THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

THE BRY GUUDS TRADE,

Park I barrow to train, I barrow & Co. 124 m., I barrow & Co. 134 m., benefit of the first of the fi

THERE is nothing of special importance con-nected with this department to report for the past week. Continued quartness rules the market, and while the present beautiful but unseasonable weather continues, the demand in the country for winter goods will be light. We think as soon as no have cond-ceasonable weather, a good demand will spring up in the or untry trade, and in consequence of that orders will come in more freely to our importers. Thus far the repeat orders have been very tew, and those for only special lines of staples for which there appears to be an increased demand, we refer especially to Cottons This will doubtless continue, as prices of this class of goods have now got down to a reasonable figure, and m ny consumers who have been doing with as little as possible will now supply their wants. There have been a number of buyers in the market, mostly small dealers who are buying continuously. A few men also have been here who have bought good parcels, but their numbe s have been very limited. A few more orders are being received, though these will require to increase considerably if stocks in the hands of importers are to be reduced to a reasonable shape before the first of January. Stocks are large for the season and the assortment probably never was more complete at this period of the year. We hope the trade for November will be satisfactory, and demand the bulk of the present stock for actual consumption

Cottons continuo well-assorted in the principal staples, prices are now quite as low here relatively as in Manchester. Cotton has recently advanced about a halfpenny in Liverpool, and we think the present price represents about its legitimate value. GoodsJin Ms schester have not advanced to correspond, and the Cott in trade is in a very unsatisfactory state, there being no confidence in Cotton or goods. Still, with a less stock of Cotton in 1 -- I than at the same period last year wit, interest at two per cent that! year it was eight, we cannot see any real reason wly Cotton should be a spence per lb less. Still this is the

Woodens cor inne sluggish, the stocks being much the market at a sacrifice to find buyers, and although the imports are considerably less than last year, yet the accumulated old stock added and the large quantitles of our own manufactured goods competing so favorably, has rendered it difficult to reduce the stock on hand

There is nothing special to report in other departments.

| CRING the past week we have to report to lines in this occurrence as slow and unsatisfactory Goods at private sale have been disposed of with diffiouity and in small parcels, while at the trade sales, both of Teas, Sugars and general groceries, the attend ance was comparatively poor, and the bidding lacked spirit and an mution.

As being, however, the best indicator of the state of the market at present, we give in detail the goods sold and prices realized at the various sales which have taken place
