

THEL.
 ... and hoop ...
CARDSTON RECORD.
 An independent newspaper devoted to the interests of Cardston and Canada.
 Published Every Saturday at Cardston.
C. EDGAR SNOW, EDITOR.
 Office Snow Block, Cardston, Alberta.
 THE EDITOR does not assume responsibility for the views or statements expressed by any of THE RECORD'S contributors.
 Subscriptions, $2.00 per year in advance.
 Cardston, August 6, 1898.

While the girl was on the porch leaning forward, whispering:
 "Have you forgotten me, Lizzie?"
 Dorothy Maxwell.
 The parcel dropped from the girl's hand. "I can't see through your veil."
 "We thought you were dead."
 ... hastily around ...

New potatoes are now plentiful. People are busy putting up hay. The Brick-Maker made no bricks.
 Mr. and Mrs. Homer Woolf were in town Sunday.
 Sidney Pratt went into Lethbridge last Monday.
 C. McCarty came in from his ranch, Monday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Mercer looked over our printing office, Monday.
 The grain looks fine and our farmers smile in consequence.
 On the hills west of town is any amount of wild strawberries.
 J. W. Woolf returned home from the Crow's Nest Pass a few days ago.

... A Few Remarks. ...
 This newspaper will not support the business people that do not support it.
 The publishers of THE RECORD solicit the co-operation of those of influence in Cardston, Etna, Leavitt and Mountain View in securing subscribers.
 He: Did you ask your father if you could honor me by accepting my name?
 She: Yes; and he's gone to the bank to see if they'd honor your name there.

C. E. SNOW,
 Dealer in
Stationery, Confectionery, Tobaccos, etc., etc.
Latest Magazines and Periodicals.
Canadian Headquarters for Mormon Publications.
Agency for every Magazine and Newspaper Published in the World.

In introducing THE RECORD, I feel much pleasure in tendering my best thanks to the business men of Cardston, and friends in general, for the interest they have taken in the establishment of a newspaper plant, and for the interest we feel they will take in promoting THE RECORD'S circulation.
 To our interested friends, to our indifferent acquaintances and to our prospective acquaintances, we look for aid in securing subscribers for THE RECORD. In this we anticipate a hearty acquiescence. Without such assistance you will readily understand THE RECORD'S recording of events will be of short duration. But as we come not to destroy, but to build up; we hope not to be destroyed, but to be built up.

Read THE RECORD. CARDSTON RECORD.
 Many strangers are seen on our streets these days.
 Real estate on Main street has doubled in value since 1896.
 Keurl & Sharp, liverymen, have had their buildings painted.
 The Cardston Co. Ltd. are erecting a barn in the rear of their store.
 C. E. Snow has sold his place south of Lee's Creek to N.W. Wardle.
 Prof. Hinkley and wife, of Utah recently arrived in Cardston.
 Mrs. Sarah Daines is having a neat fence built around her lot on Main street.

Ray Kimball and O. A. Wenger did us a pleasant visit a few days ago.
 Bring us $2.00 and have your name enrolled on our list of subscribers.
 A crate of watermelons arrived in Cardston from California the other day. They sold like "hot cakes."
 If you know of any interesting happenings, give 'em to us. We are always hungry for news.
 Monday morning, Mrs. Gustav Olson presented her husband with a big boy. All doing nicely.
 H. R. Sloan has purchased J. Keurl's ranch. Mr. Sloan will move his family out in a few days.
 Mrs. Sarah Daines has been visiting for a few days with her son O. E. Bates and daughter Mrs. Lolla Woolf, at Woolfville.

Would it not be a good thing to incorporate Cardston? I know who would make a good mayor.
 The boys of Cardston are slow, very, very slow. The girls here go about in couples, trios, quartettes, sextettes and other "tettes". They go take the girls for walks, rides and evening strolls.
 Street-Supervisor J. A. Hammer has greatly improved Main street by hauling gravel thereon. Let the good work go on.

Meat Market.
 The undersigned wishes to inform the inhabitants of Cardston and surrounding settlements that his meat market is in full blast and meat is kept on hand constantly. I pay spot cash for beef.

C. O. CARD,
 SUB AGENT
 for
 DOMINION LANDS.
 ALSO AGENT FOR
 RAILWAY, HUDSON'S BAY
 AND
 PRIVATE LANDS.
 Office Hours: 9 to 4.
Lundbery & Nielson,
 General Blacksmiths.
 Horse Shoeing a Specialty.
 Cardston, Alberta.

Wellington won the battle of Waterloo because he depended upon "precision, foresight, geometry, prudence, retreat assured, reserves economized, obstinate composure, imperturbable methods, strategy to profit by the ground, tactics to balance battalions, war directed watch in hand, ancient classic courage, absolute correctness, nothing left to chance."
 Napoleon lost the battle by taking chances. Said he to Ney, on the morning of Waterloo: "We have ninety chances in a hundred," but the one chance in ten of failure was just the one that fell to his lot.

At least three hundred emigrants have located in Cardston and vicinity this Spring. And still they come.
 Keurl & Sharp purpose erecting a commodious hotel in the near future.
 Wm. Wood, the butcher, has built a fine refrigerator and otherwise improved his meat market.
 President C. O. Card has gone to Utah. He will be away for several weeks.
 Go to the Book Store (Snow Block) for your Stationery, Confectionery, Ice Cream &c. &c.
 What about the proposed amusement hall? Has the project fallen through? Such a building would be a credit to Cardston.
 If there is a quarantine law here, it should be enforced; if there is no such law, there should be one.
 H. S. Allen & Co. recently connected their dancing hall into a commodious clothing and furniture department. The change is a good one.

Monday morning, Mrs. Gustav Olson presented her husband with a big boy. All doing nicely.
 H. R. Sloan has purchased J. Keurl's ranch. Mr. Sloan will move his family out in a few days.
 Mrs. Sarah Daines has been visiting for a few days with her son O. E. Bates and daughter Mrs. Lolla Woolf, at Woolfville.
 This is crowded out of this issue considerable matter which will be published next week.
 J. P. Jordan and family arrived in Cardston from Utah, last week. With Mr. Jordan came J. S. Gardner and E. A. Law accompanied by their families.
 Get a copy of the first number of THE RECORD and keep it. In years to come it will be a nice thing to show your friends. You can get a copy for 5 cts. at the Printing Office or at the Book Store.
 The wife of John Dewey presented him with a boy, Monday last, All well.
 If you want stoves or furniture go to H. S. Allen. Received car load in recently.
 F. S. Allen, of Hyrum, Utah, left Cardston for that state, Tuesday.
 This, the first number of THE RECORD, will have between 5,000 and 10,000 readers.
 Just received at H. S. Allen & Co's shipment Ames Holden's celebrated Boots and Shoes. Best in Canada.
 Dr. Karl G. Maeger, of Utah, is expected to be in attendance at the Sunday School Conference Aug. 6 and 7th.
 Mrs. Sally Hyde, who has been visiting her children here, left for Hyde Park, Utah, Tuesday.

Our compositors, Miss Rose Thomas and Miss Lileth Nelson are doing quite well, thank you.
 A FEW THINGS NEEDED.
 Cardstonians are in much need of the following:
 A railroad.
 A roller-mill.
 A lumber yard.
 A post-office independent of a trade appendage.
 A Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade.
 Keen competition in mercantile industries. Prices for commodities are too high.
 A disposition on the part of the few who own desirable business property to dispose of their holdings to enterprising citizens.
 And many other things we will mention from time to time.

Wm. Wood.
HOTEL DE WOOLF.
 Rates, $ 1.50 per Day.
 Livery & Feed Stable.
CARDSTON, ALTA.
CARDSTON TIN SHOP.
 All kinds of repair work. Camp stoves, tinware, etc., at lowest prices.
Samuel Cox,
 Contractor & Builder.
 Sign, General Painting, & Paper Hanging.
 Orders can be left at Record Office.
CARDSTON, ALBERTA.

Gay & Wight,
 Contractors & Builders.
 Estimates given on all kinds of work free. We have expert workmen that we send out in the country to do work at short notice.
 Don't forget our black smith wagon shop. We have the best material money can buy, and we guarantee our workmanship. Our shop in town where you can get a 1 Steel Baggie tires.
 Machinery Repaired and Refitted.
 Thanking the public for their past patronage and asking the continuation of the same.
 Yours respectfully,
Gay & Wight.

The New York World, in attacking the American Administration, surprises many. Its claim that President McKinley is pronouncing the present war purely for political advantages to be gained in the fall election is, we think, an improper stand to take.
 We Canadians, as a rule, sympathize with the United States in its war with Spain, but we do not fail to notice some very commendable acts in the part of the latter country. Spain has many a brave, honorable and chivalrous gentleman fighting for a doomed nation. Our hope is that Spain will sue for peace before she not only loses her colonies but her place in the galaxy.

Keurl & Sharp have erected a small building, north of their livery stable, which will be used as a barber shop.
 C. E. Snow's new bank building is now occupied by the owner, Wolsey & Beck, the contractors, and Samuel Cox, the painter and paper hanger, deserve all commendation for their excellent work on and in the Bank, which is a credit to Cardston. Mr. Snow will extend a cordial welcome to all callers.
 THE RECORD'S Job Department has been kept very busy ever since its Gordon press was put in. Everything printed by the job department is guaranteed to give satisfaction. Get your wedding cards, envelopes, letter-heads, &c. &c. printed at the CARDSTON RECORD JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT.
 The following comment is taken from the Mirror, Winnipeg:
 Among the spanking new outfits furnished by the Northwestern Branch of the Tronto Type Foundry Company Limited during the past month, may be mentioned the following:
 C. E. Snow, Cardston, N. W. T., a job and news plant, complete in all its parts. Mr. Snow will print a six-column folio at the rapidly growing town of Cardston, on the Crow's Nest line.
 Among the many advantages in Cardston is the large, commodious barn erected this winter by messrs Carl and Sharp, for the special purpose of accommodating traveling travelers; but a general livery business is done there.
 The building is two stories high, the upper part being used for a ball room. It is nicely finished and furnished and capacious enough to accommodate about a hundred and forty couples.

There are many children afflicted with measles, and no wonder. A quarantine law is needed badly. Any disease of an epidemic nature once started in Cardston is sure to spread as there is no repression whatever placed upon those persons having a contagious disease, or the relatives and friends of those afflicted. Our attention has been called to many cases recently of persons convalescent of measles mixing promiscuously with the unsuspecting, thereby exposing others to almost certain disease. Certainly, when a child has measles, all residing in the home cannot conveniently remain indoors until the unfortunate one has recovered; the relatives can, however, confine their intercourse outside the family circle to a very limited number, in this way reducing the danger of epidemical expansion to a minimum.
 Here is what Peter Cooper, who died worth many millions, said of a newspaper: "In all the towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than a card, stating his name and the business he is in. It does not only pay the advertiser, but it lets the people at a distance know the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men."

A private musical was given the other evening by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bay, at their home, the company being composed of some of Cardston's elite; this faction of THE RECORD'S editorial staff, miraculously, being among the number. Mrs. Cottingham of Lethbridge, guest of Mrs. C. O. Card, an expert pianist was present. Her performing was something grand and fully appeased the appetites of the music-hungry guests.
 There were present Mrs. C. O. Card, Mrs. Sterling Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Brant, Mr. and Mrs. Wolsey, Mrs. Hinkley, Miss Nellie Lelsham, Miss Rose Thomas, Miss Hattie Carter, Corp. Bolderson and Mr. Edward Leavitt.
 A number of vocal selections were very beautifully rendered by Miss Thomas, Mr. Wolsey and Corp. Bolderson. When the company went home each expressed sincerest thanks to their genial host and hostess for the "lovely time" they had.
 We trust Mrs. Cottingham will visit us again soon.

LETHBRIDGE AND CARDSTON STAGE LINE.
 Stage leaves Lethbridge at 1:30 o'clock, p. m. Wednesdays and Saturdays.
 Arrives in Cardston at 6 o'clock, p. m.
 Stage leaves Cardston at 7 o'clock, a. m. Tuesdays and Fridays.
 Arrives in Lethbridge at 6 o'clock, p. m. Fare, $1.00; Round trip, 25c.
 Express and Freight at Reasonable Rates. Close Connection with Trains at Lethbridge.
 C. M. McCARTY, PROP.

Anthony Hope's "Report of Hontzan," which is sequel to "The Prisoner of Zenda" all avowals to the contrary notwithstanding is indeed well worth perusal. Mr. Hope has a nice way of telling a story, which is all his own. We predict a very large sale for "Rupert."
 He is a happy man that hath a friend in his need; but he is more truly happy that hath no need of his friends.
 Exercise the mind with contemplation and the body with action, and so preserve the health of both said Confucius.

There are many children afflicted with measles, and no wonder. A quarantine law is needed badly. Any disease of an epidemic nature once started in Cardston is sure to spread as there is no repression whatever placed upon those persons having a contagious disease, or the relatives and friends of those afflicted. Our attention has been called to many cases recently of persons convalescent of measles mixing promiscuously with the unsuspecting, thereby exposing others to almost certain disease. Certainly, when a child has measles, all residing in the home cannot conveniently remain indoors until the unfortunate one has recovered; the relatives can, however, confine their intercourse outside the family circle to a very limited number, in this way reducing the danger of epidemical expansion to a minimum.
 Here is what Peter Cooper, who died worth many millions, said of a newspaper: "In all the towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than a card, stating his name and the business he is in. It does not only pay the advertiser, but it lets the people at a distance know the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men."

There are many children afflicted with measles, and no wonder. A quarantine law is needed badly. Any disease of an epidemic nature once started in Cardston is sure to spread as there is no repression whatever placed upon those persons having a contagious disease, or the relatives and friends of those afflicted. Our attention has been called to many cases recently of persons convalescent of measles mixing promiscuously with the unsuspecting, thereby exposing others to almost certain disease. Certainly, when a child has measles, all residing in the home cannot conveniently remain indoors until the unfortunate one has recovered; the relatives can, however, confine their intercourse outside the family circle to a very limited number, in this way reducing the danger of epidemical expansion to a minimum.
 Here is what Peter Cooper, who died worth many millions, said of a newspaper: "In all the towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than a card, stating his name and the business he is in. It does not only pay the advertiser, but it lets the people at a distance know the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men."

There are many children afflicted with measles, and no wonder. A quarantine law is needed badly. Any disease of an epidemic nature once started in Cardston is sure to spread as there is no repression whatever placed upon those persons having a contagious disease, or the relatives and friends of those afflicted. Our attention has been called to many cases recently of persons convalescent of measles mixing promiscuously with the unsuspecting, thereby exposing others to almost certain disease. Certainly, when a child has measles, all residing in the home cannot conveniently remain indoors until the unfortunate one has recovered; the relatives can, however, confine their intercourse outside the family circle to a very limited number, in this way reducing the danger of epidemical expansion to a minimum.
 Here is what Peter Cooper, who died worth many millions, said of a newspaper: "In all the towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than a card, stating his name and the business he is in. It does not only pay the advertiser, but it lets the people at a distance know the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men."

Corp. Bolderson went to Boulder Creek on Monday and arrested Richard Vaduais on the charge of having whipped his wife, she making out the complaint.
 Vaduais is said to have been guilty of this ungrateful act a number of times in the past. Those who know him say he possesses a violent temper and when in a fit of anger cannot control himself. If this is the case he should be looked after and kept where he will have no power to practice pugilism on the weaker sex.
 He was bound over in the sum of $1,000 some three months ago, to keep the peace for one year, and if the court should find him guilty of this last charge it will evidently go pretty hard with him.

An exchange says: When flies become troublesome in a house or room they can be expelled by a very simple mixture. A half tea-spoon full of black pepper finely ground should be mixed with double the quantity of brown sugar, and the compound to be moistened with cream. The flies will generally eat greedily of this mixture if placed where they can easily reach it, but it will be that last meal for the least taste of it is to a fly rank poison.
 City papers are the only ones to keep you posted on the general news of the world, including the war between the United States and Spain, but if you want to get the local news you will have to read THE RECORD.

SUBSCRIBE NOW!

... that had ...
 Brooklyn