AD WEAK AND FAINTING SPELLS

those feelings of faintness, those weak, "sinking" sensations, which come some people from time to time, are things that must not go unheeded. They mean an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered nervous system.

on the system is in this condition is no time for delay. One fainting may be recovered from—will the One dizzy spell may pass off, the next may be more serious.

who are wise will start taking Dr. Heart and Nerve Pills, before the case becomes deep rooted and hopeless.

they will act directly on the disorderheart and weakened nervous system restore them to full strength and health.

ss Mary McCoy, Algoma Mills, writes:—"I was awfully troubled fainting and weak spells, and I never got any doctor's medicines up me. One day a friend of mine at the house when I took one of spells, and she got me a box of Dr. Heart and Nerve Pills. That six years ago, and from that day I have never had any of those spells. I would not be without your for any money, and can highly recommend them to any one."

Dr. Heart and Nerve Pills are sold at all dealers, or mailed direct receipt of price by The T. M. Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SHOOTING CASE ADJOURNED.

The Rodgers shooting case was resumed in Sussex Saturday before Judge Folkins. After several witnesses were heard the judge adjourned the case until after the epidemic ban has been lifted.

William M. Ryan is appearing for the defendant McDermott and J. M. McIntyre, K. C., for the crown. Benjamin Varnar testified that he was with McDermott at the time of the alleged shooting. He swore that McDermott shot at an animal, sighted in the direction opposite to the barn where young Rodgers was working. He said that no one, as far as he saw, shot in the direction of the barn.

Fred Cutrie, Thomas Barnes and Jas. Armstrong also testified.

Looked Like Intended Suicide

The citizen who was brandishing a fierce looking razor says it wasn't suicide but corns he was thinking about. Needless to say his wife bought him Putnam's Corn Extractor and hid the razor—very wise, because Putnam's cures in 24 hours; try it, 25c. at all dealers.

SUCCESSION DUTY

NOT TO APPLY TO LOAN BONDS IN ONTARIO

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 4.—Hon. T. W. McGarry, provincial treasurer of Ontario, has written to G. R. Wood, chairman of the Ontario Victory Loan committee, placing beyond a doubt the attitude which the government of Ontario will take with regard to the collection of succession duties on Victory Bonds registered in the name of residents of other provinces.

"Let me say," he writes, "it is the intention of this government, at the next session of the legislature, to pass such an amendment to the act as will exclude from payment of succession duty in the province of Ontario Victory Loan bonds held by a person domiciled at the time of his death in another province, although registered at Ottawa."

Who is it in France you are most interested in—a husband, a brother, a son, a friend you long to see again?

Picture this boy, trudging, tired and sleepy, back from the trenches.

He sees posted up at an army hut a notice of the overwhelming success of the Victory Loan 1918.

He sees the notice posted that more Canadians bought Victory Bonds than in any previous loan, that money to carry on the fight is assured.

He sees that his self-sacrifice, his courage and self-denial are appreciated, that mighty battalions of Canadian money are marching to reinforce him.

Can't you see his tired face brighten?

Can't you see him hitch his pack and shift his gun with renewed resolve?

What a mental bracer this bulletin will be to the Army of Brave Souls who fight that we may be free?

If Canada-at-home will keep constantly before it the picture of Canada-in-France, then every previous record of investment in Canada will be shattered by the message we will send to our army when the Victory Loan 1918 is closed.

Bill Coughlan Overseas.
New York, Nov. 3.—Bill Coughlan, Detroit third baseman, is on the high seas bound for France as a Knight of Columbus secretary. He went aboard to help Johnny Evers, already over there as a K. of C. secretary, to arrange baseball games for the American boys and to teach the sport to the Allies.
Baseball is regarded as a tonic for the morale of the soldiers, and the Knights of Columbus are making every effort to promote the game on the other side, so shipments of bats, baseballs and other paraphernalia are made almost daily.

Coughlan helped the Tigers to capture the American League pennants of 1907 and 1908, and it seems an odd turn of fate that the rival captains of the world series of those two seasons, Coughlan and Evers, should work side by side for the soldiers and the K. of C.
