IN KINGS COUNTY.

As is customary with them in the ast days of a political campaign, the government party in Kings county are w earnestly spreading ih each par will roll up in other parishes. It is to be noted, however, that an exceedingly vigorous canvass is being made, and that their professed confidence does not eep them from putting forth every effort to secure votes for andidate. The result of the nomina tion day proceedings at Hampton was not at all to their liking, and it is now clearly realized that Mr. Sproul is not only a formidable opponent but that he has won the support of a great many who were confidently expected to vote for Mr. King. As the Star oberved on Monday, the people of Kings have an excellent opportunity to put the stamp of their emphatic disapproval upon the acts and methods of the present government, which has been in power too long for the good of the province.

A FEARSOME POSSIBILITY.

And now there has been a quarrel in the British Columbia house of assembly with fighting Joe Martin and othe members in a mix-up on the floors of the house. In view of the warlike atmosphere that appears to hover over legislative halls this year, one looks forward with some concern to the opening of the New Brunswick house. It would be a calamity, for example, if Hon. Dr. Pugsley should lose his temper, for it is not in the memory of this eneration that anything ever ruffled for a moment the profound serenity of his demeanor, or the all-embracing nature of his engaging smile. However fiercely the political conflict may rage around him, the attorney general's good nature is imperturbable. In that he is to be so heartily commended that the Star would grieve to see him otherwise Let us hope the war-cloud will not roll hitherward, and that our legislators will be content with figurative slaught

A few hours showed his and Canada's inability to compete for an instant on ever terms with American senators whe they were really waked to the occasion. It may have been Mr. Gourley's bold bid for the laurels that prompted Senators Tillman and McLaurin to com mit a grievous assault upon each other's features, and at the same time relieve their minds of a number of winged words. Towards the end of September, 1901, three small Kaffir children were found by our scouts walking about the veldt near Boshof. They stated that their parents had been in the service of one Ian Buitendag, but that their father had been sent away to herd sheep, the mother and children meanwhile treking about with Bultendag and his wife. Owing to the approach of English troops the party hid in the bush, and, on the departure of the patrol, started off again. The Kaffir woman said she could go no further, and Buitendag was going to leave her behind, when his wife objected, saying that if he did so the woman would tell the English where they were, and therefore if she would not come she must be shot. Buitendag then shot the woman where she was sitting, and drove off, telling the children to follow the track of the cart, which, however, they lost during the night.

RIFLE CLUBS IN ENGLAND.

A London paper says that "It would most appear as if the civilian rifle tubs would once more revive the old nglish pastime of practising at the uts, and that before long it may be spopular to go out of a Saturday afternoon to shoot with the rifle or to atch the shooting as it is now to witees the exertions of 'muddled oafs' or annelled fools."

The same paper states that clubs with a membership of over 20,000 are already affiliated with the National Rifle Association, although as yet they have received but scant official encour-

It was resolved to continue the canvass energetically this week. Next Tuesday night a meeting of the members of the association will he held to elect six additional trustees, from whom a finance board and treasurer will be selected to hold the building fund for the purpose for which the subscriptions are made. This meeting will be also of a social nature, and will afford the members an opportunity of saying farewell to J. S. Tichenor of the International Y. M. C. OLD ST. JOHN. An Interesting Paper Read Before

The N. B. Historical Society met last evening, with the president, Jonas Howe, in the chair. Several of the members were absent on account of the Loyallst Society meeting, but those who attended passed an agreeable and instructive evening. C. Ward read portions of a memorandum prepared by the late James Bustin, describing St. John b siness, streets and social organizating gereally in the early years of last century. Mr. Bustin was born about 1801 and was over 80 years of age when he wrote these reminiscences, But he knew the names of all the residents and shipowners on King street, Prince William street, Water street, Nelson street, and around Market square and the North and South wharves as they were about 1815. He also described the ferry, the water service, the streets, the churches, the places of social resort, the farmers market, foreign and domestic commerce. Mr. Ward proposes to expand these memoranda into an more elaborate paper. John b siness, streets and social

PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, Feb. 25. OTTAWA, Feb. 25.

A long debate took place on the public health vote, for which $110,000 is asked, as compared with $35,000 in 1886. It transpired that the government had appointed a host of medical men of the liberal persuasion at frontier points where there was really no necessity for them, while at many important points they neglected to enforce quarantine regulations. Twenty or more favored physicians are still under pay. It was also developed that the dominion authorities made little or no effort to secure co-operation of the local authorities.

Hon, Mr. Fisher made a lamentable exhibition of ignorance of the affairs of his department, and after several hours' discussion the item was allowed to stand.

Mr. Barker, member for Hamilton,

Mr. Barker, member for Hamilton, one of the greatest railway authorizes in Canada, evidently intends devoting considerable attention to the affairs of the I. C. R. this session. He has given notice of a *series of important questions regarding the purchase of supplies for the road. He also asks for a return regarding the transfer of items of expenditure from revenue account to capital account during the past year.

MISS STONE. BOSTON, Feb. 25.—The first message from Miss Ellen M. Stone, the missionary, to her family and friends, was received tonight by her brother, Charles A. Stone of Chelsea. The cablegram told of her release by the brigands and her warm welcome by Bulgarian friends in the village of Strumitza. Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka are quartered at the residence of M. Kimoff, a Protestant pastor, where they greeted M. Gargiulo and Mr. House, the missionary, with considerable emotion. Here they presented Mme. Tsilka's baby, and the man who had found them on the mountains at Gradachon, to M. Gargiulo and Mr. House.

During the last fortnight of their captivity the ladies have been travelling in the mountains. They were hidden in the day time and on horseback. On one occasion to the ground, but escaped with a badly bruised knee.

At Strumitza the ladies have been busily engaged in making dresses for themselves and for the baby. When they were found they were; clad in native costumes and shepherd's cloaks. The baby had no proper clothes, but was swaddled in pieces of rough material such as the mountaineers use for leggings. The baby has not suffered from the rigors of the winter.
