Adam Beck was a visitor at the scene of operation during the afternoon, motoring down from London with a party of friends.

JAMES BOXALL.

Canada Fraternal Society Man Lays Down the Reins of Office. Probably no man in any Canadian fraternal organization has climbed the ladder of offices to the very top as quickly as Mr. James Boxall of Lindsay, who but a few years ago stepped down from the exalted position of Supreme President of the Sons of England Society, after having held it for several terms, to give way to what he termed "younger blood." Mr. Boxall, who is at the present time one of the busiest and most prominent business men of Lindsay, Ont., at one time was an active member of Lodge Ruby, in Toronto. Twenty-five years ago he was a full private in the rank and file of the famous order. He joined the ranks at Port Perry and was known throughout the countryside as a young man of never-failing energy, and he is still a dynamo for business in the shire town of Victoria County. Mr. Boxall, besides being a Sunday school superintendent in the Methodist Church for many years, is a member of the Board of Waterworks Commissioners, ex-president of the Lindsay Board of Trade, and at the present time one of the five members of the Industrial Commission of Lindsay. He is also a keen and ardent politician, and during campaigns can always be found in the thickest of the fray. At political gatherings he can champion the Conservative cause with the best of platform speakers, while his ready wit always serves him well. A story told of how Mr. Boxall silenced a heckler at Oakwood not long ago is characteristic of that gentleman's quick wit. One farmer was continually interrupting Mr. Boxall in his speech, when the latter stated that he would tell a story for the benefit of the farmer in question. "Not so very long ago," started the speaker, "when fodder was scarce and dear, a farmer conceived the idea of feeding his hens by mixing sawdust in the bran. Soon he put a little more sawdust in and a little less bran and by-and-by all sawdust and no bran, the hens thrived wonderfully well on the new food. By-and-by he wished to hatch a batch of chickens, and put mother hen on the eggs. The result was that a fine brood was hatched, thirteen in all, and on examination it was found that 12 of the chicks had wooden legs, while one was a woodpecker." At this point Mr. Boxall stopped, and the farmer again "baited in" with the sarcastic remark, "Well, where does the woodpecker fit into your story?" "Well," continued Mr. Boxall, "I did not wish to draw the application here to-night, but I am sure that anyone in this intelligent audience will readily understand my story, and will also readily understand where the woodpecker is in this audience. Needless to say, the story had the effect of turning the laugh on the farmer, and silencing him for the rest of the evening.

Made Up His Loss.

Mr. John Ross Robertson, proprietor of The Toronto Telegram, has a way of assisting needy causes that bespeaks a sympathetic interest in the problems of his fellowmen. Sometimes this humane sentiment, reaches down to places and people who may never have an opportunity to praise his benefactions in the open court. In one of these acts about three years ago an office boy figured as the principal. He was then in the employ of Mr. Robertson's newspaper, and on the day following the failure of the Farmers' Bank remarked to the city editor that his grudge against the bank was no light one, for his pass-book had contained savings of twenty-five dollars intended for his night school expenses. Next day Mr. Robertson, who had heard of the incident indirectly, walked through the city room and spied the dolorous lad seated on a bench. "So you're a bank victim, eh?" observed the proprietor, kindly. "What did they take from you?" "Everything—$25," confessed the lad, timidly. "And you still want to attend night school?" "You bet I do." The boss drew forth five five-dollar bills and pressed them into the little chap's hand. "Now, for goodness sake," he said, "be careful how you spend your bank-er."—Toronto Star Weekly.

Is There a Coal Famine?

A rather remarkable condition exists just now in Montreal. Recently the coal dealers in the metropolis made the calm announcement that they had in stock fifty tons of stove coal while ordinarily at this time of the year 250,000 tons are on hand. With chilly rights coming due, such a statement might well cause a mild sensation. Of course there is an explanation. Recently there was a gigantic coal strike in Great Britain. Coal intended for the Canadian market was shipped across the Atlantic to help out the English situation. Then followed the Pennsylvania strike, throwing dealers in the Dominion away behind in their orders. With a big demand for coal, and no ready supply, naturally prices have aviated. This is a further complication in the matter which may be responsible for furrows in the brow of Mr. Consumer this fall. In Montreal, loose stove coal is $7.75 a ton, and all the time going up; loose egg is the same; and chestnut twenty-five cents more.

Oil-Propelled Vessel.

With a full cargo of port and sherry wine the new oil-propelled vessel, Fordonia, is present in course of completion at the Old Country will arrive shortly in Toronto harbor. The new ship, which is the property of the Merchants Mutual Line, will, it is expected, be something of a revelation in the marine line to lake vesselmen. Driven by an 1,100 h.p. oil engine, it is calculated that she will be capable of attaining a speed of upwards of 12 miles an hour, whereas the only other oil vessel on the lakes, the Toller, can only make some six miles per hour. The new vessel is full cargo size, 223 feet, with a beam of 14 feet.

Will you be one of the 108 farmers who will receive our Prize Contest checks? THERE will be twelve cash prizes in each of the nine provinces (108 in all) in the 1912 Prize Contest for Canadian Farmers. The 1911 Contest was so successful in awakening interest in the use of Concrete on the farm, that a second contest, in which three times as many prizes are offered, was decided upon for this year. The Contest this year is divided into three classes, "A," "B," and "C," and there will be four prizes in each class. (First prize, $50; Second prize, $25; Third prize, $15; Fourth prize, $10.) Thus there are three $50 Prizes, three $25 Prizes, three $15 prizes, and three $10 Prizes, for each province. DESCRIPTION OF CLASSES In Each Class there will be First, Second, Third and Fourth Prizes ($50, $25, $15, and $10) for Each Province. CLASS "A"—Prizes to be awarded to the best farmers in each province who use most "Canada" Cement on their farms in the year 1912. CLASS "B"—Prizes to be awarded to the best farmers in each province who send photographs of the best concrete work done with "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912. CLASS "C"—Prizes to be awarded to the best farmers in each province who send in the best descriptive letters, telling how and where pieces of concrete work was done with "Canada" Cement. (Entries for this prize must be accompanied by photographs of the work.) Don't think that you must use a large quantity of cement in order to win a prize. The quantity of cement used does not count in Classes "B" and "C." Many of last year's prize winners used very little cement. When you enter the Contest, you have a chance to win a cash prize of $50 as well as the certainty that you will add a permanent improvement to your farm. If you haven't a copy, be sure and ask for our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." It will not only suggest many improvements that you can use in entering the Contest, but will tell you all about the use of concrete on the farm. Just write your name and address on the attached coupon, or use a postal card, and we will send full particulars of the Prize Contest and a copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete" to you absolutely free.
