RED CROSS LADIES OF LANCASTER MAKING 500 RESPIRATORS TODAY

Today the Lancaster Circle of the Red Cross Society are attempting to make 500 respirators for the construction corps for use at the front and as it is necessary to get the work out quickly there is an all day session.

The appeal to the ladies of Lancaster whether members of the society or not to assist at this great task, was announced from some of the pulpits yesterday and from this morning until tonight the loyal women are giving all the time they can spare to this worthy object.

Before leaving for St. John the corps received a generous outfit of supplies of various kinds from the Montreal Red Cross Society, but at that time the need for respirators was not known and they were not included. On the suggestion of one of the officers, the Lancaster society undertook this work and today the members are busily engaged in their manufacture. The materials for the respirators have been purchased by the use of the balance on hand from the entertainment given in the Knights of Columbus hall by the society.

THE 6TH MOUNTED RIFLES ARE TO GO AS DISMOUNTED UNIT

Their Offer Accepted — Chance For 20 Good Men to Join Now at the Armory

The members of the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles, under Lieut. Colonel Ryan, who have for the last few months been quartered at Amherst, N. S., are delighted with a change of plans announced as regards their service to the empire. Word from Ottawa informs them that they are to hold themselves in readiness for embarkation to England, whence they will go to France as a dismounted unit.

Major C. H. McLean, O. C. Squadron "B," accompanied by Lieut. J. J. Thomas, are in the city today. Major McLean said that the 6th would retain their organization, and though going forward as a dismounted regiment, would be ready when the required time came to serve in mounted action, according to the operations of the campaign would require. They will take their horses along. He needed men, however, in the ranks, twenty good men being required as soon as possible to complete the strength of "B" Squadron.

In order to take names of volunteers, Lieut. Thomas will be at the armory today and each day until the requisition total is reached, with Lieut. Col. B. R. Armstrong, recruiting officer for the district.

There are two other mounted regiments which will go forward with the 6th, the 4th in training at Toronto and the 8th at Sherbrooke, Que., the brigade being commanded by Colonel Smart of Montreal, who has received orders to proceed to the front. The 4th is to be held in readiness for overseas embarkation. It is not yet definitely announced whether or not the brigade will have general mobilization in Canada.

Another inspection.

While in the city on other business, passing through to Montreal after an inspection trip over the D. C. R. Camp Bury, general manager of the C. P. R., will visit the quarters of the Canadian Railway Construction Corps this afternoon. He was greatly interested in the formation of that body, and helped in its organization. The corps carried out company drill this morning, while the 29th had a route march out the Sand Cove road.

L. C. R. POLICE AND CITY

It is expected that a court case will result from the trouble between the city police and the L. C. R. Police. The case is the one involving the arrest of a man by the L. C. R. Police, who was notified by Detective Worrell yesterday to appear this morning on a charge of obstructing him in the course of his duties, but the official did not do so, holding that he had not been properly notified, and not having been shown Worrell's credentials, knowing of him, as he said today, "only from hearsay."

The city police say that the L. C. R. police try to interfere with them in the making of arrests, while the railway authorities say that they have sufficient police about the depot to attend to the work. They also contend that the city police go to extremes in interfering with the rights of passengers, both men and women, in the waiting rooms between trains.

WHIST WATCH SAVED HIM

One of the narrowest escapes so far chronicled in the letters from the boys with the 8th Anderson's Moncton Battery was that of Gunner William Walter Gunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gunn, who would have lost an arm but for the presence of a small watch on his wrist. The watch was shattered but turned aside the bullet. After telling the story he adds:

"I have had dozens of very narrow escapes from death and have seen some awful sights—the worst slaughter of men and horses that I never want to see again. I have been in places, that I never expected to get out of, but I did, and I guess I can thank the Lord for it."

SOLDIERS' COMFORT

The meeting of the Soldiers' Comfort Association to have been held on next Wednesday has been postponed. Any desirous of becoming members can do so by applying to the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. Church, 81 Elliott row, and donations for the comfort of the men at the front will be received during the day at the rooms in the Patriotic Fund building, 122 Prince William street.

BIG WATER MAINS TO BE CLEANED

Commissioner Wigmore to Recommend Scheme to Council — A Fine Example of Good Pressure at Recent Fire

Another improvement to the water supply service, which is expected to prove of great value in emergencies when it is most needed, will be recommended soon to the common council by Commissioner Wigmore.

This is the cleaning of the two twenty-four inch mains leading from Little Falls, on connecting the entire pipe mains at the One Mile House and the other entering the thirty-six inch pipe bridge, the Main bridge. When the bridge occurred last year in Fernhill an opportunity was given to investigate the condition of these pipes and it was found that their capacity had been reduced to about one half by erosion and encrustation. As one main is thirty-seven and the other fifty-eight years old, it is not surprising that they are not in the best of condition.

As these mains supply the entire city when any thing happens to the Loch Lomond supply it is of great importance that they should be able to furnish water up to their full capacity. In view of this the commissioner opened negotiations last year with the National Pipe Cleaning Company of New York. At that time their prices seemed prohibitive, but a new arrangement agreed upon last week makes the project feasible and the commissioner probably will recommend its adoption.

The cleaning is done by introducing into the mains machines which work their way along cleaning the entire pipe as they go. The company gives a guarantee that the condition of the pipes will be restored to within five per cent of original efficiency. The work will be carried out by experts from the head office, with the assistance of local labor.

The main service is now in good condition and when the thirty-six inch connecting pipe at Marsh road is completed, the pressure throughout the city should be more than enough for any ordinary need. Since Commissioner Wigmore took over the department and started on a comprehensive scheme of improvement the pressure has been improved to an almost remarkable extent. One of the best illustrations of this was given last week when the fire occurred in the Hebrew synagogue in Carleton street. A line of hose was attached to a hydrant on Pond street and carried up the steep embankment to the top of the hill. When the water was turned on the stream rose forty feet above the roof of the building and the firemen could hardly believe their eyes. This was without the aid of a fire engine.

A ST. JOHN PAPER OF 1875

A whiff of old times accompanied a copy of a now defunct newspaper—the Star-Wig—published in St. John in 1875, and which was shown to the Times the other day. It is a little four page affair, the pages about nine by twelve inches. It was first published in 1875, and on July 23 it had reached its fourteenth issue; older citizens may remember the many more issues published since. The leading editorial is a lament on the subject, "Why Young Men Don't Marry." It is a little story, evidently a bit of sarcasm, is the announcement that "The ferry boat arrived at Carleton on Thursday night and will sail on Friday morning for St. John, if it don't rain," and the correspondence consists of a letter from Camp Carleton where, apparently, the militia were in camp at the time. Among the advertisements are some firms which are still in existence, but of whom many have passed away. They include McCullough & Walsh, Robert Marshall, Henry Stewart, Jr., Vincent & McFate, T. E. Avity & Sons, A. J. Armstrong, D. E. Leach, W. Tremaine, Gard, and John Ross.

PRESENTATION OF WATCH

Waterbury & Rising Employees Give Charles Labbe a Send-Off

On Saturday night there was a gathering of the employees of Waterbury & Rising Ltd., at the King street store to bid farewell to Charles Labbe one of their number who was severing his connection with this firm for the purpose of becoming a member of the 49th at Sussex. R. J. Walsh on behalf of the staff presented to Mr. Labbe a wrist watch suitably inscribed and a parcel of silk handkerchiefs. In a few well chosen words Mr. Walsh said all regretted the necessity which demanded such sacrifices—abandonment of position, farewell to wife and family—to shield the honor of our beloved country. "During the years we have been together," he said, "we have learned to admire your many sterling qualities—kindness, uniform courtesy, punctuality and application—and feel convinced that these characteristics will obtain rapid and merited recognition from those in command. Your determination to make the sacrifice is all the more laudable from the fact that you are not a native born and this should act as an incentive to so many others who are slow in coming forward to protect their country's honor."

On handing Mr. Labbe the watch, Mr. Walsh said it was their fondest hope that when the war was over Charlie would be able to return unharmed and they would assure him of a reception that would in some small manner compensate for whatever hardships he would be forced to endure. The party then accompanied Mr. Labbe to his home in Queen street.

AT FERNHILL

The opening of the car line to Glen Falls this index many lot buyers to visit Fernhill, and Saturday saw a great number on the grounds. A committee of the directors visited the cemetery to report on some matters, and inspected the new lots and other improvements. The general condition is much better of late year and all lots are looking well. The directors have arranged that while the cemetery is always open to visitors, Wednesday and Saturdays shall be special days when all lot holders may consult the superintendent who will be found at his office from 2 till 5 p. m.
