MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING. London, Oct. 6.-A great deal has been made out of little or nothing by the report that a large block of wood was found lying across the railroad track at Garstang, some distance south of Lancaster, one hour before the Czar's train passed there on its way from Ballater to Portsmouth. The obstruction was simply a mile post that was blown down by the wind.

MRS. DARWIN DEAD. London, Oct. 6.-The Times and nonness the death of the widow of the late Charles R. Darwin, Mrs. Darwin was a first cousin of her husband, her maiden name being Emma Wedgwood. Her father was the bother of Mr Darwin's mother, and their grandfather was Josiah Wedgwood, a famous manufacturer of fine pottery during the last century, and a Fellow of the Royal Academy. The couple were married in 1839.

BOERS' BUDGET. London, Oct. 6.-President Kruger's ness. In the estimates of the South African Republic for the current year he demands close upon $5,000,000 for arms and ammunition, and more than question is asked, against whom is this vast expenditure-seventeen-fold more than last year's requirements-directed? The solution suggested in Cape Town is that the President meditates some coup of his own in conjunction with Boer sympathizers in the Orange Free State and at the Cape.

NEW BLOOD. Constantinople, Oct. 6.-Karatheodori Pasha, formerly Governor of Crete and the Tukish Plenipotentiary at the Berlin Congress of 1878, has been appointed first translator to the Sultan, and it is understood that hereafter he will direct the foreign policies of the Turkish Empire. London, Oct. 6.-The Chronicle claims to have authority for the statevouch for its correctness, that Lord Salisbury, during his visit to Balmoral, arrived at an entente with the Czar that will possibly lead to the deposition of the Sultan of Turkey. Salisbury, the statement adds, found the Czar highly sympathetic, but he feared that decisive action would provoke a massacre of the Christians in Constantinople Lord Salisbury re moved the Czar's fears of this result, and his Majesty now concurs in this desire to intervene. The deposition of the Sultan would not be necessary immediately, but it would be the final outcome of diplomatic preliminaries.

A GOODLY LAND. London, Oct. 6 .- News from the Nile expedition confirms the report that Dongola is a most fertile province. There is no more talk of the "drain on the Egyptian finances," for it is clear that the new area, properly administered, could not only pay its own way, but could contribute handsomely the cost of its reconquest. The budget for the Province of Dongola for 1882—the last financial statement rendered before the district was overrun by the Mahdi—showed a revene of £55,681, and an expenditure of £10,605. With an honest system of collection probably the surplus would have been much greater, for, speaking of the men employed under Ismail, ficial report of that year said: "Probably for every pound that reaches the treasury these men rob an equal amount from the people."
