LOCAL GAMES,

The final games of the local club for the season will be begun in a day or two. They consist of the matches for the Labatt trophy, the Brown cup and the October handicap. The two former are the chief events of the year, and are looked forward to with much interest by the players.

It has been decided to allow the October handloap to stand until the other two matches have been played. match for the Labatt trophy will be the first played. Entries must be in the hands of the secretary by Thursday ,the 13th inst., at 11 a.m. The drawing for opponents will then be made and the results posted in the club house.

The following periods have been fixed for each round: The first round, including the odd matches, if any, required to reduce the number of competitors to 16, must be played by Wednesday. the 19th inst.; the second round by Monday, the 24th inst : the third round by Thursday, the 27th inst., and the fourth round by Tuesday, Nov. 1.

As the remainder of the playing season is short, it will be necessary to observe the above-mentioned periods strictly. Players are therefore expected to complete their matches within the prescribed times or forfeit them.

No matter how it turns out this year, Boston and Baltimore have had a monopoly of the championships since the twelve-club league was formed. Boston won in '92, '93 and '97, Baltimore in '94, '95 and '96.

With the closing of the season several of the Reds are becoming bene-dicts. Charley Irwin and Billy Dammann were married a few days ago, and Corcoran will be married on the 17th to a Miss Daisy Sykes Flower, of Cincinnati. McFarland, the utility outfielder, and McBride are also to join the ranks in a few weeks.

Monte Cross was so heartbroken over a recent defeat of the Phillies at New Yorks' hands that he cried after the game. A hard loser is always an earnest player. When the Reds dropped that game to Boston which sent the crowd out of League Park looking like an aggregation of pall-bearers, Tom Corcoran, who turned out a pair of fumbles that ended in the disaster, found his appetite gone when he sat down to supper that night.

It is probable that an attempt will be made at Albany this winter to enact a law legalizing Sunday baseball games. The Brooklyn and New York National League clubs are both anxious for such a measure, and there will be strong efforts made in its behalf in Buffalo, Syracuse, Rochester, Albany, Troy, and the State League cities in New York. A recent decision by a supreme court judge in Rochester has made it appear that Sunday ball is contrary to law in the state.

A New York paper says: There'll be more than one motion against a 154-

The special weaknesses and diseases incident to woman's organic development are completely and permanently remedied by the "Pavorite Prescription" prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y. More than 90,000 cases of obstinate female difficulties have been absolutely ared by this wonderful "Prescription." It heals, strengthens and completely rejuvenates the tissues and nerve-centers of the feminine organism. It is the only medicine devised for this special purpose by a regularly for this special purpose by a regularly graduated experienced physician. It is the one authorized preparation which may be positively relied upon to cure.

Mothers and daughters may consult Dr.

Pierce by letter without charge and in the most absolute confidence. Their letters will be answered not by any mere nurse, but by an educated skilled physician. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser will be sent free if 31 one-cent stamps are inclosed to defray the cost of customs and mailing only.

Miss Edith Cain, of Clinton, Allegheny Co., Pa., writes: "I take pleasure in expressing my faith in your 'Favorite Prescription.' After two years of suffering I began taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and now I am entirely cured. I had been troubled with female weakness for some time and also with a troublesome drain on the system, but now I am happy and well. I will cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all invalid laddea."

The season is longer than the patrons care to have it. It begins too early and closes too late, and there aren't enough open dates to allow sufficient rest and traveling comfort. The four-trip scheme has proved successful and will probably be retained. The extra expense is comparatively slight, and the added attractions of frequent changes of competitors is considerable.

ENGLISHMEN AT CHICAGO. Chicago, Oct. 12.-The picked cricket leven from all Chicago escaped being defeated by the English team account of rain. On Saturday night Capt. Werner's men scored 295 runs in their first inning. The local players made a total of 74 for their inning. Being behind they followed up the batting after luncheon, and made 83 runs for the loss of seven wickets. Rain began falling in torrents, but as the Englishmen could not remain to finish the match, it was declared a drawn game, although the visitors were at the time 138 runs ahead with another inning to play.

Grandmothers THE Y. P. S. C. E.

the young minister, the family record is brought out. Paul practically says: "Timothy, what a good grand-mother you had! You ought to be better than most folks, because not only was your mother good, but your grandmother was good also. Two preceding generations of piety ought to give you a mighty push in the right direction." The fact was that Timothy needed encouragement. He was in poor health, having a weak stomach, and was a dyspeptic, and Paul pre-scribed for him a tonic, "a little wine for thy stomach's sake"—not much wine, but a little wine, and only as a medicine. And if the wine then had been as much adulterated with logwood and strychnine as our modern wines, he would not have prescribed

But Timothy, not strong physically, is encouraged spiritually by the recital of grandmotherly excellence, Paul hinting to him, as I hint this day to you, that God sometimes gathers up as in a reservoir, away back of the active generations of today, a godly influence, and then in response to prayer lets down the power upon children and grandchildren and greatgrandchildren.

The good women whose tombstones were planted in the eighteenth century are more alive for good in the nine-teenth century than they were before, as the good women of this nineteenth century will be more alive for good in the twentieth century than now. Mark you, I have no idea that the grandmothers were any better than their grand-daughters. The celebrated Frenchman, Volney, visited this country in 1796, and he says of women's diet in those times: "If a premium was offered for a regimen most destructive to health, none could be devised more efficacious for these ends than that in use among these people." That eclipses our lobster salad at midnight. Everybody talks about the dissipation of modern society, and how womanly health goes down under it, but it was worse a hundred years

But still, notwithstanding that those times were so much worse than ours, Nannie Davis 2, Official 3. Time, 1:321/2. there was a glorious race of godly women, seventy and a hundred years ago, who held the world back from sin and lifted it toward virtue, and with-out their exalted and sanctified influence, before this the last good influence would have perished from the

These old folks are the resort when These old folks are the resort when great troubles come, and there is a How much would I give to see my mocalming and soothing power in the touch of an aged hand that is almost supernatural. Is it not time that you and I do two things-swing open a picture gallery of the wrinkled faces and stooped shoulders of the past, and call down from their heavenly thrones the godly grandmothers, to give them our thanks, and then to persuade the mothers of today that they are living for all time, and that against the sides of ever cradle in which a child is rocked, beat the two eternities?

You often hear about your influence upon your own children; I am not talking about that. What about your influence upon the twentieth century, upon the thirtieth century, upon the fortieth century, upon the year 2000, upon the year 4000, if the world lasts so long? Do not let the grandmothers any longer think that they are retired, and sit clear back out of sight from the world, feeling that they have no relation to it. The mothers of the last century are today, in the person of their descendants, in the senates, the parliaments, the palaces, the pulpits, the banking houses, the professional chairs, the prisons, the almshouses, the company midnight brigands, the cellars, ditches of this century.

If a mother tell a child he is not good some bugaboo will come and catch him, the fear excited may make the child a coward, and the fact that he finds that there is no bugaboo may make him a liar, and the echo of that false alarm may be heard after fifteen generations have been born and have expired. If a mother promises a child a reward for good behavior, and after the good behavior forgets to give the reward, the cheat may crop out in some faithlessness half a thousand years further on. If a mother cultivate a child's vanity, and eulogize his curls, and extol the night-black or sky-blue or nut-brown of the child's eyes, and call out in his presence the admiration of spectators, pride and arrogance may be prolonged after half a dozen family records have been obliterated. If a mother express doubt that some statement of the Holy Bible in a child's presence, long after the gates of this historical area have closed, and the gates of another era have opened, the result may be seen in a blasphemer. But, on the other hand, if a mother walking with a child see a suffering one by the wayside, and says, "My child, give that ten-cent piece to that lame boy," the result may be seen on the other side of the lowing century in some George Muller building a whole village of orphanages. If a mother sit almost every evening by the trundle-bed of a child, and teach it lessons of a Savior's love and a Savior's example, of the importance of truth and the horror of a lie, and the virtues of industry, and kindness, and sympathy, and self-sacrifice, long after the mother has gone and the child has gone, and the lettering on both the tombstones have been washed out by the storms of innumerable winters, there may be standing, as a result of those trundle-bed lessons, flaming evangels, world-moving reformers, seraphic Summerfields, weeping Paysons, thundering Whitefields, emancipating Washingtons. Good or bad influence may skip one generation or two generations. but it will be sure to land in the third or fourth generation, just as the Ten Commandments, speaking of the vist. tation of God on families. says nothing about the second generation, but entirely skips the second and speaks ten, Del., was given a decision over of them that hate me." Washington, Oct. 9.—Dr. Talmage's text was II. Timothy, i., 5: "The unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois."

There and I stand here. There are the sons and women here the sons and women here the sons and the sons ar In this pastoral letter which Paul, men and women here the sons and the old minister, is writing to Timo-daughters of the Christian Church. who are such as a result of the consecration of great-great-grandmothers. Why, who do you think the Lord is? You talk as though his memory was weak. He can as easily remember a prayer uttered five centuries ago as a prayer offered five minutes ago. This explains what we often see-some man or woman distinguished for benevolence when the father and mother were distinguished for penuriousness, or you see some young man or woman with a bad father and a hard mother come out gloriously for Christ, and make the church sob and shout and sing under their exhortations. Among our first questions in heaven will he. 'Where is grandmother?" They will point her out. for we would hardly know her, even if we had seen her on earth-so bent over with years once and there so straight, so dim of eye through the blinding of earthly tears, and now her eve as clear as heaven. so full of aches and pains once and now so agile with elastic health. the wrinkles blooming into carnation roses. and her step like the roe on the mountains. Yes. I must see her. my grandmother on my father's side. Mary Mc-Coy, descendant of the Scotch. When I first spoke to an audience in Glasgow, Scotland, and felt somewhat diffident, being a stranger, I began by telling them my grandmother was a Scotchwoman, and then there went up a shout of welcome, which made ma feel as easy as I do here. I must see

You must see those women of the early part of the nineteenth century, and those of the eighteenth century, the answer of whose prayers is in your welfare today. God bless all the aged women up and down the land and in all lands! What a happy thing for Pomponius Atticus to say when making the funeral address of his mother: "Though I have resided with her sixtyseven years, I was never once reconciled to her, because there never happened the least discord between us, and consequently there was no need of reconciliation." Make it as easy for the old folks as you can. When they are sick, get for them the best doc-Give them your arm when the streets are slippery. Stay with them all the time you can. Go home and see the old folks. Find the place for them in the hymn-book. Never be ashamed if they prefer styles of apparel which are a little antiquated. Never say anything that implies that they are in the way. Make the road for the last mile as smooth as you can. Oh, my! how ther! I have so many things I would like to tell her, things that have happened in the thirty years since she went away. Morning, noon and night let us thank God for the good influence all the way back. Timothy, don't forget your mother Eunice, and don't forget your grandmother Lois. And hand down to others this patrimony of bless-ing. Pass along the coronets. Make religion an heirloom from generation to generation. Mothers, consecrate yourself to God, and you will help consecrate all the ages following! Do not dwell so much on your hardships, that you miss your chance of wielding an that shall look down upon you from the towers of an endless fu-ture. I know Martin Luther was right when he consoled his wife over the death of their daughter by saying: "Don't take on so, wife: remember that this is a hard world for girls." Yes, I go further, and say, "It is a hard world for women." Ay, I shall go fur-

"SLEEP LIKE A CHILD."

Sweet Refreshing Sleep Comes to those who use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It is impossible for those whose nervous system is shattered, and whose heart action is weak, to get undisturbed and refreshing slumber. Their sleep is broken into by terrible dreams, startings, Smothering Spells, Sinking Sensations, and fear of impending death.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Fells, bring back the much-needed night's rest, by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthening the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep peaceful as a child.

Mrs. E. Coburn, of Blenheim, Ont., suffered severely for many years, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have cured her. Here is her statement : 'When I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills my heart troubles were very bad. "I could get but little sleep because of the terrible smothering sensation, and was also weak and run down. I have taken three boxes of these wonderful pills. They relieved my heart trouble, enabled me to get restful sleep, removed the smothering sensation, and made me feel better than I have for years. I have been treated by a number of well-known and skillful physicians, both in Michigan and Canada, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only medicine which has acted well in my case, and I heartily commend their use to any person suffering as I did."

Opening Session of the Provincial Convention.

The Delegates Well Cared For-Rev. Robert Johnston Preached the Convention Sermon-Addresses by Hon. George W. Ross and Others.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 12.-Up till late last evening about 500 delegates had arrived to attend the convention of the Y. P. S. C. E. of Ontario, and many more are expected. The arrangements for receiving and billeting the delegates were ferfect.

The convention proper opened at 2 p.m. at the drill hall with a song service, in which 200 voices took part. Dr. Fraser, of Knox Church, Hamilton, led the devotional exercises.

Rev. Robert Johnston, of London, preached the convention sermon. The drill was designed to provide for 4,000 people, and about 2,500 chairs were occupied last night in spite of the disagreeable weather, when stirring addresses were delivered by Rev. Elliott S. Rowe, of Toronto, and Hon. G. W.

Rev. Robert Johnston, who delivered a great convention sermon, took the 21st chapter of St. John as his text. He spoke on the consecration of the individual, his desire being to show that the words "Lovest thou me?" spoken by Jesus to Peter was the sum and substance of Christian principles. Mr. D. A. Rowland brought the greetings from the local preparation committee to the visiting delegates. Rev. J. G. Sheaver, of Hamilton, on behalf of the pastors, told the convention why Christian Endeavor is welcome to the pastors, and how it may be made more so. Rev. A. F. McGregor responded to the address of welcome in a few well-chosen words. The evening service opened with an orchestral selection, followed by a beautiful chorus. Elliot S. Rowe, of Toronto, gave a fine address on Christian sociology.

The minister of education, Hon, George W. Ross, followed with an address on Christian citizenship.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep.
