ONE ST. JOHN TEACHER THERE

Annual Summer School of N. B. Vocational Board in Moncton.

The fourth annual summer school of the New Brunswick Vocational Education Board will this year meet in the Edith Cavell school, Moncton, from July 6 to August 4. Hon. Fred Magee, M. P., of Port Elgin, chairman of the vocational board, in his forward to the programme booklet, says, in part—

"Opportunities such as the vocational board of the province offers cannot lightly be set aside and should be accepted by those interested in supplementing the education they now enjoy with the training this school can furnish. We need assistance in our endeavors to have a trained community, in our attempts to fit the youth of the country for their life's work, and to place industry in New Brunswick on a competitive basis, and in industry we include that of the home, the land, the forest, the mine and the sea."

"Education moves slowly. It is difficult to supplement a system that has functioned for years in the one groove, a system, however, with which we have no quarrel. Our ambition is to add to this system, not to detract from it. We desire to fit the youth of the country for their life's work, and especially those not taking full advantage of the present type of instruction offered in our public schools."

Aims of School.

The aims of the school are—

1. To disseminate a knowledge of the need, function and scope of vocational education in New Brunswick.

2. To train a body of men and women to act as local vocational directors. Principals and others with a knowledge of school administration are particularly concerned in this.

3. To train women and home economics teachers for service in the evening vocational schools of the province.

4. To train teachers in commercial work for both day and evening classes, and outline the needed courses in this field.

5. To give a group of grade teachers a start in technical training and enable them at once to carry on elementary phases of the work in rural schools.

6. To have a typical educational survey made of the city of Moncton and to construct the vocational courses suited to meet the needs as shown by such survey.

A large and efficient staff has been secured for the Moncton summer school. It will consist of—

Executive: Fletcher Peacock, director; Marguerite L. Taylor, secretary; Sarah M. Barnett, supervisor, women's work; Emma J. Read, dietitian.

The instructors are—

L. H. Dennis, director of vocational education for the State of Pennsylvania, president of the National Association of State Directors of Vocational Education in the United States.

M. A. Sorsoleil, B. A., expert in commercial education with the Ontario Department of Education.

Spencer Says "Best"

Spencer's Machine Shop and Garage, Truro, are so centrally placed in the Hub of Nova Scotia that they catch streams of traffic from all directions and so have unusual experience with motorists. Speaking about Sunoco they say:

"Best we have ever used, we have never had a complaint from a customer. The writer has been a stationary engineer for over twenty years and had a great deal of experience with oils. Sunoco Special is the best of all."

Ask the Way to prettier teeth—you are welcome to it

A new-day method is bringing millions whiter, cleaner, safer teeth.

It is used by your friends, your neighbors. It is advised by dentists, urged by modern authorities. Glistening teeth seen everywhere now show the benefits it brings.

This is to offer a ten-day test to reveal its results to you.

It combats the film

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not effectively combat it. So much is left. It is also the basis of tartar.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look cloudy or discolored. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. That is why so few escape tooth troubles, despite the daily brushing. They fail to end the film.

New methods found

Dental science has now found two ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Now careful people employ them nearly all the world over, largely by dental advice.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, to comply with modern requirements. The name is Pepsodent. Those two film combatants are embodied in it for daily application.

Two other essentials

Two other effects are essential, as proved by modern research.

The saliva contains two great tooth-protecting agents. One is a starch digestant, which clings to teeth and gum them. Often they ferment and form acids. The alkaline are to neutralize mouth acids—the cause of tooth decay.

Pepsodent stimulates those factors. It multiplies the starch digestant, multiplies the alkaline. Thus every use gives those natural powers a manifold effect.

Watch the film go

Note how clean the teeth feel after using Pepsodent. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. How after-effects are refreshing, and the mouth is left in alkaline condition.

These are facts you should know at once. Write us today for the 10-Day Tube. Cut out the coupon now.

Miss Agnes Sharp, New Brunswick Superior First Class License. Graduate McDonald Institute, Guelph, in home economics. She has specialized in rural school lunch work in Saskatchewan.

In addition to these teachers, it is expected that there will be at the summer school several prominent visitors. Notable among these will be A. W. Crawford, acting director of technical education for Canada, and R. W. Heim, director of vocational education for Delaware State. Mr. Heim was formerly agricultural expert with the federal vocational board at Washington.

THE RUSSIAN CHILDREN.

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—I have received the following letter from my old friend, the Reverend F. P. Komlosy. It contains matter which will interest everyone, and I would be glad if you would kindly give it the publicity of your columns. Mr. Komlosy writes from Constantinople, as follows:

"For over two years I have been engaged in an endeavor to save completely mentally, morally and spiritually, as well as physically, elder Russian children from the terrible debacle which has overtaken their country, for the sake of its future. It has been my heart's desire to see people responding to lurid famine appeals, when, appalling as are the straits to which millions of Russians are reduced, the mental and moral chaos is worse and more terrifying. If people would think a little, they would soon realize that it is much more important to save a hundred souls completely, than to prolong life in ten thousands to live under conditions little removed from bestiality."

"We have over six hundred children in our British-run school home here in Constantinople, many of whom I myself brought back from Russia, where unnumbered we can carry on our work and be ready for Russia when Russia needs us. It costs $125 for each child per annum, and in spite of the glittering array of names which forms the committee of this organization, we are very hard put to find the money we need."

Will you help us?

"Colonel John Ward, M. P., at 4 Eccleston Place, London, S. W., would gladly furnish fuller information if needed. I had the privilege of starting this organization and this work which has grown wonderfully. Do help me to carry on and to get some real support from New Brunswick. We are not proselytizing, but we are using orthodox priests to produce a greater spiritual robustness than formerly."

"With kind regards, and no excuses whatever for troubling you in this matter."

Sincerely yours,
"F. P. KOMLOSY."

I shall be glad to acknowledge any contributions that may be sent to me at the above address, or they may be sent to Mr. A. C. Skelton, manager of the Bank of Montreal, who has kindly undertaken to receive any such contributions.

Yours faithfully,
A. H. CROWFOOT.
