Baseball

Wood a Pool Player.

Joe Wood is not only a great pitcher, but probably the pool champion of the big leagues. He is very little behind Dr. Oro, Keogh and others in their class when it comes to the fifteen ball game.

Killing's Future

Kansas City, Nov. 12.—What John Kling's future is, whether or not he has been released by the management of the Boston Nationals, immediately after the season closed, he tendered his resignation to the Boston owners. He received a letter from President Gaffney, in which the resignation was accepted, but nothing was said about the release of Kling.

John wants to be free. He has ideas of other pastures, but he cannot realize on them unless Boston relinquishes her hold on him.

Kling is through with baseball—so far as the big show is concerned. He has repeatedly said that he did not want to play up there again. He wants a chance to devote more of his time to his business in this city. But at that he is not exactly ready to quit the game—providing he can get a release from the Boston management.

Kling has an idea that he is still good enough to play baseball or manage a team—probably in a big minor league—maybe the American Association—but he does not want any more of the game up above. That is why he resigned from the management of the Braves.

Rumor has it that Kling has been offered the management of the St. Paul Club in the American Association. That would be to his liking, for it would give him a chance to pay more attention to his billiard business in Kansas City. He is now trying to find out if President Gaffney will release him outright.

Release Veteran Battery

St. Louis, Nov. 12.—Jack Powell and Jimmy Stephens, two of the oldest Braves in point of service on the team, are slated for duty elsewhere next season. That is the latest tip that has leaked out, and during the winter arrangements will be made to turn over the elephantine twirler and the diminutive backstop to some other club.

The fact that this veteran battery is to be passed up by Manager Starnell does not necessarily mean that they have outlived their big league usefulness; in fact, Powell has just finished one of the most successful seasons of his career, considering his length of service in the big arena.

No-Hit, No-Run Game

Fremont, Cal., Nov. 12.—Hubert Leonard, who pitched this year for Denver in the Western League, and who has been sold to the Boston Americans, celebrated his arrival in his home town by pitching for Fresno a no-hit, no-run game against the champions of the San Joaquin Valley. Only one of the players reached second base. This man walked and stole second. The game was called at the end of the ninth inning because of darkness. The score was 0 to 0.

Kennel

New Glasgow Dog Show.

Thomas McCullough of this city left yesterday for New Glasgow where he will act as judge in the dog show there. Several St. John dogs are entered in the show, including those owned by Charles Conway, James H. Pullen, William Monahan, Frederick Ramsay and LeB. Wilson. Several Fredericton canines are also entered.

TEN THOUSAND A YEAR FOR THE ASTOR BABY

New York, Nov. 12.—Surrogate Fowler has appointed Madeline Tanager Force Astor, widow of John Jacob Astor, general guardian of her infant son, John Jacob Astor. The surrogate fixed the allowance of the boy at $10,000 a year for the next three years.

Mrs. Astor's son was born on August 14 last. Under the law Mrs. Astor will act as his guardian in surrogate's court proceedings until he is fourteen years old. In her petition for appointment she informed the court she wishes her son's inheritance to increase in value until he is twenty-one. Until that time she intends to support and educate him. She desires the $10,000 a year from the boy's money to help defray expenses.

Regerton L. Whitthrop, Jr., special guardian of the baby, recently reported that he had no objection to the probating of the Astor will. In the will Mrs. Astor, the mother of the baby, was left $5,000,000 in trust, to draw the income as long as she remains the widow of Mr. Astor.

Ava Alice Muriel Astor, a daughter by the first wife, was left the income on $5,000,000. Vincent Astor was bequeathed the bulk of the property.

SUSSEX MEN LIFT MILK PRICE

Sussex, Nov. 12.—The farmers of Sussex and adjacent districts feel strongly that during the last ten years the advance in the price of milk has not been in proportion to the increase in the cost of production. Wages, they claim, have advanced enormously and the price of feed has doubled, but the price paid for milk has remained almost stationary.

On Saturday evening, Nov. 2, the farmers held a meeting to discuss the situation and to take action in the matter. The outcome was the formation of a Milk Shippers Association and at its meeting on Nov. 9 it was the unanimous decision of the association to demand an advance of five cents per can (eight quarts) on milk that twenty-five cents per can on cream. This advance in price to hold until Sept. 1, 1913.

TOO LIBERAL

A West Virginia judge arraigned a man for stealing a horse, denounced him as a persistent law-breaker, and then sentenced him to ten years' hard labor in the state prison.

"Have you anything to say?" he asked, when he was through.

"No," said the sentenced one, "except that it strikes me you are pretty darned liberal with other people's time."

CHARLIE BRICKLEY HAILED AS ONE OF GREATEST BACKS OF ALL TIME

BRICKLEY

Boston, Nov. 12.—Football experts are practically unanimous in calling Charlie Brickley, the Harvard halfback, one of the greatest football players ever developed. Keene Fitzpatrick, the Princeton trainer, goes so far as to call him the greatest "Brickley" was by all odds the star of the Princeton-Harvard game even outside his field-kicks," said Walter Camp recently. "He appears a very versatile young man. He was a strong line end, kept going well, and made one of the prettiest runs of the game, besides being ever on the alert on the defense. If he maintains his present gait through his remaining college years, he will rank very high among the greatest of the game."

Frank admissions that the officials of the Grand Trunk carried on negotiations over his head after they had gained the confidence of the people of New England, were made today by E. H. Fitzgibbon, president of the Southern New England Railroad. President Fitzgibbon, who is here, said he had nothing to do with the action of the Grand Trunk officers and said he felt much disconcerted about it.

Hugh Bancroft, chairman of the port directors, who called on Mr. Fitzgibbon, said that the latter attributed the stopping of the work on the Southern New England

INVESTIGATE RAILWAY MATTER

Boston, Nov. 12.—The Interstate Commerce Commission, which meets here next Monday, will investigate the charge that a traffic agreement with its rival, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway, was the reason the Grand Trunk ordered work stopped on the proposed line to Providence and Boston. This announcement was made in Washington today.

Grand Trunk officers at Montreal give the financial straits in Europe as the cause of the suspension of the extension work.

MARRIAGE LAW TO COME UP AGAIN

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—J. P. Burnham, Conservative M. P. of Peterboro, has already sent in for the order paper during the approaching session a question which indicates that the marriage law dispute is to figure in parliament. It reads:

(1)—What portions of Canada are solely under federal control and jurisdiction?

(2)—What are the laws in respect to marriage in these districts?

Nothing has been learned from E. A. Lancaster, M. P., father of the Lancaster bill, to indicate that he will reintroduce the subject this session.

THROUGH MILKY WAY TO SCHOOL

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 12.—Some boys may have a path of roses in getting their education, but Preston and Audrey Hansen are treading the milky way getting through school. The boys' home is on a ranch some distance from Walla Walla, and lack of funds seriously handicapped them in their ambition to get an education. They solved their problem by taking their father's farm. Each morning and evening they milk the cows and deliver the milk to regular customers, securing money in this way to pay their expenses. Business is so good they are considering bringing in some more cows.

MORNING LOCALS

The Senior Mission Band of the Fairville Baptist church held a successful entertainment and sale last night. A programme was much enjoyed. James Estabrooks, Miss Cowie, Lillian Finley, Stanley Rose, Irma Schofield, Elizabeth Schofield, Verna Howard and the Misses Sims took part. Rev. H. R. Boyer presided.

HEADACHY, CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Removes the Scum From the Tongue, Sweetens a Sour, Gassy, Bilious Stomach; Cleanses Your Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels Without Gripe or Nausea

If headachy, bilious, dizzy, tongue coated, stomach sour and full of gas, you belch undigested food and feel sick and miserable, it means that your liver is choked with sour bile and your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with effete waste matter not properly carried off. Constipation is worse than most folk believe. It means that this waste matter in the thirty feet of bowels decays into poisons, gases and acids and that these poisons are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

Most people dread physic. They think of castor oil, salts and cathartic pills. They shrink from the after effects—so they postpone the dose until they get sick; then they do this liver and bowel cleanse and acids and that these poisons are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company, on the label. This is the genuine—old reliable. Any other Fig Syrup offered as good should be refused with contempt. Don't be imposed upon.

GOES BACK TO PRISON AT SEVENTY TO DIE

Old Man Had Been Thirty Years Behind Bars—Career a Warning

New York, Nov. 12.—Destined probably to end his days as a prisoner in Sing Sing prison, and earnestly hoping that he will never again be set at liberty, Henry H. Hudson, seventy years old, who has passed nearly one-half his life behind prison bars, was held up by Judge Foster, in Court of General Sessions, as an example to more youthful criminals and sentenced to serve five more years in prison.

Grown old and gray in the workshops and cells of penitentiaries and prisons, Hudson deliberately solved the problem of obtaining a livelihood by stealing a horse and wagon belonging to Dr. Cyrus H. Dabois, knowing and hoping that he would be arrested and sent back to prison to end his days there. He was promptly arrested and again convicted of grand larceny.

A score of other prisoners were in the pen in the Court of General Sessions when the aged criminal was brought in to await his turn to be sentenced. They whistled away the minutes by teasing him.

"Back to dear old Sing Sing for you, Grandpa," said one of the youths. "You'll be in the freshman class."

The old man turned on his tormentors and read them a biting lecture.

"You're on the road, too, my boys," he said. "Keep it up and you'll fetch up where I am when you are seventy. You'll be breaking rocks or making chairs for the city or the state for about half your lives. You'll live high doing it, too, on beans and crackers. You'll see Broadway once in five years, and when you're old you won't have a friend on earth and you'll starve or die in prison. Keep it up, my boys, it's a grand life."

The judge questioned him, and the aged man admitted that he had served about thirty of his seventy years in prison for larceny, forgery and other crimes, and that he never realized enough from his crime to pay for his food and clothing when free.

"That ought to be an object lesson to you," said Judge Foster, turning to the younger prisoners. "This man has spent almost half his life in prison and he is penniless. He stole a horse and wagon to get back in prison and die there. He owes as much time to the prison as I will give him. His career ought to be a lesson to you."
