Petrograd, July 11.—Russia is ringing with the name of the latest hero of the war, Lieut.—Gen. L. G. Korniloff, victor of Galicia, whose astonishing feat first proved that the new advance is no mere flash in the pan. Gen. Korniloff is the most daring, chivalrous and scholarly officer in the army. Pte. Fred Young Says British Blood Runs Hot.

REPRISALS ARE DEMANDED

Proverbial Magnanimity of the Race No Longer Apparent to the Observer.

Pte. Fred Young of the Fighting Eighteenth, who got his "blighty" in the early experience of that battalion in France, with his "irrepressible pal," Isles.

In his latest letter he reflects the flaming desire for reprisals that has flaming desire for reprisals that has swept the long-suffering British public after they have seen their innocent kin-dergarten children slain before their British Blood Runs Hot. His observation, "always in good humor," except toward the Hun, are as

St. Leonards-on-Sea, Sussex, England, June 25, 1917.

Dear Friend,—As we have the fullest proof that the Atlantic cable is still in good working order, we figure that you get the news from this part of the world as quickly as we do. But, perhaps, a few details as we see them through actual contact with the people of the British Isles may be of interest to you.

Since we wrote you last we have had personal conversation with people who were in the thick of the recent air raid in London, and from the lips of men and women who have suffered from Hun atrocities we have heard the grim resolves that "Prussianism shail perish." If newspaper reports are correct there that "Prussianism shall perish." If newspaper reports are correct there is a terrible demand for reprisals going up from the heart of the empire. Britain's blood is sure running hot these days.

If Kaiser Bill is figuring that when his ruthless hordes are cornered, and whining for mercy, the proverbial magnaminity of the British will instantly answer their request, he is barking up the wrong tree. Fiendish murder of English school kiddies as they lisped their every-day lessons has not only locked, bolted and barred the gates of mercy of Hunkind, but has thrown the keys of those gates into the ocean of stern retribution. Even Branting, the chairman of the Stockholm peace conference had to Stockholm peace conference had to admit that all efforts for "peace" were a fizzle until Kaiser Bill and Prussianism abdicates. "No Survivors Scured."

One has to live amongst the British people to realize fully how determined every man and woman is to make sacrifice or bear loss in order that righteousness shall prevail. And we felt good as we read that President Wilson had announded that the United States had pledged herself to help restore Belgium to her place amongst the nations. Good old Uncle Sam. We didn't notice anyone in this vicinity shedding any tears as they read that "No survivors were secured" from Zepp L-43, when she fell into the North Sea, neither was there much horror expressed at the awful fate of the crew of the zepp that came down in flames in East Anglia. Preachers may prate all they wish about "Vengeance is mine seith." "No Survivors Scured."

came down in Anglia. Preachers may prate an they wish about "Vengeance is mine saith the Lord," but we're awful strong on that verse of Scripture that says a little help is worth a little of nity. Our irrepressible pal that says a little help is worth a lot of pity. Our irrepressible pal tells us that sympathy without relief is like mustard without beef. For the past week or so we have been favored with the visit of the "American Band," attached to the 211th Battalson, C. E. F. Their regimental badge is a maple leaf inset with an American eagle, and shield bearing the stars and stripes. Underneath is the motto, "Actu non verba." We are not very strong on Latin phrases, but we figure that it is a short cut for saying that they are proving their faith in the heritage by more than the word of itage by more than the word of

Are You From Dixie?

The bracing air of this area plays a big part in fitting men for further service, and scarcely a day passes but what the streets ring with the martial strains of the band, as they play a bunch of men to the station, bound for their regimental depot. The other morning we saw a long line of the boys carrying their kit bags, headed by the American band, marching bitthely to the station, And as the brass instrains of the brass instrains of the brass instrains of the brass instrains of the company of the first bags, headed by the American band, marching bitthely to the station, And as the brass instrains of the station, and as the brass instrains of the station. Strains will be visited, according to the statements of the committee, and no efforts will be spared to make the canvass a success.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT OPENING SESSIONS OF SUMMER SCHOOL

London District Gathering at Alma College Well Under Way.

ST. THOMAS, July 10.—The Alma College summer school opened its tenth season with nearly one hundred students from all parts of Western Ontario in attendance. Informal talks were given by Principal Dr. Warner, Rev. Prudham of Wiarton, Professor Potter of Victoria College, and Rev. J. W. Baird.

Dr. Warner opened the meeting with a warm welcome to the students. The doctor said that one year's work of the summer school was worth the cost of the college and maintaining it. He also pointed out that the summer school is not an Alma College school, but the school of the London conference of the Epworth League.

Dr. Warner declared in concluding that the year just closed was the best since the war began. He said that such a time as this, when many girls must forego an education, it had nevertheless been a banner year in the history of the institution.
