THE NEW-WORLD POWER

Electricity is Developing Every Form of Industry

In electricity there is nothing more interesting than the application to steam railways. Engineers of high standing believe that the day is near at hand when the power of the electric railway will be used to haul steam locomotives and employ electric motive power either to feed from tall rails or overhead conductors.

Boy Accidentally Killed. Havelock, Nov. 1.—Wilbur Davis, son of Samuel Davis of Belmont Township, Ontario, was killed by a train on the Havelock branch of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Big Attwood Fire. Attwood, Nov. 1.—About 6 o'clock this morning fire destroyed the Foresters' hall, Pullerton & Co's. offices, Mr. Morrison's implement store, and R. M. Pallantyne's house was damaged. Most of the plate-glass windows in the store were broken. The loss is mostly covered by insurance in the Perth, Economical and Waterloo.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Troubles by Getting Advice to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities, by too close attention to business, too little exercise, and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, even the most of chronic stomach trouble, the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business, and finally deranging the nerves and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former vigor, appetite and weight. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another. I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even resorted to my daily glass of two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had at the time purchased the same, but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short, I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and took two or three tablets after each meal, and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health, and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was going to cure completely, and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar, and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy, asking for information as to what the tablets contained, and they replied that the principal ingredients were vegetable peptone (government test), malt lactase, and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach.

"The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nervous and weak system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of as good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nervous and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been only on the market only a few years, yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

SIZED UP FROM MONTREAL

travelling claims the Liberal newspapers were making up to the 15th of September, 1878, when Alex. Mackenzie was swept from power. The situation must indeed be particularly blue when ministers of the crown will send out the following:

Montreal, N.B., Nov. 1.—The outlook for the Liberal party in New Brunswick was never brighter. Our friends are confident everywhere of making gains, and my best judgment coincides with that view. (Signed) H. R. Emmerson.

Knowlton, Nov. 1.—The prospects are that all the constituencies in the east will probably will support the Laurier government, with handsome majorities. (Signed) Sydney Fisher.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Prospects for the government in Ontario are most satisfactory. The prevailing opinion is that the Liberal party will carry a majority of the seats. (Signed) Sir William Mulock.

London, Ont., Nov. 1.—Very sorry, but I am not making any prophecies. (Signed) C. S. Hartman.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 1.—The prospects of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia are better than at this moment. While a number of counties may be regarded as absolutely certain to return Liberals, there is no county which can be regarded as safe for the opposition. In every county without exception the Liberals have excellent chances. Small as the strength of the opposition from Nova Scotia in the last houses, it is more likely to be reduced than increased. We look with the utmost confidence for a great victory in that province.

Prince Edward Island two seats may be regarded as certain for the Liberals, there is every prospect of the whole four Liberal candidates being successful. (Signed) W. S. Fielding.

St. John's, N.S., Nov. 1.—Hon. C. S. Hyman's wisdom will be commended. The government's betting men have also changed their tactics, and to-day will give no odds as to the ministry's tenure of office. A syndicate of Liberals was formed here yesterday with $20,000 at their command to bet two to one on the return of the Laurier government. The Conservatives soon found the money, and even increased the amount from $10,000 to $15,000, but the Liberal bet did not show up, and the $15,000 is still in the Merchants' Bank of Canada.

AMONG CANNIBALS

Cairo, Oct. 20.—It has been practically decided to organize a British expedition consisting of a force of from 1,000 to 2,000 men, to march thru the country of the Niam Niam savages, a tribe of Central Africa, cannibals, whose deeds figured so prominently in travelers' books of a generation ago. The country, which is situated some 300 miles southeast of Khartoum, is within the sphere of British influence, although the natives are at present without any allegiance except to their own Sultan. At present the entire trade of the country, which is very rich in ivory, is in the hands of Belgian traders, who give the native firearms in exchange for ivory. It is, indeed, stated that only one Englishman, Dr. Stewart, ever penetrated the land, and that he was with a party of 100 men, and that the Niam Niam can take the field with 20,000 men armed with Belgian rifles and with native bows and arrows. Although they are heathens and cannibals they are of a distinctly higher order of intellect than the tribes of the Upper Nile Valley.

Boy Accidentally Killed. Havelock, Nov. 1.—Wilbur Davis, son of Samuel Davis of Belmont Township, Ontario, was killed by a train on the Havelock branch of the Canadian Pacific railway.
