One of our most esteemed city physicians, who, with modesty becoming his worth, does not wish to have his name appear in print, sends us the following in reference to the treatment of diphtheria:

Observing the frequency and fatality of diphtheria, I would suggest the following remedy, that I have not used in nine consecutive cases, with uniform good results. The remedy can be kept in every house, and, in suitable doses, can be given to children of any age without injury. I might say that, in connexion with this medicine, I have always used a cold water pad around the throat from ear to ear. In the cases mentioned above no gargle or topical application was used:—Solution of Chlorine; Liquor Chlori; or Chlorine Water, are the names it is known by at the druggists.

The dose is from ten to twenty drops in sweetened water, every two, three or four hours. This very thoughtful act on the part of
