury done to girls between the ages of 10 and 16 by overapplication to study," said a prominent New York physician when addressing the school board recently.

For reasons connected with the siological structure of women it is of the utmost importance that alt this period, when the peculiarly feminine period, when the peculiar feminine organs are begining to assume their functions, the nervous system should not be exhausted by over-exertion and anxiety caused by school work and examinations. Hosts of pale, weak, poorly-developed girls have been restored to health and strength by the use of

THE COMING INTERNATIONAL YACHT RACES.

London, Sept. 19.—The English papers, says a correspondent, have been printing ridiculous dispatches regarding the international yacht races. The Daily Mail, which a short time ago seriously announced that a number of Americans had gone mad because they could not discover the Shamrock's lines, today pictures the whole of New York in an almost similar condition, saying: "We are the most emotional people in the world," and, in addition to the yacht races, Admiral Dewey's coming has made the people "frenzied with excitement." The English people take all this literally, and many unpleasant comments over our lack of control are heard. Most of the English papers today have specials speaking approvingly of the Shamrock's trial yesterday, but the Times' correspondent cables that it compared favorably with the Columbia's performance under similar weather conditions.

JOHN KRUGER QUIT HIS JOB

Another Asylum Patient Escapes This Morning-Sinclair Not Yet Retaken.

John Kruger, a patient at the London Asylum for the Insane, was left at work in a corn field on the asylum farm this morning, and growing tired of his job slipped away out of the grounds unobserved. His absence was noticed shortly, and the guards set out in search of him. At noon he had not been found. Kruger is considered harmless, and, unless questioned, might pass for sane. He is about 55 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, has full beard, turning gray, and wore a dark coat, striped trousers, and a large straw hat.

Donald Sinclair, who escaped from the asylum yesterday, has not yet been found. Sinclair is apt to be troublesome, and the guards are making a the city on the asylum side road, and there completely lost track of

HE WANTED A MARRIAGE LICENSE

And Went to an Undertaking Estab lishment to Get It.

"I want a marriage license, please," The speaker was a young Middlesex farmer, bronzed and stalwart. He reddened a little beneath the tan, but looked the undertaker maniully in the face. He explained that the bride-tobe was waiting for him at one of the city hotels, and he didn't want to lose any more time than necessary.

The scene was in Clarke & Smith's undertaking rooms, and the undertaker was so taken back by so unusual a request that the young man grew impatient before the somber funeral director managed to explain that marriage ucenses were not exactly in his line. The young man was mollified, however, when the undertaker gravely directed him to a nearby issuer of marriage li-

AMUSEMENTS

WALTER PERKINS.

Perhaps the last opportunity to wit. ness Walter Perkins' performance of the part he has made famous, that of the barber in "My Friend from India," will be tomorrow night at the Grand, where Smythe & Rice's comedians pre-sent that famous comedy, as the author, H. A. DuSouchet, in a short while will have completed another comedy especially suited to the ability of Mr. Perkins' quaint personality. Originally made famous at the Bijou Theater, New York, by a company, many of whose members are still a part of the present organization, and during a run special effort to secure him. He was of three months at that theater, it was traced to a point seven miles north of taken to Boston, where it was pronounced one of the most emphatic successes in years, and in Philadelphia, Chicago, and all other cities where it has been presented, it duplicated its metropolitan favor. It is to Walter Perkins that credit, first for the produc-tion, and secondly for the success of this play, is due, as there is no doubt that his performance has really made "My Friend from India" a welcome friend indeed at all times.

REMARKABLE OLD MAN. Detroit, Sept. 19.—John Woods, who witnessed the coronation of Queen Victoria in 1837, and who was one of the oldest men of Detroit, passed away at the residence of his son-in-law, Solo-mon Hayes, last night. Mr. Woods was born in England in 1806, and was, therefore, 93 years of age. Mr. Woods did not use spectacles, his hearing was perfect, and his mind perfectly clear, so he could remember with distinct-ness the happenings of almost a cen-tury ago. Interment will be at New Hamburg, Ont.

Accident at a Barn Raising-A Coupl of Weddings-Coming and Going Guests.

Dorchester Station, Sept. 18.—Reeve Neely shipped a herd of hogs today. The price paid was $4 15 per cwt. A barn-raising took place on Friday at the farm of Mr. Thomas Caddy, rented by Edward Powell. Robert Sutherland, who owns a farm of 710 acres, accompanied by an Advertiser representative, repaired to the scene, and took a hand in the work. Christopher Bartindale was master of ceremonies. While the purlins were being placed in their moorings, a tenant of a purlin post gave way, and the superstruc-ture fell. A purlin fell at the feet of the scribe, while a crowbar struck Edward Clark in the temple over the right eye, inflicting a deep gash. He was removed from the building in fainting condition, but was soon restored. The home of Thomas Hunter, sen., was the scene of an interesting occurrence on Sept. 5, when his daughter Eva was married to Martin E.
