BILL NYE'S REMARKS.

"I love to believe that true greatness is not accidental. To think and to say that of others, individually and in the aggregate, but he who gets ready to be a great man will surely find the opportunity."

"I should like to do anything that would advance the cause of science, but I should not want to form the habit of dissecting people, lest some day I might be called upon to dissect a friend for whom I had a great attachment or some creditor who had an attachment for me."

"I have passed through an earthquake and an Indian outbreak, but I would rather ride an earthquake without saddle or bridle, than to bestride a successful broncho eruption."

"Age brings caution and a lot of shop-worn experience, purchased at the highest market price. Time brings vain regrets and wisdom teeth that can be left in a glass of water over night."

"Too much of our hotel food tastes like the second day of January, or the fifth day of July. That's the whole thing in a few words, and unless the good hotels are closer together, we shall have to multiply our cemetery facilities."

"Pride is all right if it is of the right kind, but the pride that induces a man to muck up the carpet with his brains, because there is nothing left for him to do but to labor, it is the kind that Lucifer had when he bolted the action of the convention and went over to the red-hot minority."

PRESS NOTICES.

"When Bill Nye turns himself loose for fun the laughing belt of readers should be tightened to prevent accidents."—Inter Ocean, Chicago.

"Bill Nye always interests and his genial, big-hearted, sunny nature shines through every line in his book."—Pittsburg Press.

"We believe that Bill Nye is the brightest humorist of the day. No change in the English language can ever do away with his fun. He is a public benefactor; one of the greatest men of his age. We shudder to think what will become of us when he is gone. May fate stay the day."—Philadelphia Press.
