BOAT RACES SLACKEN BUSINESS IN LONDON — MANY STORIES ABOUT YESTERDAY'S ADVANCE IN SUGAR — LITIGATION BY LOCAL TRACTORS ANENT FORD BILL — BANKS SHOW INCREASED SURPLUS.

New York, March 31.

London market continues strong although business somewhat interrupted by the Oxford-Cambridge boat race. B. & O. pfd. is the feature on the revival of dividend rumors. As is natural, the papers devote a large portion of their space to yesterday's remarkable rise in Sugar.

Absolutely no definite information to account for it, in fact, in all that is written, there is only one definite piece of news and that is that Arbuckles and Mr. Doscher did not dine with Mr. Havemeyer last night. Mr. Havemeyer said in his former statement that the end of the war was not in sight and that yesterday's sharp advance was due solely and entirely to the operations of a lot of Wall Street gamblers. Still the street believes some important movement is on foot and bears are naturally nervous. They remember Mr. Vreeland's strenuous denials of how Met. was acquiring control of Third Av. There is no doubt but a very large portion of yesterday's buying of Sugar was to cover shorts. Mr. Havemeyer's first interview had encouraged the bears to such an extent that on Wednesday night Sugar went flat. This indicated a very extensive short interest and the floating supply of Sugar in the Street is very large.

There were two stories last night to account for the rise in Sugar; one was that a powerful clique of speculators had discovered that Mr. Havemeyer was short of his own stock, and they were squeezing him. The other was that the Arbuckles were buying control of the Company on the open market. Both of these are absolutely lacking in confirmation.

The Street believes that the excessive assessment made in the local company's under Ford Bill will result in prolonged litigation, and it will be some time before the companies in question will pay anything at all under the Bill. This accounts for the rapid recovery of these stocks after opening yesterday.

The advances in C. C. C. was due to good buying of rumors of earnings being so large that dividend on Common would be justified.

The Bank Statement is expected to show an increase in surplus reserves, but there is a difference of opinion as to whether the loan item will be increased or decreased.
