BISHOP'S LETTER READ AT COUNCIL

COMPLAINS OF GAMING AT WILLOWS TRACK

Matter Referred to Fair Association After Short Discussion.

(From Tuesday's Daily.) The race meet was brought to the attention of the city council last night in a letter from Bishop Perrin which had been informed that a large amount of professional betting is going on at the races. He was aware that according to the criminal code betting at race until he was rescued. Jenkins was toria. This rate is six cents per theu ing to the criminal code betting at race tracks is not an offence, but as the track belongs to the city, ar ad been leased to a club on the ex _ s condition that no gaming should be allowed, he asked that the city solicitor be consulted as to whether the betting now being allowed was not a breach of the engagement. Bishop Perrin said he was constantly being told that horse-racing was a harmless sport if betting was eliminated, and he believed it wo be interesting to see whether the sixty days' racing would be carried on. Ald. Fullerton asked if it was true as many citizens alleged, that the grounds had been leased with a condition that there was to be no gaming.

"No," replied Ald, Henderson; "there is a condition there shall be no liquor "There is no gambling at the Willows; it is betting," remarked an alder-

Complaints Against Officials. J. A. Aikman complained on behalf of A. B. Angus, electrician, that A Daly, inspector of the city electric light department, was circulating assertions that he was incompetent. Mr. Aikman suggested that the inspector should be called upon to account, and, if necessary, discharged from the city employ. Mr. Daly will be asked to report as to the matter.

Another complaint against a civic employer was contained in a letter from Wm. Dockings, a rancher in Highland district. He stated that he had purchased a cow at the city pound for $26, but it disappeared and he found it with the original owner, A. Jakes, who re-fused to give it up on the ground that the sale was an illegal one. The pound-keeper refused to return his money. Ald, Humber said another side of the story he had heard was that the pound keeper sold the cow to a boy for $10, bought it back and re-sold it to Mr.

Dockings for $26. The pound-keeper and Mr. Dockings will be asked to appear before council at 7.30 next Monday night, the alder-men considering that the matter was one for inquiry.
