

LAST EDITION
47th YEAR, NO. 19197
THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1911—TEN PAGES.
PRICE TWO CENTS.

LAST EDITION

MR. CLARKE MUST NOT BE CHAIRMAN
Ontario Government Objects to His Position On the Board of Health.

MR. GRAHAM IN LINE
It is Said He Will Be Named at the Next Meeting of the Board.

It is possible that Mr. Harry Clarke, factory inspector, who was elected chairman of the board of health yesterday, may not hold the position.

A telegram was received by him yesterday advising him that the Government desired him not to accept the position. The dispatch was signed by Hon. Adam Beck, and was official from the cabinet.

For some time it has been rumored that objections would be made to Mr. Clarke acting as chairman of the board, and as a matter of fact, it has been learned that complaints were made to the department, and as a result, the telegram was sent to Mr. Clarke advising him against accepting it.

It was not received until after the election, and it was rumored today that Mr. Clarke would withdraw at the next meeting, and that Mr. John Graham would be named for the place.

"This is along the general lines of policy of the Government," said one member of the board. "They do not wish their servants to mix up in municipal matters whatever. They consider that those men should hold aloof, and pursue their calling, independent of any and all influences."

PARENTS STILL ARE HOPEFUL
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Believe Their Boy Is Being Detained Somewhere.

Lost Three Years Ago
Consequently They Cling Tearfully to the Hope That He May Still Be Alive.

Five days have passed since little Freddie Wilson disappeared from his parents' home at 294 Nelson street, and so far not the slightest trace of him is to be found.

"If it were only known where to start," his mother said to The Advertiser this afternoon. "There are many people who would help us in the search. We are completely baffled. I dreamed twice last night that my boy was brought home. Once I thought the firemen brought him home dead, and then I dreamed that he was brought home alive and well. Whether he is dead or alive I would like to know. This suspense is something terrible."

Are Still Hopeful.
The boy's parents still believe that someone is hiding him.

"I won't believe anything else," said Mr. Wilson today. "Those stories about the boy catching on a sleigh and riding out to the country where he was frozen are nonsense. He would never catch on sleighs. I am satisfied now that he is not in the river. But where he is a great puzzle."

Mrs. Wilson told how she had been teaching the little lad to sing little songs lately.

"He had a nice voice and could sing splendidly," she said, "and as he was an attractive child I feel sure that someone is keeping him."

"It is possible that someone has him and having kept him this long is afraid to give him up for fear of the law," said Mr. Wilson. "I can't imagine why they should steal our boy from us."

Lost Three Years Ago.
Mrs. Wilson told how Freddie had been lost for a short time three years ago, when he suddenly disappeared into a store while his parents' backs were turned.

"Small as he was," she said, "he was able to tell the people right away who he was and where he lived. We found him all right a few minutes after. If he is with anybody now it will not be because he can't tell them where to take him that he is not back."

The detectives are now working on the case, and are keeping a close watch for possible clues as to the whereabouts of the boy.

A Letter Received.
Monday afternoon a letter was received from Mrs. Joseph Copeland, of Belmont, stating that a little boy had been seen climbing on a box car there a few days ago. No one knew who he was, and she thought it might be the missing boy.

"No, my boy wouldn't do that," said Mr. Wilson to The Advertiser, in discussing the letter. "He was a timid little chap about taking any venture—some chances. He always stayed around home, and was an obedient child and very quiet."

Asked if he knew of anyone who might kidnap the boy out of spite, Mr. Wilson said that he knew of no one who would do such a thing.

Says Boy's Kidnapped.
"Everybody has been as kind as possible," he said, "we have offers of all kinds of help if we could only get a clue to start from."

"Depend upon it," he continued, "if the boy is not dead he is kidnapped, and may be quite close by or a long way in the country by this time."

LAST EDITION
47th YEAR, NO. 19197
THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1911—TEN PAGES.
PRICE TWO CENTS.

LAST EDITION

MR. CLARKE MUST NOT BE CHAIRMAN
Ontario Government Objects to His Position On the Board of Health.

MR. GRAHAM IN LINE
It is Said He Will Be Named at the Next Meeting of the Board.

It is possible that Mr. Harry Clarke, factory inspector, who was elected chairman of the board of health yesterday, may not hold the position.

A telegram was received by him yesterday advising him that the Government desired him not to accept the position. The dispatch was signed by Hon. Adam Beck, and was official from the cabinet.

For some time it has been rumored that objections would be made to Mr. Clarke acting as chairman of the board, and as a matter of fact, it has been learned that complaints were made to the department, and as a result, the telegram was sent to Mr. Clarke advising him against accepting it.

It was not received until after the election, and it was rumored today that Mr. Clarke would withdraw at the next meeting, and that Mr. John Graham would be named for the place.

"This is along the general lines of policy of the Government," said one member of the board. "They do not wish their servants to mix up in municipal matters whatever. They consider that those men should hold aloof, and pursue their calling, independent of any and all influences."

PARENTS STILL ARE HOPEFUL
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Believe Their Boy Is Being Detained Somewhere.

Lost Three Years Ago
Consequently They Cling Tearfully to the Hope That He May Still Be Alive.

Five days have passed since little Freddie Wilson disappeared from his parents' home at 294 Nelson street, and so far not the slightest trace of him is to be found.

"If it were only known where to start," his mother said to The Advertiser this afternoon. "There are many people who would help us in the search. We are completely baffled. I dreamed twice last night that my boy was brought home. Once I thought the firemen brought him home dead, and then I dreamed that he was brought home alive and well. Whether he is dead or alive I would like to know. This suspense is something terrible."

Are Still Hopeful.
The boy's parents still believe that someone is hiding him.

"I won't believe anything else," said Mr. Wilson today. "Those stories about the boy catching on a sleigh and riding out to the country where he was frozen are nonsense. He would never catch on sleighs. I am satisfied now that he is not in the river. But where he is a great puzzle."

Mrs. Wilson told how she had been teaching the little lad to sing little songs lately.

"He had a nice voice and could sing splendidly," she said, "and as he was an attractive child I feel sure that someone is keeping him."

"It is possible that someone has him and having kept him this long is afraid to give him up for fear of the law," said Mr. Wilson. "I can't imagine why they should steal our boy from us."

Lost Three Years Ago.
Mrs. Wilson told how Freddie had been lost for a short time three years ago, when he suddenly disappeared into a store while his parents' backs were turned.

"Small as he was," she said, "he was able to tell the people right away who he was and where he lived. We found him all right a few minutes after. If he is with anybody now it will not be because he can't tell them where to take him that he is not back."

The detectives are now working on the case, and are keeping a close watch for possible clues as to the whereabouts of the boy.

A Letter Received.
Monday afternoon a letter was received from Mrs. Joseph Copeland, of Belmont, stating that a little boy had been seen climbing on a box car there a few days ago. No one knew who he was, and she thought it might be the missing boy.

"No, my boy wouldn't do that," said Mr. Wilson to The Advertiser, in discussing the letter. "He was a timid little chap about taking any venture—some chances. He always stayed around home, and was an obedient child and very quiet."

Asked if he knew of anyone who might kidnap the boy out of spite, Mr. Wilson said that he knew of no one who would do such a thing.

Says Boy's Kidnapped.
"Everybody has been as kind as possible," he said, "we have offers of all kinds of help if we could only get a clue to start from."

"Depend upon it," he continued, "if the boy is not dead he is kidnapped, and may be quite close by or a long way in the country by this time."

LAST EDITION
47th YEAR, NO. 19197
THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1911—TEN PAGES.
PRICE TWO CENTS.

LAST EDITION

MR. CLARKE MUST NOT BE CHAIRMAN
Ontario Government Objects to His Position On the Board of Health.

MR. GRAHAM IN LINE
It is Said He Will Be Named at the Next Meeting of the Board.

It is possible that Mr. Harry Clarke, factory inspector, who was elected chairman of the board of health yesterday, may not hold the position.

A telegram was received by him yesterday advising him that the Government desired him not to accept the position. The dispatch was signed by Hon. Adam Beck, and was official from the cabinet.

For some time it has been rumored that objections would be made to Mr. Clarke acting as chairman of the board, and as a matter of fact, it has been learned that complaints were made to the department, and as a result, the telegram was sent to Mr. Clarke advising him against accepting it.

It was not received until after the election, and it was rumored today that Mr. Clarke would withdraw at the next meeting, and that Mr. John Graham would be named for the place.

"This is along the general lines of policy of the Government," said one member of the board. "They do not wish their servants to mix up in municipal matters whatever. They consider that those men should hold aloof, and pursue their calling, independent of any and all influences."

PARENTS STILL ARE HOPEFUL
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Believe Their Boy Is Being Detained Somewhere.

Lost Three Years Ago
Consequently They Cling Tearfully to the Hope That He May Still Be Alive.

Five days have passed since little Freddie Wilson disappeared from his parents' home at 294 Nelson street, and so far not the slightest trace of him is to be found.

"If it were only known where to start," his mother said to The Advertiser this afternoon. "There are many people who would help us in the search. We are completely baffled. I dreamed twice last night that my boy was brought home. Once I thought the firemen brought him home dead, and then I dreamed that he was brought home alive and well. Whether he is dead or alive I would like to know. This suspense is something terrible."

Are Still Hopeful.
The boy's parents still believe that someone is hiding him.

"I won't believe anything else," said Mr. Wilson today. "Those stories about the boy catching on a sleigh and riding out to the country where he was frozen are nonsense. He would never catch on sleighs. I am satisfied now that he is not in the river. But where he is a great puzzle."

Mrs. Wilson told how she had been teaching the little lad to sing little songs lately.

"He had a nice voice and could sing splendidly," she said, "and as he was an attractive child I feel sure that someone is keeping him."

"It is possible that someone has him and having kept him this long is afraid to give him up for fear of the law," said Mr. Wilson. "I can't imagine why they should steal our boy from us."

Lost Three Years Ago.
Mrs. Wilson told how Freddie had been lost for a short time three years ago, when he suddenly disappeared into a store while his parents' backs were turned.

"Small as he was," she said, "he was able to tell the people right away who he was and where he lived. We found him all right a few minutes after. If he is with anybody now it will not be because he can't tell them where to take him that he is not back."

The detectives are now working on the case, and are keeping a close watch for possible clues as to the whereabouts of the boy.

A Letter Received.
Monday afternoon a letter was received from Mrs. Joseph Copeland, of Belmont, stating that a little boy had been seen climbing on a box car there a few days ago. No one knew who he was, and she thought it might be the missing boy.

"No, my boy wouldn't do that," said Mr. Wilson to The Advertiser, in discussing the letter. "He was a timid little chap about taking any venture—some chances. He always stayed around home, and was an obedient child and very quiet."

Asked if he knew of anyone who might kidnap the boy out of spite, Mr. Wilson said that he knew of no one who would do such a thing.

Says Boy's Kidnapped.
"Everybody has been as kind as possible," he said, "we have offers of all kinds of help if we could only get a clue to start from."

"Depend upon it," he continued, "if the boy is not dead he is kidnapped, and may be quite close by or a long way in the country by this time."

LAST EDITION
47th YEAR, NO. 19197
THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1911—TEN PAGES.
PRICE TWO CENTS.

LAST EDITION

MR. CLARKE MUST NOT BE CHAIRMAN
Ontario Government Objects to His Position On the Board of Health.

MR. GRAHAM IN LINE
It is Said He Will Be Named at the Next Meeting of the Board.

It is possible that Mr. Harry Clarke, factory inspector, who was elected chairman of the board of health yesterday, may not hold the position.

A telegram was received by him yesterday advising him that the Government desired him not to accept the position. The dispatch was signed by Hon. Adam Beck, and was official from the cabinet.

For some time it has been rumored that objections would be made to Mr. Clarke acting as chairman of the board, and as a matter of fact, it has been learned that complaints were made to the department, and as a result, the telegram was sent to Mr. Clarke advising him against accepting it.

It was not received until after the election, and it was rumored today that Mr. Clarke would withdraw at the next meeting, and that Mr. John Graham would be named for the place.

"This is along the general lines of policy of the Government," said one member of the board. "They do not wish their servants to mix up in municipal matters whatever. They consider that those men should hold aloof, and pursue their calling, independent of any and all influences."

PARENTS STILL ARE HOPEFUL
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Believe Their Boy Is Being Detained Somewhere.

Lost Three Years Ago
Consequently They Cling Tearfully to the Hope That He May Still Be Alive.

Five days have passed since little Freddie Wilson disappeared from his parents' home at 294 Nelson street, and so far not the slightest trace of him is to be found.

"If it were only known where to start," his mother said to The Advertiser this afternoon. "There are many people who would help us in the search. We are completely baffled. I dreamed twice last night that my boy was brought home. Once I thought the firemen brought him home dead, and then I dreamed that he was brought home alive and well. Whether he is dead or alive I would like to know. This suspense is something terrible."

Are Still Hopeful.
The boy's parents still believe that someone is hiding him.

"I won't believe anything else," said Mr. Wilson today. "Those stories about the boy catching on a sleigh and riding out to the country where he was frozen are nonsense. He would never catch on sleighs. I am satisfied now that he is not in the river. But where he is a great puzzle."

Mrs. Wilson told how she had been teaching the little lad to sing little songs lately.

"He had a nice voice and could sing splendidly," she said, "and as he was an attractive child I feel sure that someone is keeping him."

"It is possible that someone has him and having kept him this long is afraid to give him up for fear of the law," said Mr. Wilson. "I can't imagine why they should steal our boy from us."

Lost Three Years Ago.
Mrs. Wilson told how Freddie had been lost for a short time three years ago, when he suddenly disappeared into a store while his parents' backs were turned.

"Small as he was," she said, "he was able to tell the people right away who he was and where he lived. We found him all right a few minutes after. If he is with anybody now it will not be because he can't tell them where to take him that he is not back."

The detectives are now working on the case, and are keeping a close watch for possible clues as to the whereabouts of the boy.

A Letter Received.
Monday afternoon a letter was received from Mrs. Joseph Copeland, of Belmont, stating that a little boy had been seen climbing on a box car there a few days ago. No one knew who he was, and she thought it might be the missing boy.

"No, my boy wouldn't do that," said Mr. Wilson to The Advertiser, in discussing the letter. "He was a timid little chap about taking any venture—some chances. He always stayed around home, and was an obedient child and very quiet."

Asked if he knew of anyone who might kidnap the boy out of spite, Mr. Wilson said that he knew of no one who would do such a thing.

Says Boy's Kidnapped.
"Everybody has been as kind as possible," he said, "we have offers of all kinds of help if we could only get a clue to start from."

"Depend upon it," he continued, "if the boy is not dead he is kidnapped, and may be quite close by or a long way in the country by this time."

LAST EDITION
47th YEAR, NO. 19197
THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1911—TEN PAGES.
PRICE TWO CENTS.

LAST EDITION

MR. CLARKE MUST NOT BE CHAIRMAN
Ontario Government Objects to His Position On the Board of Health.

MR. GRAHAM IN LINE
It is Said He Will Be Named at the Next Meeting of the Board.

It is possible that Mr. Harry Clarke, factory inspector, who was elected chairman of the board of health yesterday, may not hold the position.

A telegram was received by him yesterday advising him that the Government desired him not to accept the position. The dispatch was signed by Hon. Adam Beck, and was official from the cabinet.

For some time it has been rumored that objections would be made to Mr. Clarke acting as chairman of the board, and as a matter of fact, it has been learned that complaints were made to the department, and as a result, the telegram was sent to Mr. Clarke advising him against accepting it.

It was not received until after the election, and it was rumored today that Mr. Clarke would withdraw at the next meeting, and that Mr. John Graham would be named for the place.

"This is along the general lines of policy of the Government," said one member of the board. "They do not wish their servants to mix up in municipal matters whatever. They consider that those men should hold aloof, and pursue their calling, independent of any and all influences."

PARENTS STILL ARE HOPEFUL
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Believe Their Boy Is Being Detained Somewhere.

Lost Three Years Ago
Consequently They Cling Tearfully to the Hope That He May Still Be Alive.

Five days have passed since little Freddie Wilson disappeared from his parents' home at 294 Nelson street, and so far not the slightest trace of him is to be found.

"If it were only known where to start," his mother said to The Advertiser this afternoon. "There are many people who would help us in the search. We are completely baffled. I dreamed twice last night that my boy was brought home. Once I thought the firemen brought him home dead, and then I dreamed that he was brought home alive and well. Whether he is dead or alive I would like to know. This suspense is something terrible."

Are Still Hopeful.
The boy's parents still believe that someone is hiding him.

"I won't believe anything else," said Mr. Wilson today. "Those stories about the boy catching on a sleigh and riding out to the country where he was frozen are nonsense. He would never catch on sleighs. I am satisfied now that he is not in the river. But where he is a great puzzle."

Mrs. Wilson told how she had been teaching the little lad to sing little songs lately.

"He had a nice voice and could sing splendidly," she said, "and as he was an attractive child I feel sure that someone is keeping him."

"It is possible that someone has him and having kept him this long is afraid to give him up for fear of the law," said Mr. Wilson. "I can't imagine why they should steal our boy from us."

Lost Three Years Ago.
Mrs. Wilson told how Freddie had been lost for a short time three years ago, when he suddenly disappeared into a store while his parents' backs were turned.

"Small as he was," she said, "he was able to tell the people right away who he was and where he lived. We found him all right a few minutes after. If he is with anybody now it will not be because he can't tell them where to take him that he is not back."

The detectives are now working on the case, and are keeping a close watch for possible clues as to the whereabouts of the boy.

A Letter Received.
Monday afternoon a letter was received from Mrs. Joseph Copeland, of Belmont, stating that a little boy had been seen climbing on a box car there a few days ago. No one knew who he was, and she thought it might be the missing boy.

"No, my boy wouldn't do that," said Mr. Wilson to The Advertiser, in discussing the letter. "He was a timid little chap about taking any venture—some chances. He always stayed around home, and was an obedient child and very quiet."

Asked if he knew of anyone who might kidnap the boy out of spite, Mr. Wilson said that he knew of no one who would do such a thing.

Says Boy's Kidnapped.
"Everybody has been as kind as possible," he said, "we have offers of all kinds of help if we could only get a clue to start from."

"Depend upon it," he continued, "if the boy is not dead he is kidnapped, and may be quite close by or a long way in the country by this time."