AUTOMOBILE ON A RAMPAGE

Another Car, Carriage and Farm Wagon Hit in Wild Journey.

A seven passenger automobile caused havoc on the road in the vicinity of Silver Falls last evening about dusk. People here think the car was in the hands of a driver who had been drinking and there seemed disregard for life and limb. Fortunately no one was seriously injured but considerable damage was done to three conveyances. The automobile first struck a carriage in which were riding Mrs. Michael Hogan and her daughters who were on their way from Lakewood to St. Joseph's church at Silver Falls to attend the closing of the Forty Hours' Devotions. The carriage was upset and the occupants thrown out. The vehicle was quite badly damaged. The automobile continued its wild run and struck an automobile owned by Kenneth Huntington, damaging it considerably. Continuing the car struck the farm wagon of George Garnett, partially demolishing it. The car continued its mad run towards the city. There was also a strong opinion expressed in view of last evening's happenings that a policeman should be appointed to watch along that road. It is pointed out that traffic, both farm teams and automobiles, is quite extensive in that vicinity and residents feel that some protection against speeding should be given them.

Believe Reply Will Make Possible Irish Conference

Answer of Lloyd George to De Valera Not to be Made Public Till Tomorrow, but London Forecast is Favorable to Get-Together—Ulster to Have Her Own Courts.

Dublin, Sept. 28.—The reply of Lloyd George to Eamon De Valera, was expected here before six o'clock this evening. It is considered probable that Mr. De Valera's answer will be prompt. Except in unforeseen circumstances it is not considered that it will be necessary to consult the Dal Eireann. London, Sept. 28.—Invitation of Sinn Fein leaders to a conference in London about the middle of October was expected to be contained in Prime Minister Lloyd George's final reply. Forecasts of the note were unanimous in declaring it would again make clear the British position, also that the conference had been called to discuss Irish self-government within the empire, but that nothing contained in the message would make impossible its acceptance by the Sinn Fein, or demand explicit concurrence with the British standpoint as a condition to the conference. There was general confidence that the meeting would be held. Members of the cabinet have returned to Lloyd George's memoranda upon the draft of the note, and it was understood today they had suggested nothing more than minor alterations. Objections which at one time, it was thought, might imperil the prospect of a conference were said not to have been pressed.

If the cabinet is prepared to go so far, then they are prepared to go further."

LATER.

London, Sept. 28.—Premier Lloyd George's reply to De Valera will not be issued today, and there is some doubt whether it will be available tomorrow, so it was announced officially at No. 10 Downing street. No hitch has developed, it is said, but the premier has decided there is no reason why he should not wait another day before making the communication of his cabinet an opportunity to pass on the draft of the reply.
