Absolutely Denies the Story That He Accepted $1,000 From Gerald Siften.

Witness Was Not Suspicious of Joseph Sifton's Death.

Mrs. (Dr.) McNetl Called to the Stand-The Sifton Examination Resumed.

The preliminary examination of Gerald Sifton and Walter Herbert, charged with the murder of Joseph Sifton, was resumed at the court house this morning after the adjournment from Friday last. The attendance was somewhat sparser than on the previous sittings, owing probably to the excessive heat. Mrs. Gerald Sifton and Mary McFarlane were again in court. The defense announced that they did not wish to cross-examine the last witness of Friday hast, Rev. W. H. Cooper.

In accordance with Dr. NcNeil's expressed desire, he was first called to the stand in order that he might deny under oath the alleged statement of Gerald Sifton that he had to give Dr. McNeil $1,000 to avoid the holding of an inquest. Before the putting of any questions to the witness, Mr. Hellmuth objected to the recalling of the witness, as he submitted that Dr. McNeil had already given his version of the giving of the burial certificate, and that it was not evidence to deny Mr. Cooper's statement of Gerald's alleged conversation with him. The objection was noted, and Mr. Magee then asked the doctor if on the day of the granting of the certificate there had been any talk of money, or promissory notes for mo-ney, or if three notes for $1,000 had been given the witness by Gerald to prevent an inquest. The doctor re-plied that he absolutely denied that such a thing had happened, and that there was no foundation whatever for GRAND TREASURER'S FIGURES.
the statement. The conversation with Gerald had not lasted two hours, but only 15 or 20 minutes, Cross-examined, witness said it was untrue that he told Rev. Mr. Cooper that Jack and Al Sifton were pressing for an investigation, and that they and a hired man were suspicious, and on this point witwere suspicious, and on this point witJan. 1 to July 23, and there is now a ness took issue with Rev. Mr. Cooper. Witness thought John and Alfred Sifton were suspicious because of remarks he heard them make about Gerald and Mrs. Gerald Sifton. Witness had asked Joseph Winter, a farmer, to press for an inquest if he heard any suspi-cious circumstances. Witness himself was not suspicious of any wrongdoing in connection with Joseph Sifton's death.

Gerald had remarked that he had strychnine to put his father out of pain, but he was not suspicious of Gerald in connection with the injuries to his father. Witness had first seen Edgar Morden after Joseph Sifton's on July 22. Morden asked where Mary McFarlane was, and if Gerald didn't keep her pretty close. Edgar said he had something to tell Edgar said he witness, but didn't know whether he could trust him with it, and witness replied that if Edgar did not wish to trust him he had better not, so Edgar did not tell him. Witness never told Gerald not to tell Rev. Mr. Cooper that witness was in the house, nor did he ever know Rev. Mr. Cooper had been in Gerald's house at the same time as witness was. Witness never asked for or received one cent from Gerald Sifton, for professional services or other-Witness did not think his own wise. suspicions were sufficient to warrant him in laying the case before the crown. Witness told his wife of Gerald's remark about strychnine. Witness had spoken to Constable Corsant about the matter on the Monday lowing the death, and asked him to report to witness any suspicious circumstances, and Constable Corsant had reported to him the following Thursday. Mr. Magee objected to the admission as evidence of what Constable Corsant had reported to witness. The magistrate sustained Mr. Magee's objection. It was untrue that witness kept out of the way of Rev. Mr. Cooper from the time of the death until after the funeral. Witness had not burned any papers having any connection with the Sifton case. Mrs. McNeil, wife of the previous itness remembered the day of Joseph Sifton's death. On the following day about 9:30 Gerald Sifton came to the house. Gerald was in the house with witness' husband a short time, ten minutes or so. Witness was at break-. fast when her husband left the to attend to Gerald, and was still at breakfast when her husband returned. To Mr. McEvoy witness said she did not know of her own knowledge what Gerald's business there was. She heard her husband say to Gerald that if any new fact came out there would be an inquest,

RICHARD LAMBOURN. Richard Lambourn, of Birr, was the next witness called. He was at Jos. Sifton's house early on the morning of the injury. Witness went around to the barn. Walter Herbert came round, looked up to the end of the barn, and said, "There's where he fell from. He and Gerald were up there knocking off boards, and Gerald says, 'There he goes!'" Herbert then picked up the axe and showed them how Sifton fell on the axe. Herbert was crying, and seemed down-hearted. When asked where he (Herbert) was at the time, he answered, "I was down in the mow." Witness saw two separate marks of blood on the ground, and blood on a piece of brick Mr. Meredith's - cross-examination failed to bring out anything new from this witness

At this point court adjourned till 2 p.m.
