

MINISTER RUSHES HIGHWAY POLICY

Large Crusher Orders Go to Firm in Hon. F. Biggs' Constituency.

Hon. Frank Biggs, minister of public works, has been at it again. He admits new orders for six stone-crushers and four road rollers for use on his proposed highways, and further admits larger orders to follow. He may have as much as $200,000 to spend on these machines. The orders for crushers so far have gone to the Climax Road Machinery Company, Hamilton, and the rollers to Waterous, Brantford, and Sawyer-Massey, Hamilton.

Mr. Biggs said the orders were given to the lowest tenderers, who, as in the case of the motor trucks, happened to be from his own constituency. Premier Drury and other members of the cabinet, did not seem to be sure whether such large orders as Mr. Biggs is issuing are departmental or council affairs. If council matters, they have not yet come up. Mr. Biggs does not see why there should be any fuss, except a feeling of general satisfaction over the way he is rushing his highway policy.

STORM PREVENTS POWHATTAN RESCUE

S.S. Lady Laurier Standing By and May Take Passengers Off Today.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 21.—(Canadian Press).—Stormy weather conditions today prevented the rescue of the three hundred passengers on the disabled army transport Powhattan. In the morning the steamer Western Comet succeeded in taking the Powhattan in tow and both ships were heading for Halifax when the line parted and the transport went adrift again. A radio received tonight from Captain Travis of the steamer Lady Laurier, stated that the sea conditions were bad. In an exchange of messages between Captain Travis and Captain Randall, intercepted here, it was learned that the Lady Laurier hoped to place a tow line on board the Powhattan before dark, but up to a late hour tonight no word of her success was received here.

TERMS WHICH GOVERN CZECH-AUSTRIAN TREATY

London, Jan. 21.—An official despatch from Prague says that the negotiations between Czechoslovakia and Austria have been successfully concluded and that there is to be unrestricted import and export of goods between the two countries. It was agreed, says the despatch, that the matter of mutual indebtedness shall be dealt with by a special commission. Other essential features of the agreement are unconditional recognition of the peace treaty, abandonment of all mutual claims, rejection of all state alliances, and that there should be mutual support that prevent a renewal of the former regime in a political or a territorial sense. Both states emphasize their independence on equal terms.

HELD IN CAMERA

Hon. Lionel E. Clarke, Chief Guest at Board of Trade Dinner—Press Barred.

Extreme caution was exercised by the board of trade last night to insure that their dinner and speech-making thereafter to the lieutenant-governor, Hon. Lionel E. Clarke, should not be made public. The dinner was held in camera in the board's rooms in the Royal Bank building, and only the charmed circle were allowed to attend, the press being also excluded. The effect of his honor's last public speech, on the occasion of the inter-city meeting of the Rotary Club, may have had something to do with this.

NAYLOR AGAIN SHOWS SOME OF HIS QUALITY

James Smith was arrested in the Red Triangle Club last night, charged with obstructing the police. Police man Naylor, who arrested the motor bandit last month on Albert street, used good judgment in making the arrest. It appears Naylor was arrested drunk at the corner of Queen and Victoria street, when twenty soldiers surrounded Naylor and took the prisoner from him. Seeing that trouble was brewing Naylor stood to one side, spotted one whom he claimed to be the ringleader, and when the crowd marched away with the drunk, Naylor entered the club and arrested Smith.

Stock, returned veteran, to The World yesterday, who stated that the district east of the River Don has a huge population of men who have served overseas, many of whom are disabled. The present resident population will double within the next year and in five years treble its present population, and will resemble a spider's web in the net work of its crowded streets and buildings.

IS COMRADE CLAY STILL LIVING?

Enlisted in 1916, officially reported killed on May 3, 1917, records office without any record of the grave of the soldier, reported in hospital by a chum, and absolutely unrecorded by the O.I.C. records, thought to be possible that the soldier is among the many mental cases recently detailed to Whitty as without name or number. This is the remarkable story of Private Nelson Chaplin Clay as proven from letters received from Mrs. Clay and the authorities, all of them shown to The World yesterday afternoon by Private Clay's mother. Mrs. Clay, who lives at 717 Ontario street, is anxious to receive definite information respecting her son's fate, and stated yesterday afternoon that it was remarkable that if he died ago in the Canadian office of records, she expressed the hope that the authorities would grant her a permit to visit the camp at Whitty to identify if possible her son among the many mental cases to be ignorant as to their names or history. Reported Killed. Comrade Clay was reported killed in action at Arleux-en-Gohoux on May 3, 1917. Mrs. Clay received the wire

A HOUSE WHERE THE DOOR IS ALWAYS OPEN

EVERYONE KNOWS THIS HOUSE. It symbolizes the good work of nearly fifty of Toronto's charitable and social welfare institutions. Its door swings open to the aged, the sick, the poor and the helpless, everyone of whom knows the way to it. In times of famine, grief and epidemic, of difficulty or sudden need, the lights are always shining.

When disease came and the poor were threatened with starvation, it was the Federation that went to their aid. When the "flu" swept the town its gentle white-robed women of mercy, with silent heroism, went about night and day caring for the sick. They were the first to volunteer and the last to leave the field of danger. For the men and women of the many charities and welfare institutions of the Federation are bound most wholly and unselfishly to the tradition of service.

It is for the support of such urgent and needful work as this that the Federation appeals for your support.

But don't think in terms of how little you can give and still satisfy your conscience; think rather in terms of what it's worth to you to live in this healthful, progressive and prosperous city. Even if this question were put on a purely selfish basis it would justify your giving generously and gladly. Do just that.

Give once—but give enough

TRADE INTERNATIONALS.

"We called for educational meetings, not O.B.U. meetings," quoth an energetic member of the Painters' and Decorators' Union to The World yesterday afternoon, respecting the meeting of the previous night addressed by the O.B.U. expert, Maurice Spectre. "From now on we shall so move that only international men will be privileged to address our meetings. The education we all need is not as to other and opposing organizations, but as to better methods to be employed within the ranks of our own international."
