THIS RUNAWAY A SENSATIONAL ONE

Fruitman's Horse, With Sloven, St. John Views of Effect Of U. S. Tariff Cut

TWO MEN INJURED

A. Phinney Struck By Shaft But Joseph C. Kane is Caught Between Wheel and Shaft and Carried Some Distance

A sensational runaway in which two wagons were smashed, one man received a painful injury to his arm and another had a remarkable escape from death occurred early this morning.

The runaway horse is a big animal formerly used by the fire department, but now the property of J. G. Willett, fruit merchant of Dock street. It was attached to his heavy sloven which was loaded with fruit and was in charge of David Akerly. The driver had left the horse standing in Sydney street near Duke while he was making a delivery, when the animal took fright and started on a mad rush down the hill.

It galloped down to St. James street without doing any damage but here the trouble commenced. First it smashed into an express wagon used by A. Phinney, lamp trimmer for the St. John Railway Company. The wagon was ruined, the harness on the horse was badly torn and the contents of the wagon, which included carbons and glass globes, were sent flying in fragments.

The runaway then swerved into the sidewalk where Phinney was standing and struck him with the shaft, causing a painful injury to his arm. At the time Phinney was speaking to Joseph C. Kane barber, of Prince William street and the latter looked on in amazement. The horse swerved it circled over the edge of the sidewalk and caught up Mr. Kane between the shafts and the front wheel. With his involuntary passenger in this precarious position threatened with death at every revolution of the wheels the horse continued his frantic gallop.

Mr. Kane had time of sudden death as he was in great danger of being shaken off and falling under the horse's hoofs and the heavy sloven. He kept his head, however, and at last the shaft of some bristles managed cautiously to squirm around until he could get his hands on the reins. With a steady pull he reined in the horse and then swerved it to one side so that it came to a stop against a house.

The runaway caused great excitement in the street and for a few seconds it was believed that Mr. Kane had been killed. He was painfully injured, and considered his escape a fortunate one under the circumstances. He was badly bruised from head to foot and suffered especially around his chest and back. When he escaped he was covered with mud and his clothes were badly torn where he had been in contact with the rapidly revolving wheels.

THE TROUBLES AND TRIALS OF A JURYMEN

Not Enough Pay, Says One, And Then Hear Him as to Some Complications

"So far as I've gone into the matter, it looks as though jury work is a case of getting a dollar a day and paying out ten," said a jurymen in the Times this morning.

"I have been on the panel since the court started and have only in this last case been chosen for a jurymen. For my services at court I shall be paid a dollar a day. But my store will lose at least $5 a day by my absence, and there are expenses attached to this job too. When we want to go to the theatre we have to pay for our seats, although it seems as though the county might exercise its prerogative and help its jurors to an evening's recreation after a hard day's work sitting absolutely still listening to evidence that in the majority of cases is a first-rate remedy for insomnia.

"Then there are other disadvantages. Some of us like an occasional glass of ale once in a while, but in my jury there were two teetotalers who absolutely refused to set foot inside the hotel bar, and as the guards refused to allow us to separate because that would be disobeying the order of the court, we had to go thirsty. Then on Sundays we all want to go to church, and if there's anyone on your newspaper who is at all bright I wish he'd sit down and figure out how three Presbyterians, three Baptists, three Catholics and three Episcopalians are going to agree on going to one church. I believe there was a time on record when every man in the jury was a Methodist, and everything seemed bright for a Sunday morning's devotion when cold water was thrown on the hopes of the twelve by the guard's statement that he was a Plymouth Brother and couldn't under any circumstance enter a Methodist church!

"Oh, yes, jury work has its trials. I hope the proposed increase in jurymen's salaries from $1 to $8 goes into effect—though even then I won't be any too anxious to take on the job. If only some of those lawyers knew what we have said about them on occasions—under our breath!"

HOME FOR INCURABLES
At a meeting of the Home for Incurables' executive on Thursday, it was reported that, while there are several applications for admission, the accommodation is fully taxed. Some time ago Dr. Murray MacLaren, who has been medical attendant at the home for thirteen years, sent in his resignation and this was regrettably accepted at Thursday's meeting. Dr. W. E. Rowley was appointed his successor. Mrs. A. R. Campbell and Dr. T. D. Walker were enrolled as life members, having contributed $25.

VITAL STATISTICS
The birth of twenty-eight infants, sixteen boys and twelve girls was recorded during the last week. Twenty marriages were reported to the registrar, J. B. Jones.

IT WILL HELP NEW BRUNSWICK FARMER

Not What Reciprocity Would Have Given, But Enough to Be of Considerable Value—Fredericton Looks For Larger Trade

GIVE BETTER MARKET

The new Underwood tariff, which went into effect last evening when President Wilson affixed his signature to the bill, is of considerable importance to this province. The sweeping reductions which are made must have a noticeable effect upon the production of and traffic in the goods which are now subject to lower rates of duty.

It is impossible to anticipate the full effect of the new tariff, as this can be learned only as the readjustment of trade conditions occurs and the result is shown in the actual market transactions. There is no question, however, regarding the value of the new legislation to the farmers of this province. The larger market which was sought through reciprocity has now been partially opened up, not to such a beneficial extent, as under reciprocity, but still enough to be of considerable value to the producer.

Farm products and food stuffs were the chief items affected by the new bill and the great reductions in the duty on these offer the farmer of New Brunswick a new market of vast extent. At present the only farm product in which the province produces a surplus of important size is the potato crop, and this has always been seriously affected by the lack of adequate markets. The New Brunswick potatoes are of better quality than those raised in almost every part of the United States, except the neighboring state of Maine, where conditions are similar and there will be little difficulty in disposing of all the potatoes which this province can produce.

Judging from recent quotations of prices on both sides of the line the return to the potato growers will be much greater also. It is another produce which will benefit by the new tariff but, apart from these, the province has little in the way of farm produce to export. It is expected that the reductions in the duties will make shipments to the states profitable and will afford a large market the lack of which has been the chief obstacle to successful farming on a large scale.

Predictions have been made that the new tariff will have the effect of bringing greater prosperity to the farmers of the province, of attracting new settlers to the provinces to the states profitable and will afford a large market the lack of which has been the chief obstacle to successful farming on a large scale. A fish dealer said this morning that he did not think fish would be greatly affected as it had been in the past. Owing to scarcity of fish in the local markets and the high prices which are received here there is little inducement to ship across the border, as prices there have been but little higher.

The duty on lumber, of $1.25 per M., has been wiped out by the new tariff, but local operators say they cannot tell what effect this will have until they learn from experience. At present there is practically no market in the United States for lumber, owing to low consumption and even the difference made by the elimination of the duty might not produce a marked effect upon the market. As business begins to pick up again and shipments go forward they will learn of the effect on their business.

A Fredericton despatch says:—"Exporters of lumber and farm produce in this section are looking forward to a big trade with the United States this season as a result of tariff changes. One lumbering concern has been holding thirty-five million feet of lumber pending the passage of the new tariff law.

Oak Hall Quality Clothing For Boys Combines Individuality, Style, Service

He was a little boy who had been in the habit of wearing his father's cast off clothing cut down to fit. One day the father had his big bunch of red whiskers clipped, and the boy sadly asked his mother if he would have to wear the whiskers also.

There are many men, and boys also, who can feelingly appreciate that boy's complaint.

It is a far cry from that condition to the OAK HALL CLOTHING for boys today.

Oak Hall Clothing is of a style and quality that make the thoughtful boy more careful with the clothes and the careless boy more thoughtful. If a boy does not like a Suit he can pretty near do it up in a day—if he takes pride in it he will whip the boy that throws mud on him.

Thus you may say that Clothes of the Oak Hall Standard make for character—building in the boy.
