FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

DEATH SONG OF THIRTY FOUR
By New York Tribune Editorial, Dec. 29, 1893

HERE comes at this time from the dark continent, a plain tale of plain men in this latest year of the era of commonplace, as thrilling as any saga of Odin and his heroes.

It was in Matabeleland, in Captain Wilson's fatal pursuit of the wily monster, Lobengula. The principal facts of that gallant but disastrous ride have already been made known. But an officer of one of the Matabele regiments, who himself took part in the attack upon the entrapped Englishmen, supplies, in his own graphic phrase, some details that can never be forgotten:

"Machasha, induna in the Insuka regiment," he says, "tell you these things. We were six thousand men against your thirty-four. They rode into the track, and linked their horses in a ring, and commenced a heavy fire upon us, and our men fell fast and thick. We opened a fire upon them and killed all their horses. Then they took to cover behind their horses' bodies and killed us just like grass. We tried to rush them. Twice we tried, but failed. After a time they did not fire so much, and we thought their ammunition was getting short. Then, just as we were preparing to rush again, they all stood up. They took off their hats and sang. We were so amazed to see men singing in the face of death that we knew not what to do. At last we rushed. You white men don't fight like men, but like devils. They shot us until the last cartridge, and most of them shot themselves with that. But those who had none left just covered up their eyes and died without a sound. Child of a white man, your people know how to fight, and how to die. We killed all the thirty-four. But they killed us like grass."

Not the Spartans at Thermopylae, nor the Old Guard at Waterloo, presented a spectacle of sublimer heroism than that handful of Englishmen, surrounded by savage foes more than a hundred to one, when the last cartridges were in their revolvers, standing up in full view of their slayers, reverently baring their heads, and singing "God Save the Queen." Your latter-day materialists may sneer at it as fanaticism, or as mere brute desperation. It was neither. It was the sense of duty conquering the sense of fear. It was courage of soul triumphant over impending dissolution of the body. It was a "crowned hour of glorious life" that indeed was "worth an age without a name," worth it, not only to the actors in it, but to the whole human race. Those men had no reason to think, and did not think, that their death would ever be heard by other ears than those of their destroyers. Their deed was not bravado, but modest, loyal duty. And their voices will henceforth live in countless throbbing hearts, and their valor will make life and the world seem nobler to all their fellow-men.

MUST CHANGE METHOD OF EVANGELISTIC WORK

Opinion of Rev. Dr. Blake at Methodist Episcopal Convention—Appeal to the Young

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 21.—Every member gained by the Methodist Episcopal church in 1910 represented an expenditure of $1,000 and a property investment of $7,000, declared Rev. Dr. E. Blake of Chicago in an address before a convention of Methodist Episcopal Sunday schools of the Columbia River conference in Spokane, which was attended by delegates from all the northwestern states.

"The Methodist Episcopal church is facing a serious situation," Dr. Blake added. "The net gain in members was only 41,337 in 1910, an increase of about 12 per cent. This convinces me that the old methods of evangelism are not producing results. We have never had more evangelists than at the present time, and they have never accomplished so little as now. The weakness of modern evangelism is that it makes its main appeal to adults, when it is a matter of fact that 80 per cent. of all converts are under eighteen years of age. The church must change its appeal to youth, and the earlier this is done, the better it will be for the church."

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

A wedding anniversary that will be heard of with considerable interest in this city was celebrated at Springfield, Kings county, on the 17th inst. About seventy-five of the personal friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. George N. McIntyre, of that place, paid them a surprise visit on that evening which was the 28th anniversary of their marriage. The time was passed pleasantly with music and games. During the evening, Rev. Mr. Evans and Rev. Mr. Williamson presented to the worthy couple, on behalf of those present, a handsome silver tea set.

Among the guests were: Dr. James A. McIntyre, brother of Mr. McIntyre, and Mrs. McIntyre, Miss Edith McIntyre, Mrs. N. S. Springer, Mrs. E. C. Cowan and E. P. Dykeman of this city; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hayes and Miss G. Morrell, of Bloomfield. Both the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre were present, Miss Grace McIntyre of the school teaching staff, Bloomfield, and Miss Julia McIntyre of the Acadia Seminary teaching staff.

The police authorities in Hupsh province, China, have decided to employ female detectives on their force, in imitation of western countries. A special school for the training of female detectives is to be established and 40 educated women of more than 40 years of age are to be chosen from the applicants.

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale people look good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs are idly inactivating for after all, a man can be as strong as his stomach.

A remedy that makes the stomach work and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and gives out disease-producing bacteria, cures a whole multitude of diseases.

Get rid of your stomach and liver troubles by taking a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the great stomach, liver, invigorator and blood purifier.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of untested reputation as a substitute for Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery, which is a medicine of known reputation, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, same being attended to correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets relieve and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

ALDRICH GOES ON

RECORD AS FAVORING
TARIFF COMPACT

Washington, Feb. 20.—Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee of the senate, has written to President Taft, that he favors the confirmation of the Canadian reciprocity agreement. Whether the letter makes promises of assistance in getting action in the senate at the present session has not been disclosed, but senators who have seen the letter intimate that the Rhode Island senator will do all he can to aid the president in carrying his programme to success.

At the afternoon session Edward Hines, of Chicago, president of the National Manufacturers' Association, voiced the objections of lumber dealers to the agreement.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Both senators and congressmen are preparing for an extra session. They expect it to convene about March 15.

DR. BRIDGES OF ST. JOHN

AT BANQUET AT WHICH
PRESIDENT TAFT SPEAKS

Washington, Feb. 20.—"I really believe that with the consummation of the Canadian reciprocity agreement there will be a drawing together of two great nations; but a drawing together by closer business and social relations and not by political union," declared President Taft tonight at the centennial celebration banquet at the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the District of Columbia.

The president followed Henry S. Bridges, grand master of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, who spoke of the good will of Canadians toward the United States in the Canadian reciprocity negotiations.

"I am delighted to know," said the president, "that Brother Bridges agrees to us not panicked for war, but for peace. He does not look forward to annexation nor the drying-up of the St. John river, nor has he any of those dreams which afflict certain people with lively imaginations, some of whom are only innocent and others of whom have a little different motive from that of territorial aggrandizement."

It is usually a great bore for the burglar to find that the exchange is no robbery, but that the sale is locked.

A REGAL HEAD

How often do we hear or see this expression used in describing a beautiful woman?

Denote that head of its hair and instead of a queenly, royal bearing we have a fright. The hair makes all the difference. To have that glorious abundance of radiant hair which always crowns a regal head," one could use Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide represents the word in scientific hair culture. It destroys the dandruff germ, keeps hair and scalp correct, restores to the hair and scalp.

The positive results of its delicate but refreshing treatment Newbro's Herpicide can be seen in the hair of every woman.

POWER BOAT CLUB

UNIFORM SELECTED

At a special meeting of the St. John Power Boat Club last night, the provisions of an act to incorporate the club were agreed to. This act will be sent to the legislature soon. It was decided to have a long distance race for the commodore's cup on coronation day. The course will be from Indian Point wharf, and the start will be made at 9 a.m. The destination will be at Oak Point, where the day will be spent and where a regatta and sports will be held, return being made in the evening.

The club adopted a uniform. This will consist of a blue coat with brass buttons and anchors. The cap will be of the same kind of cloth as designed for the Canadian navy, with the badge of the St. John Power Boat Club in front. The project of having a tank for gasoline was discussed and was left with the executive with power to act. The last concert and smoker for the season will take place next Thursday.

After finishing some things it keeps us busy keeping them finished.
