In addition to his regular boarders the genial landlord of the Albion Hotel, Mr. John Holderness, yesterday entertained a large number of guests at dinner. He had a good spread for them, and the spacious din-ing room was the scene of unalloyed pleasure. The food provided included all the delicacies of the season and the bill of fare itself was a work of art. It abounded in Shakespearean quotations and was a tribute to the scholar-ship and research of Mr. Patterson, the popular manager of the Albion. Altogether, New Year's was a red-letter day for the guests of Mr. Holderness.
